Drops Second Year

Marion Tax Rates For 1953 Decline; Placed at 26 Mills

Tax rates for Marion show a decrease for the second consecutive year, a tax schedule released today by Marion County Auditor Maurice Clements indicates.

The rate for the tax year of 1953, payable in 1954, has been set at 26.00 mills, a decraese of 1.60 from the 27.60 rate used for the tax year of 1952.

THIS 1.60 DECREASE comes from a decrease in the bond retirement fund figure, a decrease of .30 in the city-county hospital bond retirement fund figure, balanced by an increase of .20 in the bond retirement figure for the city of Marion for the airport, sewers, and disposal plant operations.

Tax rate increases noted for most political subdivisions stem from tax levies approved in November by voters, Clements said. Coming under this classification were the local school districts of Claridon, Meeker and Prospect.

An additional levy of two mills approved by Claridon voters increased their rate by 2.30, while in Meeker a similar additional levy of two mills made an increase of 1.30. A one and one-half mill additional levy for Prospect increased the tax rate by 1.90.

RESIDENTS OF MARION local school district in Marion Township will find an increase of 3.10 which is within the 10-mill limitation. This increase was required by the increased number of school-age children living in this tax district.

A decrease of 2.80 for taxpayers of the Green Camp local school district is due to the increased valuation of property of that district.

Listed below are the new tax rates followed by the old rates for the various taxing districts:

Big Island Township

New Bloomington local school district, 18.30, 18.90; Meeker local school district, 20.50, 19.50; Green Camp local school district, 15.40, 18.40; Morral local school district, 16.80, 17.70.

Bowling Green Township

LaRue local school district, 17.30, 17.90; New Bloomington local school district, 19.50, 19.80; Green Camp local school district, 16.60, 19.30.

Claridon Township

Claridon local school district, 19.30, 17.00; Caledonia local school district, 23.60, 23.10; Caledonia corporation, 28.30, 27.50.

Grand Township

Marseilles local school district, 18.40, 17.90; Meeker local school district, 20.90, 19.60; LaRue local school district, 16.50, 17.10; Morral local school district, 17.20, 17.80.

Grand Prairie Township

Green Camp Township

Green Camp local school district, 17.50, 20.30; Green Camp corporation, 22.70, 21.60; New Bloomington local school district, 20.40, 20.80.

Marion Township

Marion local school district, 12.00, 8.90; Marion city local school district, 21.60, 23.30; Marion corporation, 26.00, 27.60; Green Camp local school district, 16.10, 18.80; Pleasant local school district, 16.80, 16.30; Caledonia local school district, 24.10, 23.70; Claridon local school district, 19.80, 17.60; Grand Prairie local school district, 17.70,

Man Labeled 'Sleazy Spy' By McCarthy

Ex-Electronics Lab Employe Denounced By Angry Senator

NEW YORK, Nov. 25 (AP)—An angry Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy R-Wis today denounced a defiant witness as apparently "the most active Communist espionage agent this subcommittee has uncovered to date."

McCarthy's face reddened with anger at times as the witness, Harry A. Hyman, one-time employe in an electronics laboratory, refused time and again to say whether he was a Red or a spy.

Calls Witness Names

"Hyman was given the opportunity to tell us whether or not he is a spy," McCarthy declared, "but he takes advantage of the Constitution which he would destroy."

Two other scheduled witnesses at the second day of open hearings before the Senate Permanent Investigations subcommittee also aroused the chairman's ire.

McCarthy said he will seek contempt indictments against both men, one a Columbia University professor and former Ft. Monmouth, N. J., employe, the other also from Ft. Monmouth.

Balked at Questions

The professor, Harry Grundfest, balked at McCarthy's questions, although he denied any espionage. The Ft. Monmouth man, Marcel Ullman, didn't even show up at the hearing.

McCarthy said a transcript of Grundfest's testimony will be sent to President Grayson L. Kirk of Columbia University.

The Army announced its own investigation failed to uncover any evidence of current espionage at Ft. Monmouth.

McCarthy then called public hearings and said he would let the nation decide whether he exaggerated the Ft. Monmouth situation in reporting on last month's private sessions of his subcommittee.

Family Scene: A Thanksgiving Symbol

Thanksgiving, a purely American holiday with deep religious undertones, has as its primary outward manifestation the family gathering around the dinner table. This scene, symbolized here by the Floyd E. Arthur family of Marion, is the one called to mind by servicemen and others who are far from home on Thanksgiving Day. Mr. Arthur is at the head of the table, Mrs. Arthur and son John, 15, at left, Ann, 16 and Steve, 8, at right. The Arthurs reside at 326 Olney Ave. (Photo by William R. Diem of The Star).

Probers Ask Negotiations Be Continued

Object to Stipulation Canada Must Rule on Release of Information

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25 (AP)—The chairman of the Senate Internal subcommittee tonight balked at one of the conditions laid down by Canada and requested the State Department to continue negotiations with Ottawa to let senatorial espionage investigators question Igor Gouzenko, former Russian code expert.

Earlier in the day Canada had hesitantly agreed to permit questioning of the man who broke open a big Soviet spy plot. But one of the stipulations Canada made was that she must have the final say on whether any evidence or information that develops shall be made public.

Sends Letter to Dulles

Sen. Jenner (R-Ind), chairman of the Senate Internal Security subcommittee which is following up the sensational Harry Dexter White "Soviet spy" case in this country, tonight sent a letter to Secretary of State Dulles in which he said:

"I feel that the Senate Internal Security subcommittee could not receive evidence vital to the security of the United States, and the United States alone, and commit itself not to make it available to Congress if necessary. At the same time, if there is reason to keep the evidence secret, the Senate Internal Security subcommittee will use the discretion it always has used in these matters affecting security and comity between nations.

"Would you communicate this position to the Canadian government?"

Would Become Public

Subcommittee attaches said that if the subcommittee obtained information and laid it before Congress the information would become public.

In effect there was at least a temporary stalemate, with Canada insisting that it should be the judge of what should be publicized and Jenner disagreeing.

Subcommittee officials said the Jenner letter might be considered a sort of request from Jenner to Dulles to seek clarification of the Canadian stand.

At the outset the letter said:

"The offer of the Canadian government, with respect to our request to question Mr. Igor Gouzenko, would be satisfactory to me as chairman of the Senate Internal

Order by U.S. Department of State Is Defied

Highest Judge of U.S. Courts in Germany Protests Dismissal

FRANKFURT, Germany, Nov. 25 (AP)—The highest judge of the American court system in Germany said today he would ignore a State Department dismissal order—and challenged the department to remove him.

The judge is William Clark of Princeton, N.J., chief justice of a three-man appeals court, heir to the Clark thread millions and a persistent critic of U.S. High Commission policy in Germany.

He told a news conference the State Department had decided it could not control him "so we'll throw him out."

U.S. High Commissioner James B. Conant, whom Clark described as "my old Harvard friend," passed along Monday a cable from Secretary of State Dulles, which the judge said in effect declared him surplus. The High Commission releasted the text:

"For Conant: Advise Clark department decided not extend his appointment due probable decline business courts, expected further economy measures beyond its expected expiration date Jan. 8. Advise Clark report department on or about Dec. 3 for 30 days consultations prior termination. Dulles."

FBI Holding 3 For $681,700 Truck Looting

Quincy, Mass., Family Accused in Danvers Armored Car Robbery

BOSTON, Nov. 25 (AP)—The FBI tonight announced the arrest of a Quincy family of three in connection of the $681,700 Danvers armored truck looting March 25, 1952.

They were identified as George D. O'Brien, 43, his wife, Margaret, 42, and their college student son, George Jr., 19.

The elder O'Brien was charged with theft of property belonging to a Federal Reserve Bank. His wife and son were charged with receiving stolen property.

The FBI said that O'Brien and his wife were arrested at their home. The younger O'Brien a student at Massachusetts Institute of Technology, was picked up in Cambridge, the FBI said.

The elder O'Brien was held in $100,000 bail for arraignment before a federal commissioner. The FBI said he had served terms in State Prison for larceny and breaking and entering.

Mrs. O'Brien was held in $1,000 and their son in $5,000 bail.

The Danvers robbery was one of the nation's largest unsolved lootings. The looters went through the armored truck while its driver and guard were having coffee in a Danvers lunch room.

All but 22 GIs In Korea To Get Turkey Today

Only Exceptions Are POWs Who Reds Say Turned Communist

PANMUNJOM, Thursday, Nov. 26 (AP)—It is Thanksgiving in Korea and a special day for every U.S. soldier—except the 22.

The 22 are the ones who are held in Indian Village nearby. They are the ones who chose communism, or so the Reds say.

They will share nothing with their erstwhile comrades of the U.S. 8th Army on this Thanksgiving day but the fine weather. It is mild for late November in cold Korea. It is like a fall day back home.

Day to Feast

It is a day of American tradition for every fighting man in Korea, except the 22. Tradition says Thanksgiving is a day to feast. And so all the soldiers in Korea feast on turkey, except the 22.

For the 22, say their Indian guards, it is the usual Oriental menu—rice, strange and alien vegetables, and a little pork.

Tradition says this is a day to give thanks. And there are religious services for all soldiers of all faiths, except for the 22.

Cmmunists rule the camp where the 22 Americans are. Some among the Americans may be only frightened or bewildered young men. But they must bow to their hard-core leaders, who worship only power.

Host to Korean Friends

Thanksgiving is a day of hospitality. Many U.S. soldiers are hosts today to their Korean friends—war orphans, South Korean soldiers and their families. But not the 22.

The 22 have no choice in the matter. Their Korean "friends" are the 328 South Korean soldier Communists who share their compound, their huts and tents, and their food.

It is a holiday for all U.S. soldiers in Korea, except for the 22. Within the limits of security, U.S. soldiers are free to go anywhere, look at a service football game, listen to the radio.

Old American Tradition

Many Will Mark Holiday In Religious Observances

By ELAINE BALLINGER

A custom of long-standing tradition with the American people, rooted in religious and patriotic feeling, is being observed today in Marion as residents here join the nation in marking the Thanksgiving holiday.

Not only will families gathered to enjoy the Thanksgiving dinner pause to give recognition to the Source of prosperity, but many will make a special effort to attend formal church services. The annual community Thanksgiving service is set for 9:30 a.m. today at Wesley Methodist Church.

WHEN THE PILGRIMS on the first American day of thanksgiving prepared a feast in gratitude for a harvest after months of hardship, following their arrival on the bleak New England coast the year before, their spontaneous gesture had precedent far back in history. The ancient Hebrews early had a time of celebration in gratitude for first fruits of the harvest, and in pagan lands the gods were praised with festival for harvest bounty.

In American annals, President Lincoln made the day an official national holiday by proclaiming a set day for all states to observe, and Presidents since have continued the custom.

SINCE WORLD WAR II, a growing movement in many communities is the Thanksgiving-to-Christmas Worldwide Bible Reading program. Non-sectarian and non-denominational in scope, with listing of Bible pasages as a daily guide to follow, it is recommended for all creeds, and readers are to use the version of the Scriptures of their own choice.

It was on Biblical principals from which ideals of democracy come that the Pilgrim Fathers based their system of government as set forth in the Mayfower Compact. On such foundations has the American way of life been built.

In the community, school children have had their Thanksgiving programs stressing the significance in the course of American history of the settling of their ancestors in the New World in search of freedom of conscience, both religiously and politically. Church Thanksgiving services have given emphasis to this theme.

Thus, to thoughtful individuals throughout the land comes awareness that the blessings bestowed on this country, favored above any other in the freedom and prosperity of its citizens, are indeed ample cause for Thanksgiving.

U.S. Opposing Korean Peace Debate in U.N.

Lodge Gets Support From British in Call To Delay Discussions

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., Nov. 25 (AP)—The United States and Britain lined up firmly today in opposition to any debate in the U.N. on the Korean peace conference while special Ambassador Arthur Dean is talking with the Communists about arranging the parley.

Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., told newsmen the United States did not think it wise to conduct a debate here on the Korean situation during the talks in Panmunjom. A British spokesman said the British government agreed with the United States.

The American-British view runs directly counter to the reported opinion of Prime Minister Nehru of India and his delegate to the U.N., V. K. Krishna Menon. A diplomatic source said recently that Menon has instructions to demand a Korean debate in the Assembly's Political Committee unless a conference has been arranged.

This source said Menon is waiting for the committee to complete work on Moscow's peace proposals and on a Burmese demand for the evacuation of Chinese Nationalists from Burma. These should be out of the way early next week.

The Korean situation is on the committee agenda as the last item. It is expected that when it is reached Lodge will propose postponement of debate until developments warrant action here.

Lodge also opposed debate here

Snowfall Here Leaves Streets Wet, Slippery

A light snow, which made Marion's streets fairly slippery for part of the evening, fell early Wednesday night. The slippery conditions on the streets and highways in the area caused many holiday motorists to exercise extra caution in their driving.

While it first looked as though it might turn into a major fall, the snow stopped shortly after 8 p.m., as driving winds subsided. Officials weather forecasts for today call only for more snow furrries throughout the day, and temperatures in the high 30's, which will melt any further accumulation.

Ohio State Highway Department officials here said they had alerted an extra crew of men to be prepared to go into action in case the snow continued and threatened to block the highways.

People seeing the snow Wednesday night were reminded of the blizzard of the 1950 Thanksgiving weekend which dumped about two feet of snow on most of the state and left almost the whole state paralyzed. Forecasts indicate no such blanket of snow will drop on the state this weekend.

Piggy Bank Not Empty

JACKSON, Mich., Nov. 25 (AP)—Somebody has a big heart and probably no pennies.

Collectors at a fire station heard the piggy bank rattle and found it was partially filled with pennies and dimes.

'53 Christmas Club Savings Hit New High

Some 5,150 checks totaling approximately $360,700 were mailed out Wednesday by the five local savings institutions which sponsor Christmas savings plans.

Compared with last year, the figures represent an increase of 13.9 per cent in the number of savers and 12.5 per cent in the amount saved.

Christmas Contributions

Salvation Army Will Put Kettles on Streets Friday

The Salvation Army kettles, harbingers of the Christmas season, will make their first appearance this year on Friday afternoon. The following week, on Dec. 4 and 5, they will again be in the business district and beginning Monday, Dec. 7, they will be out each day until Christmas. As in previous years, members of the service clubs will man the kettles for one day. The date this year is Saturday, Dec. 12.

Contributions received in the kettles are used to provide Christmas for men in the armed forces, sunshine baskets and in homes where budgets fail to include Christmas dinners.

TWENTY BOXES have been sent to boys and girls in the armed forces stationed over-seas. These boxes as well as the remainder to be mailed to service men and women in the States contain gum, home-made candy, home-made pop-corn balls, peanuts, stationery, comb, tooth brush, tooth paste, wash cloth, soap tissues, safety razor blades, pencil, pencil sharpener, Sunday pictures, Christmas Carol Book, Christmas War Cry and literature, address book, candles and pocket calendar.

Another project is the Sunshine Basket. It takes many folks to accomplish this cheering item. Christmas cards (used) are given to The Salvation Army. A golden Age Member, Mrs. Maude Kline of 376 Mary St. works all year long on this work. Mrs. Kline re-

Christmas Section

Signaling the official opening of the Yuletide buying season in Marion, The Star publishes its annual Christmas shopping section in today's 68-page issue — the largest edition in the history of the newspaper.

Sections B and C, plus Pages 1 through 7 in Section D, are devoted exclusively to Christmas advertisements, gift news features and pictures. The advertisements and news material include gift suggestions of almost every conceivable description to assist you with your shopping.

Living Cost Raise

CIO Auto Workers Will Get 2 Cent-an-Hour Hike

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25 (AP)—Living costs rose two tenths of one per cent between Sept. 15 and Oct. 15 and set another new record, the Bureau of Labor Statistics reported today.

Ewan Clague, commissioner of labor statistics, said however that the period of inflation appears definitely over and living costs may decline a bit next winter.

The rise announced today was sufficient to give a million members of the CIO Auto Workers Union a two-cent hourly pay boost. Their contracts have "escalator" clauses calling for wages to go up or down with the cost of living.

Eighth Straight

The slight rise in October was the eighth straight monthly increase in the consumer price index of the government. It also marked the fifth month in a row that the index has hit a new peak.

The extremely gradual nature of the steady rise since last March can be seen from the fact that living costs are only 1.1 per cent higher than a year ago. They are about 3 per cent above the level two years ago, but 13.4 per cent higher than in June, 1950, when the Korean War began.

The latest index is 115.4 per cent of the 1947-49 base period. This means it now costs a little more than $1.15 to buy what cost $1 in the 1947-49 era.

Pay Rates Up

Along with prices, pay rates are higher too. The Labor Department reported a few days ago that hourly earnings for factory workers averages $1.78 in October, or eight cents above a year ago. Weekly

Holiday Reflections

Blessings for Which To Be Thankful

NEW YORK (AP)—America looks forward today to the best Thanksgiving since the twentieth century reached middle age.

The guns at last are silent on this harvest holiday of happiness for the first time since 1949. No American is shooting off anything except his mouth, which in our land remains not only the national pastime and a form of exercise—but a God-given right.

There may be flyspecks in the economy, but the great majority of our people have more to be cheerful about than they have had in years.

Peace may be a mirage, but the nightmare of Korea is ended at least for a time. The foe is halted. The atom and hydrogen bombs remain in their darkened stables. We may forget the guided missle as we reach for a turkey drumstick with a guided muscle.

Most every man who wants to work still has a job, a table to put his feet under—and something to eat on the table. As a nation we have reason to celebrate with a full heart as well as a full stomach.

It has been a good year, now, hasn't it? Particularly if you forget the weather. The weather man has given us a long series of tornadoes, floods, and droughts, and in the cities now his theme song is "smog gets in my eyes,".

But it isn't his fault. Every once in a while the climate just gets out of his control. Let's hope the weather fellow gets a piece of turkey tomorrow, too—even if it is only the neck. He's been sticking his own neck out all year.

Who doesn't have something to feel grateful for?

The nation's health keeps on getting better. We took a long step forward in the conquest of polio.

Somebody built a doughtnut with a smaller hole, and another fellow found a way to put a lime flavor in popcorn.

Rita Hayworth got a new husband. The movie industry came up with a new screen wide enough to give a full view of Marilyn Monroe. Television discovered and negan to feature a bright new playwright—William Shakespeare—and put on "King Lear" without having old Lear do a beer or razor blade commercial.

The Republican party could feel grateful all its defeats were local in nature, as there was no national election, one of the really nicest things about 1953. The Democrats were equally grateful that Harry Dexter White hadn't been born twins.

The sports world had its moments of bliss to look back on, too. The St. Louis Browns, after all these years, got a chance for a new start in life under a new name. Notre Dame's football team managed to make a few lucky first downs, a feat Coach Frank Leahy had expressed doubt they could pull off at the start of the season.

The laboring man and the tired businessman were cheered by a Philadelphia heart specialist's statement that a woman today is now strong enough to raise kids, take care of the house, hold down an outside job and also protect her poor weak husband. The average man saw a more hopeful future also in the fact more stores began featuring the two-pants suit again.

Mortgage money became more plentiful, so that a fellow again could start borrowing to buy the things he couldn't afford.

Yes, peace and general plenty bestride America which, a survey shows, pulls down 40 per cent of the total income in a hungry world.

Let us, when the steaming turkey is put on the table tomorrow, bend our heads in thanks for what we have, and not forget to mention in our prayers, as the old Irish mothers say, "The ones that are ill, and the ones away."

It is a Thanksgiving to remember, now in our pilgrimage.

Taxes Will Be Paid, Declares Defense Aide

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25 (AP)—The Defense Department said today it will require that liquor sold in officers messes be bought from state authorities in those states where liquor distribution is a state monopoly.

Assistant Secretary of Defense John Hannah told a news conference the department aims to meet criticisms that military messes can avoid the payment of state and local taxes on liquor.

He said arrangements would have to be worked out with the nonmonopoly states to take care of tax payments in those areas.

Hannah said also that congressional advice will be sought on the question of whether sales of liquor by the bottle should be eliminated in military messes. There have been complaints by retail liquor dealers that the botlte sales were unfair competition for them.

Indicating a personal feeling that bottle sales were questionable, Hannah said the armed services are "not in the liquor business."

These have all been points of controversy since the Defense Department decided last summer to permit the sale of liquor, by the drink and by the bottle, in messes for commissioned and non-commissioned officers.

Previously, the situation had been that officers could drink in their clubs but had to buy the liquor elsewhere.

Minister Named New Youngstown Police Chief

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio, Nov. 25 (AP)—Police Sgt. Paul H. Cress, an ordained minister who, however, has been in police work for the last 13 years, today was named chief of police by Mayor - elect Frank X. Kryzan.

Both Kryzan and Cress will begin their work Jan. 1. Cress succeeds Chief Edward J. Allen, former Erie, Pa., detective sergeant who, in the last year, has waged an attack on obscene literature.

Guest Evangelist

REV. O. O. BOGGESS

Rev. O. O. Boggess, Springfield evangelist, is conducting revival meetings in Marion at First Church of God, Woodrow and Highland Aves. He was here for a series of meetings two years ago. On Monday and Tuesday nights next week he will use a large hand-painted chart to illustrate his messages. One service will be given over to discussion of "Christ's Challenge to Communism." The meetings will continue nightly except Saturday through Dec. 6. Time of the public services will be 7:30.

More Oratory May Be Heard On White Case

NEW YORK, Nov. 25 (AP)—Still more television and radio speeches may be forthcoming in the debate growing out of the Harry Dexter White controversy.

Two major networks said today they would consider giving time to persons criticized last night by Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis), the same as they gave McCarthy facilities to reply to former President Harry S. Truman.

Among those criticized by McCarthy were Dean Acheson, former secretary of state; John Paton Davies, attached to the United States Embassy in Peru, and Owen Lattimore, former State Department consultant.

One network spokesman said no request for time had been received from any of the individuals named by McCarthy.

However, the Daily Worker, Communist newspaper, asked for "equal time and equal facilities" from NBC, NBS, ABC and Mutual networks to reply to the senator.

There was no immediate indication whether the Worker request would be granted.

McCarthy said in his speech that Truman's definition of "McCarthyism" was "identical, word for word, comma for comma, with the definition adopted by the Communist Daily Worker which originated the term."

NBC said requests for facilities to reply to McCarthy would be considered on individual merits.

ABC said it would evaluate requests to determine whether they came within the scope of the current controversy.

CBS and Mutual had no immediate comment.

44-Hour Work Week Sought by State Workers

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Nov. 25 — A request for a 44-hour work week for state mental, correctional and juvenile institution employes is being considered here by the state welfare director.

Director Henry Robison said one of the major problems in granting the request is to find and finance additional personnel needed to set up the shorter week.

He met yesterday with a committee from the Ohio Institution Employes Council of the Ohio Civil Service Employes Assn.

THANKSGIVING DAY IS AN AMERICAN PRIVILEGE

Our blessings so far outweigh current unpleasant conditions that we should be constantly thankful we are American citizens with our many Freedoms . . . speech, worship, schools, property, travel and others unknown in many nations. If we add our personal blessings together we will be truly thankful for them.

IN THE SERVICE

Gene A. Stockdale of near Mt. Gilead, quartermaster third class, USN, assisted in the preparation of the Nov. 17 "See It Now" broadcast over CBS-TV while serving aboard the escort carrier USS Gilbert Islands 400 miles east of Boston, Mass. Edward R. Murrow and his television crew brought to the public eye a candid view of the hunter-killer force in action showing American defense against enemy submarines. The Gilbert Islands operates as the center of a hunter-killer group whose main purpose is to discover, seek out, and destroy enemy submarines. Stockdale is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Delbert L. Stockdale of near Mt. Gilead. His wife is the former Miss Marilyn J. Ufferman of Marengo.

Franklin E. Mooney of Marion was recently promoted to the rank of Private First Class while serving with the 25th Infantry Division in Korea. He is an assistant machine gunner with the Division. The son of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Mooney of 961 N. State St., Pfc. Mooney entered the service in November of 1952 and received his basic training at Camp Breckinridge, Ky. He arrived in Korea last May. Pfc. Mooney attended Harding High School and was employed at the Berry Seed Co. here prior to entering the service.

In 1655, Joseph Jenks, a blacksmith at America's first successful ironworks at Saugus, Mass., received a patent for an improvement on the scythe. But today, the scythe is essentially the same as it was in Jenks' day.

Sanitation Department To Work Extra Hours

In order to provide the regular amount of weekly service, the Sanitation Department will make rubbish and garbage pickups in the residential districts from 7 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Friday and from 8 a.m. to 12 noon Saturday, Safety-Service Director Ralph E. Forrest announced Wednesday.

The longer hours on Friday and Saturday will allow time to make pickups missed when the department closed on Monday for the opening of the hunting season and on Thanksgiving Day.

COMMUNION SCHEDULED

Communion will be a part of the morning worship service Sunday at St. Paul's Lutheran Church at Prospect. The sermon subject will be "The Advent Call: Awake, Thou That Sleepest!" Church Council meeting will be Monday night. The Katherine Luther Guild will meet Wednesday night with Mrs. James Lauer as hostess, assisted by Mrs. Dorothy Louise Burbaugh and Mrs. Paul Dobberstein. Devotions will be by Mrs. James Rodman. Christmas rehearsal will be held Thursday night next week and on Saturday morning, the Junior Mission Band will meet.

More than half of all employed persons use their cars for earning a living, including professional and managerial groups, salesmen and semi-skilled workers.

It's Easy To Pick Out Gifts for the Sports Enthusiast

Golf Equipment, Fishing Tackle, Bowling Balls Are Good Selections

Americans are sports enthusiasts. Several of the people for whom you have especially warm feelings undoubtedly have a favorite sport which they like to watch or take part in. For Christmas this year, then, it's a wise idea to include at least one sporting goods store on your shopping route.

Enjoying a boom at present is the ancient pastime of golf, and someone you plan to buy for may well be a golfer already or planning to take it up. If so, your shopping problem has vanished.

GOLF BALLS, club covers and tees are definitely sure-fire choices. So is a new golf bag, or a cart upon which to tote one. And a set of clubs, or that club or two their present set is lacking, will put them in a good mood for weeks.

If you want to be fancy or tricky, you might select tees that are gold-plated (really not expensive) or a gadget called a ball retriever. The latter is a rubber suction cup that fits over a club handle and retrieves a ball from the hole. Saves all that stooping.

Avid outdoorsmen are even less of a problem. "Big" gifts you can get them include an outboard motor, a new shotgun or rifle, a boat or build-it-yourself boat kit, and a bait-and-fly-casting outfit.

EASIER ON THE budget are rubber wading boots or leather hunting boots, a metal tackle box or creel, a personalized casting rod and a water-repellent gun case.

Always welcomed are portable camp stoves (which come in several models at varying prices), and handy floodlight lanterns. And a new favorite with anglers is a plastic, cone-shaped reel which eliminates all chance of backlash.

Any bowlers on your list? Male or female, they all can almost always use a ditty bag to carry their bowling togs, or a new pair of bowling shoes. To give them the biggest gift of all, you can present them a gift certificate for their own custom-made bowling ball. Or they might like a new ball bag.

THE GIFTS FOR tennis bugs are pretty well standardized, but nevertheless welcomed. A new racket, cleaning kits, containers of balls and racket covers offer ample material to choose from. For something more unusual, get their old racket restrung.

If the person on your list isn't a "participant," but a member of the spectator brigade, he can always use a pair of binoculars to bring the play into closer focus. Accompanied by a leather case, this particular gift is probably one that he's wanted, but never thought of buying for himself.

Out-of-doors folk in any category will thank you for a pair of good sunglasses. Styles available are numerous, and if the recipient wears regular glasses, you can make the gift extra attractive by having the lenses ground to his or her prescription.

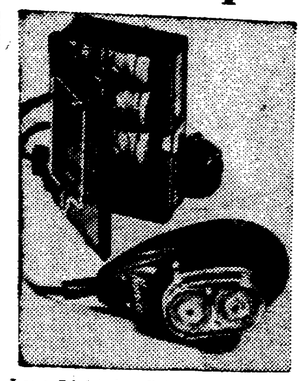
A fisherman or hunter, for example, will bless you for any of the following: An all-wool "jack" shirt, a hunting jacket, a long-billed cap, heavy trousers, a mackinaw, or a sturdy, plastic raincoat. And you might bring a laugh as well as a "thank you" with a pair of long wool underwear, a "must" for jaunts in cold weather.

Golfers like "knock - around" slacks, especially the beltless kind, and colorful tartan caps. Tennis players, of course, have a traditional "uniform" of cap, shirt, shorts or slacks and shoes—all in white—which they're always happy to have renewed.

The clerk at the sporting goods store will quickly convince you that the above suggestions are only a sampling. And even if you know nothing about sports, don't be afraid to stop. The clerk will offer expert advice, and it's actually hard to go wrong if you know your friend's favorite sport.



IDEAS FOR SPORTSMEN. Left—Love Light for fishermen is an instant-lighting lantern to brighten the path to outdoor fun. An unusual gift. Center—Man against nature is served by battery-power in self-contained electric shaver. Adaptor draws power from auto cigaret lighter. Right—Sportsman's Christmas gift can complement his wardrobe. A pair of golf shoes brings spring into December.

KNOW YOUR MAN and you'll know his gift. Out-of-doors men go for sports accessories as much at Christmas as "in season."

NEWSPAPER ARCHIVE®

MISTER! Your Wife Wants a NECCHI This Christmas!

There is nothing you can give your wife or daughter that will afford the pleasure, satisfaction and money-saving they'll get from a NECCHI. And you'll be mighty proud of the new clothes that will save you many, many times the cost of a NECCHI. Why with a 35c pattern and a few dollars worth of material they'll turn out dresses that will match garments costing $20, $30 and $40 ready made. And just think what your wife can do for the youngsters in school. No wonder a NECCHI pays for itself in a few months. And your NECCHI is guaranteed for a whole lifetime of proud service. Stop in and see the Miracle Sewing Machine – NECCHI – at Lennon's.

All you have to do is WATCH!
NECCHI
THE 1. Magic Levers
THE 2. Wonder Wheels
Features of the 1954 Model
• BUILT-IN LIGHT
• SWITCH FOR REDUCING MOTOR SPEED 40%
• NEW COLOR SCHEME

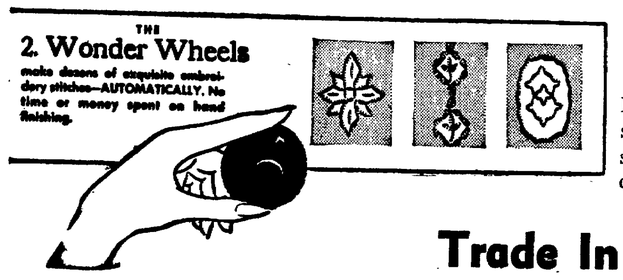
Necchi — the MODERN Sewing Machine. It sews on buttons quick as wink and better than you can do by hand. Makes button holes any size. Embroiders . . . Blind Stitches . . . Zig Zags . . . inserts Lace . . . Monograms . . . ALL WITHOUT ATTACHMENTS. With a Necchi even a child can turn out work as fine as any dressmaker. It's easy! It's fun making fancy things with a Necchi. Come in and let us show you why you need a Necchi in your home. You'll save more than half on children's clothes. You'll do patching, darning and repairing of work clothes better and in less than half the time. You need a Necchi to save a lot of money.

Balance Your Budget With a NECCHI

Try as you will, you just can't think of anything that will save you more money in your home. Think of making clothes for yourself and for the children at just a fraction of the cost of ready made clothes. You'll make Baby's clothes for 50c and a few minutes of your time that would cost $3 or $4 in a store. Why you just can't save money any faster. NOW—and for many years to come—your NECCHI will help you to balance your budget.

THE 1. Magic Levers permit you to sew on buttons, make buttonholes, blindstitch hems, darn, monogram, applique— ALL WITHOUT ATTACHMENTS!

The dream of many women has come true. For the first time in history . . . a sewing machine that automatically embroiders and makes fancy stitches and designs, limited only by your imagination. You need not be an expert to sew expertly—you can make a complete wardrobe without effort . . . NECCHI does the work for you.



THE 2. Wonder Wheels
make dozens of exquisite embroidery stitches—AUTOMATICALLY. No time or money spent on hand finishing.

FREE! Complete Sewing and Pattern Layout Instructions!

Even though you have never threaded a needle nor sewn a stitch we'll teach you to sew like an expert with your NECCHI. At Lennon's you're not limited to a certain series of classes. Come in whenever and as often as you wish. Remember . . . many of Marion's best dressed women save $300 a year with a Necchi.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert K. Clark, whose wedding took place earlier this month in the Kirkpatrick Methodist Church, are making their home at 203 Kensington Pl. The bride, before her marriage on Nov. 1, was Miss Martha Anne Lemke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Lemke of near Marion and Mr. Clark's parents are Mr. and Mrs. William M. Clark of near Caledonia.

Rev. Ralph Hollingsworth, pastor, officiated for the ceremony at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon.

Palms and baskets of yellow and bronze chrysanthemums and candles decorated the church. The wedding music was by Mrs. Earl Ackerman, organist and Miss Jackie Forry, vocalist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a wedding gown of white nylon net. The yoke was edged with self-shirred net and the skirt, accented with a peplum, extended into a chapel train. Her flowers were white chrysanthemums.

Mrs. Don H. Reams Jr., who was the matron of honor, and Miss Louise Speece, bridesmaid, wore ballerena-length gowns of white net with green velvet bodices and stoles and matching headbands and veils. Their flowers were bronze and yellow chrysanthemums.

Dr. William R. Oris, of Akron, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, served as best man and ushers were Wilbur R. Werling of Fort Wayne, Ind. and Gary R. Hall of Marion.

The reception was in the church parlors where the table was centered with a wedding cake encircled with white pompons and greenery. Assisting were Mrs. William R. Oris, twin sister of the bridegroom, Mrs. Lewis Long and Miss Ramona Beech.

The couple spent their honeymoon in the Smoky Mountains. For traveling the bride wore a gray suit, black accessories and a corsage of white pompons.

The bride was graduated from the Kirkpatrick High School and was employed at the National City Bank. The bridegroom, a graduate of the Caledonia High School, is employed with the Erie Railroad Co.

Guests were from Fort Wayne, Ind., Hershey, Pa., Cleveland, Akron, Lakewood, Elyria and Columbus.

The rehearsal dinner was at the home of Mrs. John D. Harrison in Caledonia with Mrs. Harrison, Mrs. Robert K. Clark, Mrs. Arthur W. Ault of Mt. Gilead, Mrs. Carl Meek and Mrs. C. M. Howser of Marion as hostesses. Miss Lemke gave her attendants jewel boxes and Mr. Clark's gift to the best man was a tie pin and he gave the ushers gold initialed knives engraved with the wedding date.

Mr. and Mrs. John E. Morthland of New Bloomington are announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Doris Louise, to Donald Jacobs of LaRue.

Miss Morthland is a graduate of New Bloomington High School with the class of 1950 and is employed as a nurse's aid at Sawyer Sanatorium. Mr. Jacobs, a graduate of Harding High School with the class of 1943, is employed with the Erie Railroad. He served in the southwest Pacific during World War II.

The wedding will be an event of Dec. 21.

Announcement is being made of the marriage of Miss Martha Reese, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerold Reese, 273 Uncapher Ave., and James W. Patingale, son of Mr. and Mrs James E. Patingale, White Sulphur, O. The wedding took place Nov. 8 at the home of the bride's parents, with Rev. Curtis Morris of Columbus officiating for the 3 o'clock ceremony. About 50 relatives and guests were present.

Attending the couple were Miss Jeanette Reese, sister of the bride, and Richard Patingale of White Sulphur, brother of the bridegroom.

The bride chose for her wedding a pale blue taffeta dress. Her corsage was of red roses and she wore matching flowers in her hair. Her attendant was attired in a taffeta dress of a darker blue shade and her corsage was of red roses.

Mrs. Patingale attended Harding High School. Mr. Patingale was employed at the Coca Cola Bottling Co. in Columbus and later at Motor Products here. They are making their home with her parents.

ASHLEY DEDICATION SET

ASHLEY — Dedication of White Lily Chapel's new home will be held Sunday at 2:30 p.m. with guests attending the event from all over Ohio and from surrounding states. Dinner will be served at 5:30 p.m. by the Ladies Aid of the chapel. The public is invited to attend.

ELIZABETH TAYLOR, apparently fully recovered from her recent illness, is her glamorous self as she walks to the paddock at London's Sandown Park, where she attended the races. The actress was accompanied by her husband, Michael Wilding.

Connecticut Taxi Driver Officiates At Wedding in Cab

HARTFORD, Conn. Nov. 25 (AP)—A Hartford taxicab today became a wedding chapel in which one taxi driver performed the ceremony and two others served as witnesses.

It all started yesterday when Sydney H. Dean and Mary C. Kratzke hailed a cab being driven by John H. Sartori, 30, of East Hartford and directed him to drive them to the municipal building.

On the way Sartori learned wedding bells were in the offing for his fares. When he learned the couple had no definite plans for the ceremony, Sartori spoke up:

"I'm a justice of the peace. I'll marry you."

Today a call came for Sartori from his fares of the day before. They wanted to pick up their wedding license at City Hall and they'd be happy to be married by Justice of the Peace Sartori.

Returning from City Hall, Sartori parked his taxicab behind the cab company office. He rounded up cabmen James Maher and Joseph Accuputo, who were between calls, for witnesses.

The fares remained in the rear of the taxicab while the three drivers crowded into the front of the vehicle. The knot was tied in about five minutes.

ASHLEY WSCS MEETING SET

ASHLEY—The November meeting of the Ashley Women's Society for Christian Service has been postponed until Wednesday, Dec. 2. The fellowship hour will begin at 11 a.m. with a luncheon set for noon. Miss Induck Pabk, a native Korean, will be the main speaker.

REVENUE DROPS

CLEVELAND, Nov. 25 (AP) — The Cleveland Transit System reported a $58,842 drop in revenue last month, and blamed the decline partly on the reduced number of riders working overtime in industry.

About 200 breeds of dogs are recognized.

In Line for Decorations

Prisoners Defying Red Captors May Be Cited

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air Force is considering decorating or giving some other recognition to former war prisoners who resisted torture and refused to make false confessions for Communist propagandists.

A spokesman said today that official recommendation of such action must await completion of a detailed study of each individual case.

Five Named

Such recognition presumably would go to five airmen who refused to succumb to pressure by the enemy—Lt. John Streit of South Orange, N. J.; M. Sgt. George Morar of Rockville, Md.; Capt. William Preston of Batavia, N. Y.; Capt. Zach Dean of Douglass, Kan., and Capt. William Mc Taggart of East Brady, Pa.

In the course of interrogating other former prisoners, more cases of heroism probably will come to light.

Regulations apparently would make appropriate any one of several decorations, among them the Legion of Merit, for outstanding service; the Soldier's Medal, for heroism involving voluntary risk of life; the Bronze Star, for outstanding service or heroism, and the Commendation Ribbon, for meritorious achievement or service.

Can Come From Above

Under military regulations, any officer or other member of the armed forces can suggest recognition. Normally, the formal recommendation is forwarded by the immediate commander, but in these instances the initiation may come from higher levels in the Pentagon.

While a policy for dealing with the men who refused to confess is crystalizing, the problem of what to do about the others remains unsolved. It may be months before the scrutiny of each case is completed.

Also involved is the matter of 22 Arm, soldiers who so far have refused to come home from enemy hands, preferring to live with the Communists.

These new problems, most of them without precedent, are the subject of almost daily meetings in the Pentagon to decide not only the individual cases but to frame a general policy.

THEODORE REHL

Young Pianist Will Present Recital Sunday

Federated Music Clubs of the Middle North District of Ohio, in co-operation with the Pro Arte Music Club will present Theodore Rehl in piano recital program Sunday afternoon at Galion. He won national recognition for his musicianship.

A state Young Artist winner and national Artist Finalist, he does teaching at the Oberlin College conservatory of music while following advanced study in piano. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Rehl of near Marion, formerly of Galion. His concert will be heard at the Galion High School auditorium at 3:15 p.m. Sunday.

Repertoire for the event will include "Sonata in C Minor, K. 457," Mozart, with "Allegro," "Adagio," and "Molto Allegro" movements, "Papillons (Butterflies), Opus 2," Schumann, "Preludes, Opus 28," Chopin, with "No 3, G Major," "No. 15 ,D Flat Major," and "No. 24, D Minor" selections, and "Sonata, Opus 26," Barber, with "Allegro Energico," "Allegro Vivace a Leggero," "Adagio Mesto," and "Fuga: Allegro Con Spirito," movements.

1 DEAD, 2 HURT IN CRASH

CAMBRIDGE, Ohio, Nov. 25 (AP)—One woman was killed last night and two others injured when a truck and a car collided on U.S. 21 about five miles west of here. Mrs. Lela P. Bragg, 54, of Rt. 5, Cambridge, was dead on arrival at Guernsey Memorial Hospital. Two other occupants of the car in which she was riding were reported injured.

RICHWOOD SERMON TOPIC

For morning worship service at First Methodist Church in Richwood Sunday the sermon theme will be a chalk talk for the Youth Fellowship by Miss Evangeline Bealer. The Hour of Inspiration service topic at 7:30 will be "Translations and Versions of the Holy Scripture."

Booth Festival Slated Sunday

District Methodists Will Meet in Marion

Young people from Methodist Churches of the eastern half of the Lima District will come to Marion Sunday afternoon and evening for the annual Booth Festival. Youth Fellowship groups of the individual churches have been collecting supplies and cash for the Methodist Children's Home at Worthington and for Flower Hospital at Toledo, and their efforts will be given recognition at the festival which will be held in Epworth Methodist Church here. The theme will be "Hands of Youth Open Closed Doors."

Booths set up in the church's educational unit at 4 p.m. will be judged for value of supplies and cash collected, for artistic arrangement, and for message portrayed.

During the judging period, the young people may see pictures of the children's home, hear discussion of opportunities at Flower Hospital for nursing study and other activity connected with the institution, take part in recreation, and visit the "Our House" Epworth youth center.

At 4:45, in the church sanctuary, Rev. G. C. Reed of Forest, counselor, will be in charge of an assembly period. Welcome will be given by the host pastor, Rev. W. C. Eyster. There will be special music, and Rev. Paul Baker of the children's home will be present.

A banquet at 5:30 will be served by the Lucy Webb Hayes Circle of the host church. Rev. J. Otis Young of Columbus, administrative assistant to Bishop Hazen G. Werner, will speak, and there will be special music. The host church young people will be headed by Mr. and Mrs. Tom Ballinger, co-chairmen of the general committee in charge.

PLEDGES "RED TAPE" CUT

CLEVELAND, Nov. 25 (AP)—Samuel G. Schwartz became new manager of the U.S. Post Office Department's Cleveland district today, and will make field decisions for postal operations in 21 northeastern Ohio counties. At his installation, Schwartz, 50, pledged to cut "red tape," decentralize activities and minimize official correspondence.

Husband Rushes Expectant Wife to Wrong Hospital

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Nov. 25 (AP)—When Paul Hayn left home this morning to take his wife to the maternity ward in Osteopathic Hospital, he thought he knew where the hospital was.

But he drove the 25 miles from Wilkerton, southwest of South Bend, through the section where the hospital is and pulled up in front of the swank Mar-Main Arms Apartment.

He escorted his wife into the ornate lobby before he discovered his error. Then it was too late to get back to the hospital.

His wife, Dorothy, 25, gave birth to a daughter in the apartment lobby. The mother and baby were taken in a police car to nearby Memorial Hospital, where both were reported in good condition.

16 Firms List No Accidents During October

Sixteen Marion factories reported no lost time accidents for October at a meeting of the Industrial Safety Council yesterday noon at the Harding Hotel.

Guest speaker for the meeting was W. E. Godfrey, safety director for the Erie Railroad who spoke on "Never Leave Safety To Chance." Program chairman for the meeting was A. G. Stine, Marion freight agent for the Erie Railroad. There was also a general discussion of current accidents in Marion plants and the measures taken to prevent them.

Plants which reported no lost-time accidents during October were: Alloy Cast Steel Co., Commercial Steel Castings Co., American Malleable Castings, Baker Wood Preserving, Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad, Erie Railroad, New York Central System Railroad, Harding High Vocational Shop, Monsanto Chemical Co., Ohio Fuel Gas Co., Ohio Edison Co., Marion Power Shovel Co., The Osgood Co., B. F. Goodrich Co., McMillen Feed Mills, Inc., and General Excavator Co.

Club To Provide Yule Gifts for Needy Child

Providing Christmas for a needy child will be a project of the Business and Professional Women's Club in December. At the recent meeting of the club at the home of Mrs. Selma Yocom of 399 Pearl St., members voted also to set aside an "emergency fund" to aid worthy persons. Both projects were assigned to the public affairs committee headed by Miss Kathryn Lusch.

Capt. Mary Nisiewicz of the Salvation Army told briefly of her experiences while a member of a leadership group studying and observing procedures in Europe. Club members will take part in preparation of the annual project of Salvation Army Sunshine Baskets during the week of Dec. 14. An orientation meeting for new members was announced for Nov. 30. Plans were discussed in regard to the annual Christmas party and auction to be held Dec. 2 at the dinner meeting at Hotel Harding.

Serving as hostesses with Mrs. Yocom were Miss Patty Cox, Miss Evelyn McCormick, Mrs. Thelma Schill, Mrs. Besse Stark, Mrs. Madeline Tatham, Mrs. Evelyn Waddell, Mrs. Genevieve White, and Mrs. Mildred Wills.

Kiwanians Hear Talk by Evangelist

"Faith for Our Day" was the topic chosen by Rev. Mel Martin of Cincinnati for his talk to the Kiwanis Club in its weekly luncheon meeting Wednesday at Hotel Harding.

Rev. Martin, a former radio and television performer and now an evangelist, is conducting services in Marion this week at Epworth Methodist Church under sponsorship of the Trinity and Fite Memorial Baptist Churches.

He discussed his experiences in radio and television and the effect TV has had on the way of life today. He spoke of the marvels of the two means of entertainment and stated that man has many things to find that God has put here. He added that we should take time to pause and find what the Lord has left for each of us as individuals.

Rev. Martin was introduced by Rev. J. B. Holloway, pastor of Trinity Baptist Church and a Kiwanian.

The Hammond Chord Organ

You'll be astonished at how easily you can play the Hammond Chord Organ. In half an hour, you'll coax "Silent Night" from the keyboard and it will sound as if you'd been practicing for weeks.

We know, because we've heard scores of people do it. People who have never had time to learn music. People who were sure they couldn't play because they'd tried other instruments and found them too difficult. Young and old, this is what they say: "It's so easy to play the Chord Organ."

Come in and play it yourself! No obligation, just a dramatic demonstration of what wonderful organ music you can play in half an hour. (In private, if you prefer.)

SPECIAL CHRISTMAS PURCHASE PLAN (TERMS)

Beautiful chords with one finger of your left hand. You press a button and play rich, full organ chords. On most instruments this normally takes 3 to 5 fingers and hours of practice.

You press a pedal to add bass. Touch one of two foot pedals and the correct bass notes for the selection you're playing are added automatically. It's that easy!

Your children will find the Hammond Chord Organ a thrilling instrument to play. For even without lessons they can play dozens of popular favorites.

Stassen Hopes For Reduction In Europe Aid

Moves To Head Off Congressional Critics Of Overseas Program

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25 (AP)—Foreign Aid Director Harold Stassen today moved to meet congressional criticism of the overseas assistance program by announcing that aid to Western Europe can be cut considerably in the next financial year.

He wrote four congressional committees that a recent on-the-spot study of European conditions had convinced him military aid to that area can be reduced considerably and economic help ended with few exceptions.

Criticism Mounts

There has been a mounting chorus of criticism of foreign aid among the lawmakers, particularly those who have made inspection trips to Europe since Congress quit.

The 1954 session will have to decide whether the mutual assistance program continues at all in its present form. The legislative authority for it expires next June 30; no additional funds could be voted for the next fiscal year starting July 1, 1954, unless the authority is extended.

President Eisenhower has set up a commission on foreign economic policy whose report early in the 1954 session is expected to have a bearing on what happens to foreign aid.

Both Stassen and Secretary of State Dulles have said they expect foreign assistance of some sort will have to continue quite a while.

Returns From Europe

Stassen's report to the Senate and House committees dealing with appropriations and foreign affairs was made after he returned from a meeting of the 17-nation organization on European economic cooperation.

Western Europe has received the great bulk of American aid funds since World War II although its proportion tapered off in the program approved by the 1953 congressional session for the current fiscal year.

Of the $4,531,500,000 in new funds voted for this year, European countries were allotted $2,250,000,000.

Stassen told the committees that he had found data on recovery in Western Europe to be "uniformly favorable—more so in some cases than in others."

Some Aid Still Needed

Industrial output in the area has increased seven per cent in the past year, with Germany, Italy, Britain and The Netherlands showing the most gains, he reported.

However, he forecast that American aid of some kind will have to continue to Spain, Greece and Turkey, and to France for the Indochina war, in the next financial year.

News of the District

Sycamore

A Thanksgiving program was given by the Women's Literary Club Friday night at the home of Mrs. Clair Corfman. The committee in charge of the program was Mrs. Corfman, Mrs. Ira Wenner and Mrs. Everett Baugher. Papers were read by Mrs. Wenner and Mrs. Baugher and Mrs. Corfman gave a humorous reading. Mrs. Corfman and Mrs. Baugher sang a duet and the three ladies presented a short playlet "The Thankful Spirit." FRONT YARD CORRAL. This steer acted as though he were working on a Keystone Comedy script at Louisville, Ky. First he bolted from a truck that was taking him to a local stockyard. For a while policemen chased him, then he chased the cops, and again the cops chased him and cornered him in a front yard where the steer knocked down the fence and chased the cops again. Finally a man named Roy (Not Roy Rogers but George Roy) prevailed on the escapee and got the steer back into the truck and he was on his way to the stockyard.

Prospect

In His Name Circle of the WSCS met Wednesday at the church. A potluck dinner was enjoyed at noon. Devotions were by Mrs. George Bird. Thirteen members answered roll call, with a verse of Scripture. Ohio Observes Thanksgiving With Tradition

Gatherings at Homes, Church Services Are Part of Observance

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Nov. 25 (AP)—Ohio will observe its Thanksgiving Day tomorrow in the traditional manner and with a weatherman's promise of colder temperatures and snow flurries.

Home gatherings with turkey and fowl topping the usual holiday fare, religious services and sports make up the general program for Ohio's holiday.

Biggest sports event will be the annual football clash at Cincinnati between the University of Cincinnati and Miami University elevens.

Community thanksgiving services were planned in most of the communities in the state. In Cleveland, all denominations were planning services, many of them union, interdenominational and community. Archbishop Edward F. Hoban will officiate in consecration at St. Cyril and Methodius Church, Lakewood, with the occasion also marking the parish's golden jubilee.

Nine religious groups in Cleveland, Christian and Jewish, are holding interdenominational services tonight at the Church of the Covenant. The Rev. Walter F. MacGowan, pastor of the Euclid Ave. Christian Church, will be the speaker.

For the first time since 1914, the Ohio State museum here and all other museums under the Ohio Archeological and Historical Society will close Thanksgiving Day.

The State Highway Patrol staff issued its usual holiday warning asking all motorists to drive safely and observe traffic regulations in order to cut down highway deaths.

With intermittent snow flurries of Wednesday and those expected Thursday, some highways may present hazards to motorists. These conditions become more serious, patrol officers said, if added to the increased traffic flow of a holiday period when many persons plan trips for visits to relatives and friends.

8 Accidents Investigated by Police, Patrol

No Injuries Reported; Four Drivers Involved In Collisions Arrested

No one was injured in any of the eight accidents reported Wednesday in Marion and Marion County. Police reported investigating four accidents, while patrolmen from the Marion post handled the other four.

One driver in each of the four accidents investigated by patrolmen was arrested.

A car driven by Merle V. Douce, 66, of Caledonia was damaged in the front end in a collision with one driven by Robert W. Belt, 19, of near Caledonia.

Patrol reports show Belt had been northbound on the township road and turned right onto the county road, striking the left front end of Douce's car, causing moderate damage to that vehicle. The impact also caused moderate damage to the right front fender, bumper, and grille of Belt's car. Belt's auto had to be removed by a wrecker.

Driver Cited

Belt was cited to appear in Municipal Court at a later date to answer a charge of making an improper right turn.

An accident happened on U. S. Route 23 at 3:10 p.m. Wednesday at the intersection wth county road 136 about two miles south of Marion.

A car driven by Walter J. Kuhnash, 47, of Leipsic, O., was slightly damaged when struck in the rear by a car driven by Virgil Cochran, 33, of near Waldo. Patrol reports indicate Kuhnash was preparing to turn right onto the county road when his car was struck.

Moderate damage was reported to the front end of Cochran's car. He was cited to appear in Municipal Court Dec. 5 on a charge of following too closely.

Car Hit by Truck

At 5:15 p.m., patrolmen investigated an accident on U. S. Route 23, four miles south of Marion corporation line. A car driven by George T. Belyus, 16, of Little Hocking, O., was extensively damaged when struck in the rear end by a truck driven by Harold Gottfried, 35, of Upper Sandusky.

Patrol reports indicate Belyus had slowed down for a slow-moving farm vehicle, when the truck hit his car. No damage was reported done to the truck. Gottfried was cited to appear in Municipal Court Friday to answer a charge of following too closely.

In the other accident investigated by the patrol, the right rear fender of a car driven by Donald G. Baughman, 16, of near Marion was slightly damaged in an accident on U. S. Route 23, about one and one half miles south of Marion at 5:30 p.m.

Patrolmen said Baughman's car was struck by a car driven by Ray T. Peak, 55, of Ashley, when Baughman stopped to make a left turn into a private drive.

The left front fender, grille, and headlight of Peak's car were damaged. Peak was cited to appear in Municipal Court Monday on a charge of following too closely.

Bike, Auto Collide

A young bicyclist escaped injury in one of four minor traffic accidents on Marion streets yesterday, city police reported.

The bike, ridden by Arthur Snare, 7, of 472 W. Center St. and a car driven by Harkness Blevens, 46, of 472 Lee St. collided on W. Center St. between St. Clair and Plymouth Sts. at 3:30 p.m. yesterday. Arthur told police that he rode the bike into the left front fender of the oncoming car when he swerved to the left to miss a puddle in the street. There was no damage to the car, but the front wheel of the bike was damaged, police said.

The right front fender and headlight of a car driven by Virgil L. Klaiber of 132 Waterloo St. were damaged in an accident at W. Center and Davids St. at 6:54 p.m. yesterday. Police reported Klaiber was driving east on W. Center St. and struck a car driven by Harry F Edler, 28, of 301 Latourette St. which was stopped at the intersection. No damage was reported to Edler's car.

Cars driven by Harry E. Hessberger, 61, of 345 N. Prospect St. and Ralph T. Jones, 71, of 134 Sharpless Ct. were damaged in a mishap in the 200 block on N. State St. at 12:10 p.m. yesterday.

The front end of a car driven by Lucille Fittro of 334 N. Greenwood St. was damaged in a mishap involving a truck driven by Thomas Miller of 1126 Cheney Ave. in an alley beside the Midtown Chevrolet Co. on S. Main St. at 9 a.m. yesterday. There was no damage to the truck, police said.

BEE BITE

LANDER, Wyo. (UP) — Joseph C. Zollinger of Logan, Utah, was stung where it hurts most—in the pocketbook. The beekeeper was fined $200 by justice of the peace here for four violations of Wyoming beekeeping regulations.

Canadian Startles Red Peace Meeting With Praise of Ike

VIENNA, Austria, Nov. 25 (AP)—The audience of the Communist-sponsored World Peace Council appeared somewhat embarrassed today when a Canadian delegate warmly praised President Eisenhower's peace efforts.

James D. Endicott, chairman of the Canadian Peace Council and a well-known figure at Communist peace meetings, cited almost in full a speech by the American President, in which Eisenhower said that every gun made, every warship launched and every rocket fired was in the final sense a theft from those who hunger and are not fed.

Endicott added: "President Eisenhower's statement on the desirability of disarmament was excellent and everybody agrees with that and the important deed which must follow from these fine words is a meeting of the leading powers to discuss disarmament."

McCarthy

Hyman's name first arose yesterday in testimony about Communist recruiting and espionage. McCarthy demanded his appearance today.

A stocky, bespectacled man of medium height, Hyman wore a neat gray suit. He worked from about 1943 to 1951 at the federal telecommunications laboratories in Nutley, N.J., which does classified work for the Army Signal Corps. He is now an insurance man.

Hyman was allowed to put on the record an objection to the subcommittee's questions as "obviously for political and not legislative purposes."

"Are you an espionage agent on the payroll of the Communist party as of this very moment?" McCarthy asked the witness.

"If you have any evidence of that, produce it," Hyman countered.

McCarthy Replies

"The best evidence is your sitting there and refusing to tell us whether you are or are not an active Communist agent," McCarthy told him "Julius Rosenberg was convicted of espionage and executed. From your answers it could be concluded that you are now engaged in espionage. Do you feel you should be walking the streets of this country or that you should have the same fate as the Rosenbergs"

"That is an outrageous question," Hyman declared.

McCarthy's face reddened and he leaned forward in his chair to snap at the witness:

"It is not so outrageous when one knows that there are Communist espionage agents roaming our streets and enjoying the fruits of our Constitution."

Refuses to Answer

Hyman refused to answer the question.

McCarthy's reference was to Julius Rosenberg and his wife, Ethel, executed last June as atom spies.

The witness refused to answer a long list of questions, many of which dealt with telephone calls or personal conferences at Signal Corps installations or defense plants.

"You think it's funny?"

"It's outrageous," Hyman retorted.

"I know it's outrageous to call a Communist spy before this committee," McCarthy said.

Pentagon Asks 142,000 Be Cut Off Army Rolls

Defense Department Manpower Goals for Fiscal 1954 Reduced

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25 (AP)—The Defense Department wants the Army to prune another 142,000 men off its rolls in the next fiscal year beginning July 1, 1954.

This was disclosed today by Assistant Secretary of Defense John A. Hannah as he explained manpower goals which the Defense Department hopes to attain under the administration's economy program. Hannah declared at a news conference it should be possible to make the cuts without injuring the combat effectiveness of divisions, fleets and air wings.

No Orders Issued

Hannah, in outlining the objectives, made it plain that no mandatory orders had been issued to the Army, Navy or Marines to cut strength to specific figures to meet an overall, net reduction for all services of 230,000. He said quotas had been suggested and the services told if they could not meet them to submit their own estimates for further study by the Defense Department.

The proposed personnel cut for the Army in the coming fiscal year would bring the service to a 7strength of 1,281,000. That would mean that in two years following the cessation of hostilities in Korea Army strength would be tapered down gradually by a total of 249,000 men. During the present year the reduction will amount to about 107,000.

No Change In Korea

However, strength in the Far East will remain unchanged until a firm peace is agreed upon in Korea. This will mean that paring down must come in the United States and in Europe—and that it must be confined primarily to non-combat, supporting personnel.

Hannah said that with the 1,281,000 overall strength, the Army still should be able to keep effective the present equivalent of 26 divisions.

In answer to questions, he said, there still has been no decision on changing draft calls, which for some time have been 23,000 a month. That decision, Hannah explained, must await determination by the strategy-making Joint Chiefs of Staff and other top agencies of the total forces needed for national defense in 1955.

The Army will not need to fire any men to reduce strength. Its problem is the reverse—to find replacements through recruiting and drafting to keep manpower up to required levels. Expiration of duty tours of draftees and reservists has created a critical problem.

Big Navy Cut

The Defense Department's suggested program would mean a 75,000 reduction for the Navy in the coming fiscal year, to bring it down to a force of 670,000. Hannah believed that the planned fleet of 405 combatant ships could be operated efficiently with that manpower afloat and ashore.

The Marine Corps would be reduced 23,000 to a force of 207,000.

The Air Force is the only service headed for an increase—up 10,000 to a new strength of 970,000 during the fiscal year starting next July 1. Hannah said this increase was needed to operate additional wings which will be added by then. Present strength of the Air Force is about 105 wings, with 127 aimed at in 1955.

Have Red Propaganda

There is no football, nor radios, but if they want to relax and read there are stacks of Communist books and pamphlets.

There have been four Thanksgivings in Korea now, and this is the first that U.S. soldiers have enjoyed without shellfire.

It is an uneasy truce. The big Red war machine still stands across the quiet demilitarized zone. But at least no one is being killed, and for all that soldiers give thanks.

And on this peaceful Thanksgiving Day the hope that soon they may be rotated home runs high among all U.S. soldiers—except the 22.

Dates Set for Visits With Local Children

It seems we gave you a few wrong dates Tuesday when we told you the schedule we had planned. We told you we planned for you to see the children each Wednesday and Saturday night from 7 p.m. to 8:30 p.m.

That was our mistake. It should have been each Monday and Friday night in December at the indicated time, plus the third Saturday and the fourth Tuesday and Wednesday in December. The dates are Dec. 4, 7, 11, 14, 18, 19, 21, 22, and 23.

We hope this does not cause any inconvenience to you. The regular day schedule is the same as before, from 1 p.m. to 4:40 p.m. every day except Sunday.

Lausche Asks Drought Relief

3 Per Cent Federal Loans Sought for Feed

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25 (AP)—Ohio Gov. Frank J. Lausche today asked Secretary of Agriculture Benson to make drought - stricken Southwest Ohio farmers eligible for 3 per cent federal loans for emergency feed purchases.

The governor told a news conference he was not at this time requesting that Southwest Ohio be declared an emergency drought area by the President. Such White House designation would make farmers eligible to buy feed at reduced prices directly from the government, a benefit now available to many farmers across the border in Kentucky.

Lausche told newsmen he had discussed the situation with Benson and said Benson assured him that drought conditions were less serious in Ohio than in Kentucky.

at any time on the question of prisoners now held by the U.N. Neutral Repatriation Commission, of which India is chairman.

"All prisoners must be released by Jan. 2," Lodge said. "The armistice is absolutely clear on that."

Lt. Gen. K. S. Thimayya, Indian chairman of the Neutral Repatriation Commission, has been reported preparing a report on the prisoner of war situation. Nehru has said the Assembly must consider disposition of prisoners unless the conference meets.

Lodge disclosed that the United States is ready to strike hard for an Assembly verdict on reported Communist atrocities against American and other U.N. soldiers and civilians in Korea.

Atrocity Report Made

Lodge recently put before the Assembly a detailed report on atrocities and the Assembly decided to debate the issue itself instead of sending it to a committee. The debate has been delayed while the United States consulted with other governments on the resolution to be introduced.

Lodge said the United States will publish Sunday documentary evidence intended to back up its charges of atrocities. He is working on a speech to be made to the Assembly Monday when it begins debate on the subject.

There has been no hint of the resolution in the works but some quarters indicated the Americans want an Assembly verdict denouncing atrocities and calling for punishment of those committing them if and when they can be captured.

Train Is Derailed Near Kenton, Ties Up Tracks

KENTON, Ohio, Nov. 25 (AP)—Eleven coal cars in a northbound New York Central train derailed at Williamstown in Hardin County today. No one was injured.

Railroad officials estimated more than 15 hours would be required to clear the single-track line which connects Columbus and Toledo.

Ohio Farmers Short of Water May Get Help

Agricultural Leaders To Recommend U.S. Loans in 40 Counties

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Nov. 25 (AP)—Agricultural leaders today moved to help farmers lacking water for cattle now and those they expect will be plagued by feed shortages next year.

A committee representing state and federal agencies dealing with farm programs and water recources and leaders of farm organizations threashed out Ohio's drought situation.

40 Counties Named

It decided to recommend that 40 Ohio counties be designated as a disaster area so farmers living there could get government production loans. These loans, available at 3 per cent interest, are for farmers who can't get regular loans.

They are flexible enough to cover purchase of feed and water for livestock. Some farmers, mainly in southwestern Ohio, now are paying to have water hauled from municipal water systems for their livestock.

David T. Herman, administrative officer of the Ohio Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, presided.

The committee's recommendations go to Gov. Frank J. Lausche who is in Washington today conferring with the Agriculture Department on Ohio's drought situation.

Extend Area

The committee first discussed putting about a dozen counties in a disaster area—those places where water is in short supply. Then it decided to enlarge the area to include farmers who early next year will not have feed. Many farmers have used up feed they ordinarily would use during the winter, as lack of rain and hot suns parched pastures.

The production loans would be temporary.

Herman emphasized not all farmers in the 40 counties will need the loans, because they will be able to get conventional loans if they need them. He summed up the meeting in these words:

"It is the opinion there will be a state roughage shortage before the new hay crop is available. Despite this fact, hay is moving out of Ohio. People who will need it most are not laying in a supply. This is partly due to their inability to borrow money.

Water for Stock

"The critical problem now is water for livestock in certain restricted areas in the state. The provisions of Public Law 38 should be made available to farmers in those areas. The law should be made available to other farmers in the 40 counties because of the anticipated need for feed."

Clarence Gehrig, state director of the Federal Farm and Home Administration, told of the plight of some farmers in southwestern Ohio.

"If the farmer had the money he could buy hay now," he said. "But there are a lot of small family type farmers who just don't have the money. They've spent their milk money for water and haven't sold their tobacco crop."

He pointed out that all family type farmers aren't in the same position.

List of Counties

Counties where farmers would be eligible for production loans to be made by the Federal Farm and Home Administration are:

Preble, Butler, Hamilton, Montgomery, Warren, Clermont, Greene, Clinton, Brown, Highland, Fayette, Adams, Scioto, Pike, Ross, Pickaway, Knox, Licking, Fairfield, Perry, Hocking, Vinton.

Savings

ion, some 4,520 people saved about $320,000.

The only decline this year was in the amount of the average check. Last year the average check amounted to a little more than $71; this year it was a little more than $70.

All the savings institutions reported that the Christmas savings plan has been increasing in popularity over the past several years. Indications are that the figures may climb higher next year.

They also reported that the one and two dollar per week plans were the most popular.

Christmas savings bear no interest and are designed primarily to encourage the saving habit.

Past studies have indicated that not all the money is spent for Christmas shopping. A large portion of it goes into permanent savings, insurance premiums, year-end bills, tax payments and miscellaeous spending.

Gouzenko Case

Security subcommittee, if a member of the subcommittee could interview Mr. Igor Gouzenko under Canadian auspices to determine what he knows about espionage in the United States.

Want Right of Decision

"Once having determined what Mr. Gouzenko knows, the Senate Internal Security subcommittee, should then like to address itself to what should be done about the evidence or the information at that time."

Then came the statement that the subcommittee could not commit itself to withhold information from Congress.

The Canadian government said in a note to the State Department today that FBI agents interviewed Gouzenko, Canada's prize informant on Soviet espionage, as late as August, 1950.

The message was the Canadian government's formal notification of permission, within limits, for Senate investigators to question Gouzenko.

However, the Canadian note said the FBI "has had access to Mr. Gouzenko as and when requested—this has been the situation since 1945 and remains the situation now."

Bolted In 1945

It was in 1945 that Gouzenko, then a code clerk in the Russian Embassy in Ottawa, bolted his Red masters and turned over a bulky volume of documents to the Canadian government exposing the operations of a Soviet spy ring in Canada. He is now a Canadian citizen.

The note further declared that investigators of a Senate Immigration subcommittee questioned Gouzenko in May, 1949, or shortly thereafter. It said Gouzenko gave them "general statements on the operation of Soviet espionage networks, as well as such information as he had concerning operations in the United States."

But the Canadian note said everything Gouzenko told the subcommittee aides at that time had already been made available to U.S. officials by Canada.

Refers To Interviews

As for FBI interviews with Gouzenko across a five-year span, the note had this to say:

"The material secured in this way by the FBI included information which was not made public in the report of the (Canadian) Royal Commission because such information related to activities outside Canadian territory which was not relevant to that report."

Gouzenko has been living under a series of assumed names, guarded by Royal Canadian Mounties, ever since he tipped off the Canadian government about Red spy operations there.

Meanwhile, Sen. Butler (R-Md), a member of the Jenner subcommittee, noted reports that Gouzenko's 1949 testimony to the Senate Immigration subcommittee was heavily censored as it passed through "official diplomatic channels" from Canada to Washington.

Richard Arens, a former counsel for the immigration group, has said he never learned whether the deletions were made by the Canadian Foreign Ministry or by the U.S. State Department, since it passed through both.

Would Hamper Work

Butler said Canada's insistence on the right to control the release of Gouzenko's testimony — if and when he gives it—is "bad."

"It would make it tough on the committee because we would always have to keep it in mind that one part is on the record and another part is off the record. That doesn't seem like a very workable arrangement," he said.

Foreign Secretary Lester B. Pearson announced the decision in Parliament, where even opposition leaders sided with him and applauded him as a patriotic official.

Cracks at Brownell

Along the way there were some polite but unmistakable cracks at U.S. Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell Jr., and FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover.

Gouzenko has been living in an Ontario village under an assumed name, protected by Royal Canadian Mounted Police guards.

The Toronto Telegram said today it has learned from Gouzenko that he is willing to talk to American authorities any time, secretly and on Canadian soil.

Through the State Department, the Senate committee had made two requests that Canada allow questioning of the former Soviet clerk. Canada rejected the first on grounds Gouzenko had no information to offer beyond that already in the possession of U.S. officials.

The case of Harry Dexter White, former assistant secretary of the U.S. Treasury Department, and the resultant bids to get at Gouzenko surged into the headlines Nov. 6. At that time Brownell charged former President Truman had promoted White to be U.S. representative on the International Monetary Fund in disregard of FBI reports identifying him as a Soviet spy.

Truman Fires Back

Truman fired back that Brownell "lied" and that White was kept in government service so the FBI could keep watch on him without disclosing that it was on the trail of a Soviet espionage ring.

Brownell followed through with an appearance before the Senate subcommittee. He released a confidential letter Hoover sent to the White House in February, 1946. This said Hoover had learned from "sources high-placed in the Canadian government" that British and Canadian delegates on the monetary fund were considering backing White to head the fund and felt that "the loyalty of White must be assured."

Canadians bristled officially at release of the letter without their being consulted. M. J. Coldwell, Socialist leader, said in Commons today that this action was "shocking."

Source is Doubt

And Pearson told Parliament it wasn't a highly placed Canadian at all who supplied information to Hoover—but a security liaison officer at the Ottawa Embassy of a third country. Pearson didn't name the official or the country.

The foreign secretary indicated, furthermore, that this official merely was giving the FBI a "reminder" on White, based on information the FBI itself previously had supplied the Canadian government.

Hoover, Pearson said, informed Canada confidentially that White might be a Soviet spy. He said this was in the winter of 1945-46, at the time the U.S. Senate was considering White's nomination to the monetary fund post. The information from Hoover, the foreign secretary said, alerted Canada to keep an eye out for corroborating evidence, but none was found, and none was obtained from Gouzenko.

"The only information which the Canadian authorities had on which they could possibly warn the U.S. came from the FBI," Pearson said.

While he was at it, he said, his government "at no time" contemplated supporting White for any kind of position.

Living

Clague explained at a news conference what has been happening to prices. He said prices for food and other commodities have leveled off and even declined somewhat but costs of services, such as rents, with government controls removed, have been on a steady upgrade. This has more than offset the lower food prices.

He said food and other prices may decline somewhat during the winter months—at least that is the seasonal expectancy — and this could bring the living cost index down somewhat. He declined to make any firm predictions, however.

May Remain Stable

Clague's overall guess was that living costs would remain relative stable—neither increasing nor decreasing very much.

Between September and October consumers enjoyed slightly lower food prices, mainly for meat and chicken. Pork prices dropped nearly five per cent, but milk and egg prices increased slightly.

Costs were up in October for rents, clothing, medical care, reading and recreations and such items as beer, cigarettes, men's haircuts, and radio and television sets.

Higher admission charges for new dimensional movies hiked the reading-recreation group a bit. Transportation costs remained unchanged during the month, with used car prices lower but auto maintenance costs higher.

Judge

dam, denied that Clark was being recalled for disciplinary reasons. He stressed that the conomy motive applies to the occupation of Germany as well as to domestic affairs.

Will Defy Order

Clark said he will defy order to return to the United States and continue to head the appeals court as usual, regardless of whether he is paid. Though his regular four-year term ends next Jan. 8, Clark contends his tenure is indefinite. He said the law is that removal of a judge must be "for cause"—inefficiency, committing an offense, or the like.

A former judge of the U.S. Third Circuit Court of Appeals at Philadelphia, Clark served in World War II as a lieutenant colonel. He told the news conference he believed his criticism of High Commission policy was at the bottom of the order.

He recently was named chairman of a bar association committee in Germany to investigate reports that telephone conversations are recorded secretly in High Commission offices.

Highly Critical

He has been particularly sharp in his criticism of U.S. High Commission Law No. 37, recently enacted. That law provides that no German officials can be brought into American-run courts as defendants unless Conant agrees.

It was the outgrowth of a German tax case against businessman Richard Knorr of Union, N. J. Knorr had tried to bring action against two German officials he said were blocking investigation of his case.

Price Supports To Be Issue at Farm Meeting

Ohio Bureau Favors Gradual Trend Away From High Subsidies

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Nov. 25 (AP)—Price supports will be the major issue when some 3,000 Ohio farmers meet here Monday for the 35th annual session of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation.

Farm Bureau officials said today its resolutions committee will recommend a temporary continuance of the present 90 per cent of parity on products now included in the support program.

"We hope to move gradually away from high price supports—but don't dare pull the rug out all at once from our farmers," a Farm Bureau spokesman said.

A poll of 14,310 Ohio farmers by the Farm Bureau recently showed strong splits on the matter of supports. For every farmer who wants 90 per cent of parity or more, another wants flexible supports or disaster help only.

The poll showed 36 per cent favoring the 90 per cent support. In a similar poll last May, only 17 per cent of Ohio Farmers favored the 90 per cent parity.

Another 13 per cent would have the government guarantee 100 per cent of parity on all farm products, both storable and perishable. But 22 per cent favor government support only at a level which would prevent disaster, the federation reported.

Social Security for farmers will be another main issue at the meeting. Last year Ohio Farm Bureau delegates defeated a resolution asking for Social Security for farmers.

State farmers approve the Soil Conservation Service by a strong margin, Ohio Federation president Everett F. Rittenour said, and endorse increased foreign trade. About 71 per cent asked for agreements to gradually lessen trade restrictions between nations.

Hospital Group Delays Naming Administrator

Selection of an administrator for the new Marion General Hospital will be delayed until construction is completed, Mayor Harold F. Robinson said Wednesday. This decision was made at a joint meeting of the hospital building commissioners and hospital board of governors.

In the meantime, Miss Irene Tinklepaugh, administrator at City Hospital, will be retained in that position. In addition she is to serve in an advisory capacity to the board of hospital commissioners in the selection of equipment and furnishings for the new hospital.

Selection of an administrator was delayed by the hospital board of governors because it presently has no funds with which to pay an administrator, nor does it have any hospital to administer, John Waters, a member of the board said.

He explained that the board actually has no legal authority to select an administrator until the new hospital is completed and turned over to the governors by the commissioners.

French Stand Jeopardizing Big 3 Meeting

By HARVEY HUDSON

PARIS, Nov. 25 (AP)—Premier Joseph Laniel staked the life of his cabinet today on a foreign policy pointed toward European unity. A defeat in the National Assembly might break up the Bermuda Big Three meeting due to start Dec. 4.

Laniel's chances of winning his confidence vote appeared dim, but hard bargaining within the next 48 hours may permit him to rally sufficient support. The vote is not expected before late Friday night.

At the heart of Laniel's difficulties is the European army, a proposed six-nation pool of troops that would put guns back in West German hands. The European army was proposed by France almost three years ago, but as the time comes for a final showdown the opposition is widespread and violent.

For a week the National Assembly has been debating the issue. More than 50 deputies have trooped up to speak for or against the idea. Now the Assembly cannot make up its collective mind on what attitude it should take. Each individual deputy has his own idea. Although some parties have come to an agreement, there seems to be no way of getting a majority of the Assembly to support any one conclusion.

The debate ended about 5 p.m. Tuesday. The deputies waited around all night long for Laniel to come up with a resolution he thought could be passed. The Premier could get no agreement, despite a sudden, desperate full dress Cabinet meeting at 2:30 a.m. At this meeting, Laniel was authorized to pose the question of confidence. The Assembly finally went home at 6 a.m.

Laniel put the confidence issue before the Assembly late this afternoon, knowing he may be defeated. The motion the Cabinet is backing is a watered-down resolution recalling Laniel's foreign policy statement when he was invested as Premier June 30, asking for continuity in the building of a unified Europe and approving the declarations of Laniel and Foreign Minister Georges Bidault during the long debate.

Already the delay in coming to a decision and the fact that no vote can come before Friday have compromised one international conference. That is a meeting starting tomorrow in The Hague of the foreign ministers of the prospective European army partners — West Germany, Belgium, Italy, Holland, Luxembourg and France. They will discuss plans for a European political community to oversee the army and the Schuman coal-steel pool.

But, without France, no decisions can be made. And Bidault, uncertain whether he will stay in office, canceled his plan to take the overnight train. Alexander Parodi, secretary general at the Foreign Office, will go as France's representative, but obviously he will not be able to make any commitments.

Pending the vote, no one here wanted to talk about arrangements for the Bermuda meeting. If Laniel was defeated, he might still go as a lame duck premier. Or a new government might be hastily assembled to meet the crisis. Laniel and Bidault are scheduled to leave by plane Dec. 2 for the talks with Presdent Eisenhower, Prime Minister Churchill and their foreign ministers.

Laniel has been trapped between two fires in his efforts to conciliate the differences within his Cabinet. At one end are the followers of Gen. Charles de Gaulle, who are unalterably opposed to the European army idea. At the other end are the pro-Europeans of Bidault's party, the popular Republican Movement (MRP).

The MRP deputies have insisted on a strong statement in support of the European unification policies. The Gaullists have refused even a vague statement of support. Without the support of both, the Laniel government does not have a majority in the Assembly.

Most of the Socialists favor European federation, but they are not in the government and will not lift a finger to save Laniel. The Socialists have announced they will vote against the Laniel resolution.

MAN ORDERED TO LEAVE

John H. Luft, 65, of Cincinnati was ordered out of town yesterday by Marion Municipal Judge W. Dexter Hazen or face payment of a $10 and costs fine. He was arrested by city police at 5:44 p.m. Tuesday on W. Center St. and charged with being a suspicious person. At his hearing yesterday he pleaded guilty. The fine was suspended on condition he leave town immediately.

Oppose Three Policies

British Conservatives Revolt Against Churchill

LONDON, Nov. 25 (AP) — Prime Minister Churchill acted tonight to quell a revolt in his own Conservative party which now threatens the government on three fronts in Parliament.

In an emergency Cabinet meeting, Churchill ordered his two top lieutenants—Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden and budget chief Richard Butler—to defend the government's decision opposing an increase in the pensions of World War I officers.

Eden and Butler will face rebellious Conservative M.P.'s at a House of Commons committee session tomorrow night. At least 36 Conservatives have joined 74 Laborites and a Liberal in signing a motion demanding that the government reverse itesIf and approve the pension boosts.

A second Conservative revolt flared in the House of Lords, where an imposing number of peers of all parties have denounced the government's plan to introduce commercial television. A similar battle is due when the TV issue comes up for debate in Commons.

Some Conservatives also have challenged the government on a third decision—tentative plans for withdrawal of British troops from the Suez Canal zone. That group, headed by Julian Amery, does not want the troops withdrawn under any circumstances on the ground that this would weaken Commonwealth defenses.

The Suez issue is hanging fire awaiting the outcome of deadlocked negotiations between Britain and Egypt, but the row over war pensions is blazing hot.

A defeat for the government in the House of Commons on any major issue could force Churchill to resign. But few, if any Conservatives are likely to vote against the government when the chips are down on a decisive vote.

The war pension issue in itself is not a major one. But some Conservative rebels are threatening to vote against the military budget early next year if the government doesn't give in. That could force the government's resignation and a general election.

A government spokesman said Eden, acting in the role of Churchill's deputy, and Butler will tell dissident Conservatives that the country cannot afford to "open the gates" to a flood of pension claims. They will argue that approval of the World War I officers' increases, totalling about 400,000 pounds ($1,120,000) yearly, would run the risk of producing similar claims which might cost up to 40 million pounds (112 million dollars) a year.

Only 336 officers are involved. Their pensions, ranging from 400 pounds ($1,120) to about 1,000 pounds ($2,800) yearly, would run the risk of producing similar claims which might cost up to 40 million pounds (112 million dollars) a year.

Proponents of the increase are asking the government to permit individual hikes up to the 20 per cent limit imposed by a 1919 regulation. The pensions were cut 9½ per cent as living costs dropped after World War I. The cuts were never restored.

Edison Junior High Tap Dancer Wins Club Show

Winner of a talent show held by the Citizens Boys' Club Monday night in the Eagles hall was Leo Savage, a tap dancer. He received a trophy which will in turn be presented to the Edison Junior High School.

Second place in the contest was won by Carol Stanley, pianist, and third place went to Luther Arthur, impersonator. All are students at Edison Junior High School.

Acting as master of ceremonies was Allen Short. Also performing during the evening were the Edison Trojanettes. Judges for the talent show were Janis Ottman, Barbara Hale, Carolyn Smith and John Doolittle, students at Edison.

'Dragnet' Star Divorced, Wife Gets $500,000

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 25 (AP)—Actress Julie London won an uncontested divorce and a half million dollars settlement from "Dragnet" actor-producer Jack Webb today.

She testified, that nearly every night Webb, 33, "would come home and immediately turn on the television set and say very little until it was time to turn it off. He would do this in the presence of company or anyone who was present."

Last April, she said, he left home one day, presumably just for the day as usual, and didn't return for six weeks. They were reconciled, but only for two months, and finally separated last Aug. 7. She said he told her it was impossible to continue his work and his marriage, too. The Webbs were married in 1947 at Las Vegas, Nev.

Atty. S. S. Hahn said Mrs. Webb 26, gets $150,000 cash, $150,000 in securities, $18,000 a year alimony, $250 a month support for two daughters, Stacey, 3, and Lisa, 9 months, and an automobile, jewelry and house furnishings worth $50,000. In addition Webb pays for a $150,000 life insurance policy.

Ohio Harness Racing Association Organized

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Nov. 25 (AP)—Organization of an Ohio harness horsemen's association was announced here today. Group spokesmen said it will "promote and work with public and racing officials in the betterment of harness horse racing and to protect the public in Ohio."

C. I. Powell, former state senator from Springfield, was named temporary president.

U.S. Trotting Assn. by-laws provide for the recognition of such groups if membership totals at least 100, Powell said.

In the oil industry, there are 243 companies engaged in the manufacture of lubricants and greases.

These Days

By George Sokolsky

Igor Gouzenko is a Russian, formerly connected with the Soviet mission as a code clerk, who decided to turn decent, gave himself up to the Royal Canadian Mounted Police and provided the key to the Canadian spy ring. Canada then offered Gouzenko sanctuary in Canada where he now lives under an assumed name, hidden from public view.

It is now eight years since Gouzenko disappeared from public view.

Meanwhile he wrote a book which was quite interesting but obviously did not cover the subject, for shortly after Gouzenko turned himself over to the Canadian authorities, the story goes that Prime Minister Mackenzie King rushed to this country and handed President Truman a list of names of Americans who were spying upon this country.

WHAT PRESIDENT Truman did with this list, if anything, has not been made known to the public. Mackenzie King is dead. The only men who can tell about this are Igor Gouzenko and Lester Pearson.

The Canadian minister for external affairss, Lester Pearson, has evidenced considerable antagonism to the United States and to American policy. He has been in favor of recognizing Red China in the United Nations and has not backed the United States in any major policies.

In fact, for the first time in the long history between Canada and the United States, the splendid relations between the two countries have deteriorated since Lester Pea son has become its minister for external affairs.

IT IS NO SECRET that among the interesting items in Elizabeth Bentley's testimony before the Jenner Committee were astonishing references to Lester Pearson. This was in executive session and has not been made public up to this writing.

Herbert E. Norman, associated with Lester Pearson in the Canadian Foreign Office, and now Canadian high commissioner to New Zealand, however, was discussed in open hearings in the investigation of the Institute of Pacific Relations.

He had been in Tokyo as a language officer in the Canadian legation. Edward C. Carter advised Owen Lattimore to have Norman write for "Pacific Affairs" under a nom de plume.

Carter wrote to an associate in the Institute on September 5, 1940:

"Any very secret messages might be sent him care of Herbert Norman at the Canadian Legation . . ." (The "him" is presumed to be Philip Jessup.)

HERBERT E. NORMAN became the Canadian minister to Tokyo during the MacArthur period in Japan. Dr. Karl Wittfogel identified Norman as a Communist, associated with him in a Communist study group that met on Cape Cod in 1938.

This is the colloquy:

"Dr. Wittfogel—There was a talented and pleasant young man who was studying in the Japanese department at Columbia. His name is Herbert Norman.

"Mr. Morris—Was he a member of this study group?

"Dr. Wittfogel—Yes.

"Mr. Morris—To your knowledge, did he know that it was a Communist study group?

"Dr. Wittfogel—Yes. It was obvious.

"Mr. Morris—To you.

"Dr. Wittfogel—I think it was obvious in general.

"Mr. Morris—Was it obvious, therefore, that he was a Communist?

"Dr. Wittfogel—Yes."

(E. C. Carter called Wittfogel's testimony slanderous.)

UNDER LESTER PEARSON, Herbert E. Norman has become a leading figure in the Canadian Foreign Office, particularly with regard to Far Eastern affairs.

As the principal difference between Canada and the United States is over Korea, Formosa and the recognition of Red China in the United Nations, Norman becomes important in the picture.

The question then arises: Why has the Canadian Foreign Office made it so difficult for Gouzenko to come to Washington to testify?

In Gouzenko's book, "The Iron Curtain," it is stated that he is a British subject.

As a Canadian, he is free to come or not to come to the United States. Why, then, does he require a special permit? Is he a prisoner?

The Canadian minister, Lester Pearson, needs to make this perfectly clear because it is apparent from Gouzenko's conversation with a Chicago Tribune reporter that Gouzenko wants to come to the United States to testify.

Bar on Travel Between Zones Off in Germany

FRANKFURT, Germany, Nov. 25 (AP)—Germans traveled between East and West Germany today without interzonal passes for the first time since 1945.

But major highway and rail crossing points reported traffic was less than usual "because many on both sides of the border still won't believe" the eight-year-old restrictions are lifted.

Started After War

The pass requirements were established by the four occupation powers soon after World War II as a means of controlling travel between East and West Germany.

The West German government abolished travel permit requirements for East Germans going to West Germany more than a week ago when the three Western Allies abandoned the interzonal pass system.

The Allies ruled that only regular identification cards would be necessary for East Germans to enter West Germany.

Registration Required

East Germany's Communist government followed suit in dropping the interzonal passes, effective last midnight, but retained control through new requirements.

The Communists require that Germans register with the Communist People's police and obtain special personal identification cards to travel West.

At Helmstedt, Laurenberg and Hof, main crossing points, travelers were reported moving across the border "without a hitch."

TWO ARRESTS REPORTED

Two traffic arrests Wednesday were reported by city police. Rudy Thomas Pursley, 37, of near Caledonia, charged with operating a motor vehicle with fictious license plates posted a $35 bond for appearance in Municipal Court Friday. Frank X. Dendinger, 45, charged with having no safety chains on his trailer, pleaded guilty in Municipal Court Wednesday and was fined $15 and costs.

Marion Area Women Attend Church Meeting

Members from Marion and the area who were delegates to the recent sessions of the Third Quadrennial of the Women's Guild, Evangelical and Reformed Church in Cleveland, included a Marion woman and a Kenton woman who served on national committees during the meeting. They were Mrs. L. H. Ludwig of Salem Church in Marion who was a member of the committee on recommendations and overtures, and Mrs. Stanley Fretz of Kenton who was chairman of the committee on tellers.

Others in the group from this section were Mrs. E. T. Henzel and Mrs. R. H. Stratton, both of Prospect, Mrs. R. R. Elliker of Galion, and Mrs. E. E. Zechiel, Mrs. Paul Rohrbaugh, and Mrs. Ira Franz, all of Upper Sandusky. They were among more than 2,100 delegates representing 365,000 women of the denomination.

Theme of the meeting was "Unto the Stature of Christ," and nationally known speakers included Mrs. James D. Wyker, president of the National Council of Church Women. Christian social action, world service, evangelism and stewardship were discussed. A budget of $265,000 for the next four-year period was approved. Mrs. Guy Benchoff of Woodstock, Va., was elected president for the quadrennium.

John Gantt, Marion student at Heidelberg College at Tiffin, was a member of the school's Concert Choir which was heard at the banquet which the women attended at Hotel Cleveland.

THIS IS RIDICULOUS

WICHITA, Kan. (UP)—William J. Pio survived combat as an infantryman in the South Pacific in World War II, an earthquake and tidal wave during post-war occupation in Japan, more action in Korea and the crash of a B-36. Hunting and golfing while visiting Wichita friends, Pio got blood poisoning that sent him to the Wichita Air Force Base hospital. He cut a finger on a cockelburr.

SENTENCED TO PRISON

CINCINNATI, Nov. 25 (AP) — Eugene V. Sokoll, 18, Canton, Ohio, today was sentenced to Ohio Reformatory for an indeterminate sentence on his plea of guilty to defrauding an inn keeper and issuing checks against insufficient funds. Sentence was pronounced by Criminal Court Judge Ottis R. Hess.

Let Us Bow Our Heads in THANKS...

Today, in the spirit of the first Thanksgiving, let us give thanks to the Creator for all the blessings we have received . . . both as individuals and as Americans . . . a free people, living without fear in a free country. Like the Pilgrim Fathers, let us humbly acknowledge our debt to Divine Providence for all that we are and may hope to become. Like them, let us bow our heads in a prayer of gratitude to the Giver of "every good and perfect gift."

How better express the gratitude that is in your heart than to gather with family and friends in Church on Thanksgiving Day?

Miles Standish Returns

Pilgrim Spends Thanksgiving in '53

HOMETOWN, U.S.A. (AP)—Let us suppose that Miles Standish, military leader of the Pilgrim Fathers, miraculously returns to life to spend Thanksgiving in a modern American city.

"Where are all the indians?"

Miles steps into the street. A passing car knocks him sprawling to the pavement.

"Devil's chariot!" shouts Standish. He lifts his blunderbuss and shoots out the tires of three more cars before he runs out of ammunition, and retreats to the curb, where other pedestrians break into cheers and shake his hand.

One of them is Wilbur Peeble, America's average husband, who decides to take Miles home for a free meal, although he thinks the old boy is a bit balmy.

They go by bus, and the driver wants to call a cop when Miles puts a shilling in the box.

"This guy claims he's Miles Standish," explains Wilbur.

"I don't care if he's Robert E. Lee," said the driver, "he don't pass counterfeit money on my bus." Wilbur gave the driver a buck to quiet him.

"What are we playing—charades?" asked Trellis Mae Peeble, when she opens the door.

"Capt. Miles Standish, at your service," says the soldier.

"Yeah, and I am Priscilla," jeers Trellis Mae.

"You are?" asked the captain, uncertainly. "My, Priscilla, you look so much older—and you have indeed put on weight. You used to be such a pretty wench."

Well, Wilbur finally soothes her, settles Miles in a living room chair and calms him with a dry martini, which the captain laps eagerly, murmuring:

"My, when did we get these in the colony?"

"A bounteous repast," says Miles later, when he is seated at the Thanksgiving dinner, and as he wolfs his way through the turkey Trellis Mae mutters, "Why the poor old bum is really hungry. He acts like he hasn't eaten for three hundred years."

When Wilbur switches on the TV set Miles takes one look at the screen and then rushes over, his blunderbuss upraised, ready to club it. He is talked out of this and then watches it, falling asleep during the program and waking up and cheering when the beer commercials come on.

"Help me with the dishes," says Trellis Mae. And before going into the kitchen, Wilbur switches off the TV set and hands Miles a newspaper to read.

When they return, Miles points at the date on the newspaper, and demands:

"Is this verily the year, 1953, and are all these accounts of the doings of the world as chronicled in this gazette true, or merely devil dreams?"

"Oh, they're true," says Wilbur.

Miles immediately puts on his tall hat, shoulders his blunderbuss, marches to the door, opens it, and asks:

"Will you direct me to the nearest seacoast?"

"Why?" says Wilbur.

"I want to board the Mayflower," says the captain, "and sail away. If you see any Indians, give them my apologies. I didn't know how it would all turn out."

Rehearsals Scheduled Half Hour Early Sunday

Singers taking part in rehearsals for presentation by the Civic Chorus of the oratorio, "The Messiah," will meet a half hour earlier on Sunday afternoon, at 2:30 instead of 3. Choir robes loaned by churches whose choir members are singing are to be at Epworth Methodist Church, the place of the practice, at 2:15, it was announced. The earlier time is necessary, it was explained, because of arrangements to have the group photographed.

Patron and patroness committee workers from the various churches in charge of financing the production which will be given for the public Sunday night, Dec. 6, at Epworth Church, are headed by Miss Ferol M. Burley and Miss Betty Leib. The list includes Paul Foster of Asbury Methodist, Miss Dorothy Duckworth, Calvary EUB, Miss Leib, Central Christian, Mrs. Raymond Pierce, Christian Science, O. M. Rowley, Church of God, William Ackerman, Emanuel Lutheran, Mrs. M. C. Kennedy, Epworth, Miss Jeanne Bibbee, First Church of the Brethren, Miss Dorothea N. Hoffhein, First Church of the Nazarene, Mrs. J. Paul Goebel, First Evangelical and Reformed, Mrs. Fred E. Scott, First EUB, Mrs. E. W. Warwick, First Presbyterian, Ted Pollock Fite Memorial Baptist, Mrs. R. H. Montgomery, Forest Lawn Presbyterian, John Forry, Morral Methodist, Ernest Allen, Mt. Funds Distributed By State Auditor

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Nov. 25 (AP)—State Auditor James A. Rhodes today distributed $7,981 in federal funds in lieu of property taxes on land removed from the tax duplicate for flood control purposes.

The money came from the U.S. Army Engineers and represents 75 per cent of the receipts from flood control lands in Ohio for the 1953 fiscal year.

Rhodes made this distribution: Muskingum County $5,211, Licking $1,148, Tuscarawas $468, Portage $538, Delaware $313, Stark $159, Ashland $60, Mahoning $60 and Coshocton $21.

County commissioners in turn distribute their shares among the taxing districts adversely affected by the removal of lands from the tax duplicate. This is in proportion to the loss suffered by each taxing district.

The Ford Motor Co. paid approximately $10,000,000,000 in wages and salaries in the first 50 years of its operations from 1903 to 1952. More than $722,000,000 of this was paid in 1952.

Man Fined $200 On Traffic Charges

A Marion man was fined a total of $200 and sentenced to five days in the Marion County jail when he pleaded guilty in Municipal Court yesterday to charges of drunken driving and leaving the scene of an accident.

Arrested following an accident at E. Center St. and Kensington Pl. at 10:43 a.m. Saturday, Charles L. Lipcomb, 25, of Keytown Camp first pleaded not guilty the same day in Municipal Court. He then posted a $250 bond and was released to appear for a hearing on the charges Wednesday afternoon.

In addition to the jail term and fine, Lipcomb's driver's license was suspended for three years.

Another motorist charged with drunken driving failed to show up for a hearing in Municipal Court Tuesday afternoon and his $150 bond was ordered forfeit by Judge Hazen Wednesday. He was James H. Baker, 25, of Dearborn, Mich., arrested at 9:07 p.m. last Friday on N. Main St.

CITY MANAGER RESIGNS

CINCINNATI, Nov. 25 (AP) — City Manager W. R. Kellogg resigned today effective at the will of the City Council but not later than Dec. 31. He will be 70 next Jan. 9. He has been city manager of Cincinnati for 10 years. No reason for the resignation was given in the letter.

TWO DRIVERS ARRESTED

Two motorists were issued citations for traffic violations Wednesday by highway patrolmen from the Marion post. Eugene D. Zbrezny, 18, of Lorain was ordered to appear in Municipal Court Dec. 5 to answer a charge of failing to obey a stop sign. William E. Ballinger, 63, of near West Mansfield was ordered to appear in court Saturday. He was charged with passing on a yellow line at a railroad crossing.

Furniture and Appliances Make Fine Family Gifts

Entire Household Gains Lasting Benefits in Improved Living

Among the best gifts at Christmas are practical presents for the home—gifts that a family can share, and use for years to come. Every time the family uses the gift they'll feel "Christmasy" all over again.

Everyone will benefit, for instance, from a new reclining easy chair. If you haven't been to your furniture dealers recently, you'll be amazed at recent improvements. The newest models, based on scientific principles, guarantee the best in relaxation and are sure to become the favorite spot in your living room.

SINCE THE ENTIRE family has frequent clothes-mending needs, you can't go wrong with a modern electric sewing machine. The latest portable and cabinet models can do almost any type of stitching automatically. The new mechines are very attractive, well designe and one can even be installed as a kitchen unit in a gleaming pull-out cabinet.

Besides being so useful, this particular gift is economical in the long run. In many cases, with Mom or Sis learning to make their own clothes, it pays for itself in a year or less.

ALSO TAILOR-MADE as a Yuletide gift, as eating is a favorite household pastime is a colorful serving cart. Useful, too, as a work table, the cart is mounted on smooth-rolling casters and is stain, scratch and heat-resistant.

For year-round comfortable living, treat the family to that healthful room air conditioner that they dreamed about so much last summer. A novel and ppractical present, it ventilates, circulates and filters the air, with or without cooling and dehumidifying.

A FAMILY OF music-lovers will spend many happy hours with a new three-speed phonograph. Some recent models feature high-fidelity units, and one model has a novel "moving light" arrangement that lets you see when the record isn't playing at its exact recorded pitch and tempo so you can make the necessary speed adjustments.

The family that includes school children will also appreciate a desk and matching chair. Well-worth seeing is a new styling in matched walnut woods, with double-size partitioned bottom drawer and sturdy foam rubber chair seat.

DON'T OVERLOOK extra foam rubber cushions and pads that add novelty to your gift-giving and comfort to your life.

Less expensive than these is a package of washcloths and towels that you can personalize by use of your sewing machine with the name of each family member. Or a practical electric home haircutting set—clippers, shears, comb and instruction book, all in a leather case—which will save countless barbering fees.

All in all, the number and variety of gifts for the home is tremendous. And the best way to find out exactly which ones will make your favorite people the happiest is to start right now to eavesdrop on family conversations.

Calling Cards Popular Gifts With Young Men

A lasting gift for any young man—or his father—is a box of personal calling cards. You can have your local printing shop make up an etched name plate in any type style and have the cards printed with it.

The plate will last for years and thousands of reprints. And your gift will last as long as the name you have inscribed.

There are more than seven million items used in the construction of a modern submarine, according to Electric Boat, Division of General Dynamics Corporation, largest private submarine builders in the United States.

Festive Atmosphere

City's Streets Decorated for Holidays

Decorations in tune with the season now adorn the streets of Marion. They were erected Monday by members of the Retail Merchants Division of the Marion Chamber of Commerce in cooperation with members of electrical unions in town.

The decorations add to the festive spirit which will embrace the city and country for the next month. The lights are due to be turned on for full operation tonight. They will burn every night until the decorations are taken down after New Year's Day.

THE JOB OF erecting the decorations required skill, time and patience. On Nov. 17, members of the Retail Merchants Division gathered at the Ohio Fuel Gas Co. on Leader St. to clean and repair the apparatus.

They were assisted then as on last Monday by electricians who donated their time and services. Not only were the decorations cleaned and repaired, but they also were arranged and separated so they could be taken from their storage space this week.

Members also spent some time im wrapping pine rope around the stringers which are arranged above Main and Center Streets.

IN ALL, there are over 100 pieces of decorations on the city streets this year. Included in these, are 10 new pole plaques which were purchased this year to replace some of the older plaques.

These plaques are round and illuminated from the inside. The old ones were lit with bulbs arranged around the outside edges. The Chamber aims to continue its purchasing of new equipment in an effort to improve the decorations.

Under the supervision of LeRoy Clauer, who was in charge of all Christmas decorations this year, the Chamber and its voluntary assistants decorated Main and Center Sts. with the ornaments which are designed to bring the spirit of Christmas a little closer to the minds of people.

ALSO HELPING in the project were the Ohio Edison Co. and the General Telephone Co. The two companies donated the use of their trucks and men for the operation Monday night.

Bells were stretched across Center St. at the Marion Water Co. office on the east and Park Blvd. on the west. On Main St., two more sets of large bells were placed at the railroda tracks and the Ohio Edison Co. office.

Between these sets of bells, the stringers and pole plaques have been spaced to provide a good balance and scenic beauty.

ANOTHER PIECE of equipment which was erected Monday, one which the children watch with interest, is the Santa Claus headquarters. Now located on the Court House lawn, the building is empty. It will remain empty until after the Christmas parade Saturday when Santa Claus will take up his post inside and remain there, talking to children, until he leaves on Christmas Eve for his trip to the rest of the world.

Officials of the Chamber place great stress on the work done by the electricians. They point out the men work without pay helping to get the electrical wiring in perfect order, and without their efforts, the project would be almost too much for the members to handle.

Photographs Give Lasting Enjoyment

Photographs are perennial favorites on Christmas gift lists. And rightly so, for they're especially welcomed by loved ones, and enjoyed countless times in years to come.

This type of gift is particularly appropriate for a young girl to give to her boy friend, or vice versa. Or for a serviceman to give to his family. But its usage has few limitations.

Why not, for instance, arrange a date with a photographer and have a group photograph taken of the entire family of a friend. Group photos of this type are always treasured, but few families actually get around to having one taken.

When presenting photographs as a gift, it's always wise to present one or two wallet-size prints in addition to a large, framed print. Most persons like to carry their favorite photos around with them and display them to friends and acquaintances.

Marion Stores Display Wide Variety of Toys

Games, Dolls, Cowboy And Homemaking Sets Featured Prominently

Marion merchants are well prepared to handle the demands of Christmas shoppers this year. Their stockrooms have been well filled with supplies to meet the needs and wishes of local buyers.

With the annual rush near at hand, merchants have already begun to bring out merchandise which will be featured this season. Stores along downtown streets have installed their Christmas trimmings in windows and will vary the displays in the windows from time to time.

Preparation for the Christmas season begin early in most stores. Goods must be ordered as early in some cases as July. In addition, packing boxes, gift wrapping material, decorations, and other details which make an efficient operation must be readied well in advance of the actual start of Christmas shopping.

Store buyers are on the lookout for gift suggestions which might prove popular many months in advance of the actual rush. With the ever changing styles in women's wear, some of men's clothing, and children's toys, department and toy stores must be awake to the changing trends and be prepared to meet the demands of the customers.

Department store people must also be aware that some things which are popular in July will lose their popularity by the time Christmas rolls around. A long-range view of the likes and tastes of their customers guides them in their selection of articles for Christmas use.

Some stores have already arranged to hire extra help for the holiday season. These "extras" will serve as sales persons and office help to relieve some of the burden which would otherwise fall on the regular personnel.

With the combination of plentiful supplies of goods, sufficient manpower, and the desire on the part of customers to make their purchases as soon as possible, merchants are looking forward to a busy holiday season again this year.

Children Build Toys

Hobby Kits Being Given Big Play This Christmas

Toys and hobby kits that scale history down to model size seem slated for a big play this Christmas. Santa's 1953 pack contains a generous sprinkling of build it yourself kits, made to order for youngsters' enjoyment. There are, among others, kits for construction of Civil War locomotives, 18th Century coal stoves, Colonial tester beds, Salem rockers, and Pennsylvania Dutch wardrobes, (ideal for dolls with old-fashioned ideas). Transportation rolls right under the Christmas tree in the form of every type of early American transportation, from the surrey-with-the-fringe-on-top, to the Stanley steamer.

THE GENERAL, famous battle locomotive of Civil War days, is featured in a kit with 60 all-plastic numbered pieces along with an all-plastic set of its Confederate opposite number, a hand-car that figured in the battle of the rails. Both these scale models are designed to run on O-gauge track when assembled. A leaflet is included giving the history of these famous Civil War models.

Young collectors, 1953 vintage have a zealous, accurate appreciation of the fine points of antique vehicles and other Americana that used to be strictly the concern of adult antiquarains.

COLLECTORS' ITEMS such as an authentic scale-model prairie schooner are featured in the stores. A Springfield freighter and a ranch buggy-large enough for real play activity, are also available Booklets telling the history of these pioneer vehicles are included with the toys.

There's growing enthusiasm too, for models of old-time sulkies, buggies and coaches and for models of all the early day automobiles, all reproduced for play in authentic scale-model detail.

HISTORY comes alive for children with scale model kits. This one's "The General," famous Civil War locomotive. Pieces are plastic, numbered for easy assembling.

There's a boom in period furniture for playroom and doll house use. For dolls there's a complete bedroom set in Colonial style including a tester bed for a big doll. And the line of old-time coal and wood stoves with cast-iron pots and coal scuttles is another phase of the revival of early Americana in toy form. Their accurate detail meets the most exacting standards of adult antiquarians.

Government Gives Insect Study Funds

BERKELEY, Calif. (UP) — The federal government has granted the University of California $6,000 for a study of tiiny, pouch-like organs carried by insects which, scientists say, may lead to "new measures of insect control."

Edward A. Steinhaus, director of the university's pathology laboratory, said the grant will be used to study exactly how insects are dependent on the organs and their significance in terms of insect control.

The organs, called mycetomes, contain micro-organisms, named symbiotes, which apparently produce vitamins and hormones and "fix" nitrogen, Steinhaus said.

"If we can learn how to disrupt the beneficial actions of these symbiotes," Steinhaus said, "we may be able to achieve new measures of insect control."

Many birds have little or no sense of smell.

Today's Christmas Cards Gayer Than Ever Before

Traditional Themes Still Among Most Used For Holiday Greetings

But in 1842 a 16-year-old engraver's apprentice, named Egley, designed and printed 100 copies of the world's first Christmas card—and no one even blinked an eye.

MODERN AUTHORITIES believe their failure to attract any buyers was due to the lack of any coloring, a feature that Christmas card designers have emphasized ever since.

Egley was evidently discouraged, and finally stopped his work after repeated warnings that "nothing so unconventional can ever win popular support." But 20 years later, a London firm revived this then new form of holiday greeting.

The most popular Christmas card designs of this era had little Christmas significance. Instead, they portrayed summer flowers, children playing, seascapes and even lightly clad nymphs.

IN 1875, AN Irish firm published the first truly religious designs. They formed a set of four Christmas cards picturing colorful scenes of the Nativity.

That same year a Boston lithographer, Louis Prang, published the first American Christmas cards. Once again, it was several years before Christmas cards captured the public's fancy.

With the 20th century a new era in Christmas cards began. Several large publishing firms were established, and Yankee ingenuity developed better reproduction processes. But the big boom came shortly after World War I.

By then, Christmas card production was soaring.

TODAY, THE chances of your receiving any two Christmas cards exactly alike are extremely small. There are an estimated 25,000 different card designs—another reason why the Christmas card custom has become an inseparable part of our Yuletide traditions.

Today's Christmas greetings are gayer and friendlier than ever. Their color schemes are softer and mistier. And our centuries-old Yuletide customs and symbols are featured in a great majority of the new designs.

By way of contrast, Christmas card designs with striking full-color reproductions of famous Rennaissance paintings are also available. Reproductions of the works of old masters are great favorites.

AMONG THE many cards with religious themes, there are several which show heavenly choirs of angels singing traditional hymns, some illustrate the Flight Into Egypt, and others depict the Three Wise Men bringing their gifts to the Holy Child.

Traditional themes are still popular. Sidewalk choirs singing Christmas carols, softly glowing candles, outdoor Christmas trees and sleighrides in the country.

Kodachrome photographs are especially popular this year. They, too, picture the familiar scenes of an old-fashioned Christmas — a snow-covered road lined with birch trees, or gaily-wrapped gifts stacked around a living room. In some cards, the photo may be replaced with a picture of the sender's family, or a familiar hometown scene.

Intricate Controls Featured

New Equipment Out for Model Trains

With the dawn of Christmas across the nation, living rooms will again become train yards; dining-room tables, trestles; and the best carpet a road-bed for young trackwalkers (and their fathers).

Model railroading, running on schedule and household electric current, is more than just feet of tracks and engines drawing cars. Model towns, loading platforms, stations, passengers and freight add to the realism of the tiny roads, and are sure-fire gift pleasers.

INTRICATE CONTROL panels and transformers make fine presents for the lad or lass whose train set has plenty of cars and track. With the aid of these devices, the parlor engineer can switch cars, turn lights off and on, lower crossing gates, all by remote control, and make the model world more real.

New thrills in electric trains include a railroad trestle set with molded abutments that resemble girder construction. There's a miniature miners' work train with a worm-drive electric-powered handcar and three tipple cars. The cars can be loaded with coal or ballast. A new device now makes it possible for a locomotive to pull 40 cars up a 35-degree grade.

NEW TO JUNIOR railroading, too, is a "corkscrew" roadbed that can replace nearly 200 feet of track-cluttered floor with a spiral, compact right-of-way. Four trains can run this course at the same time with ingenious signal blocks coordinating travel and preventing crackups.

The "corkscrew" can be put together by any industrious dad. And it makes a good gift for apartment dwellers or folks with limited play area at home.

And the model pike can be equipped in miniature with almost any type of car that rolls the life-size rails. Rolling stock is reproduced in faithful detail, from sleek shiny Pullmans and diners right on through the whole line of freight equipment.

Be Sure Your Packages Meet With Regulations

There's nothing more annoying, or needless, at Christmas time than to cart a large bundle of gift packages to the postoffice and then have one or two rejected when they fail to meet postal regulations.

To avoid this irritation, it's wise to consult your local postoffice ahead of time, especially before wrapping anything large, to acquaint yourself with the rules.

In general, packages you send parcel post (fourth class) must be packed in sturdy, tight containers and wrapped with strong cord and paper. No rattling is allowed.

Forest Growth Aided by Yule Tree Removal

Thinning Speeds Up Development, Say U.S. Timber Experts

According to the American Forest Products Industries, it's just not so that the annual harvest of young evergreen trees (for the use as Christmas trees) is a wasteful practice.

This organization explains further that nearly half of the 21-million evergreens that make up the Ameican Christmas tree harvest are farm-produced .

Nearly nine-tenths of the entire Christmas tree crop is cut on privately-owned timberland. In addition, about five million evergreens are imported annually — most of them from Canada.

In any case, most of the American crop of Christmas trees are thinned from natural-growth forests. An original stand of from five to ten thousand trees will actally mature only a few hundred saw-log size trees.

Most of the trees cut at Christmas eventually would have been eliminated in the life-and-death struggle for forest space.

Americans have definite preference in Christmas trees, with the best seller being the balsam fir, a product of the Northeast. Six and one-half million of these are sold each year. Second most popular is the Douglas fir, with black spruce, following in that order, as American's favorites.

Teachers' First Wages Above Business Girls'

EVANSTON, Ill. (UP) — Women teachers make more money in their first jobs than college graduates who choose a business career, a survey of 1953 graduates of the National College of Education shows.

The survey by a group of businessmen associated with the colleges showed the average teaching salary offered a graduate was $3,200 for a 10-month year. The range was from $2,950 to $3,800.

The average salary offered by 21 Chicago area business firms was $2,904 for a 12-month year.

Albin Carlson, survey director and executive vice-president of Associated Telephone and Telegraph Co., said, "The survey satisfied us that beginning salaries for women teachers are adequate as compared with business. It is generally known that the top in business, of course, will be much more than the top in teaching, but few women are interested in a lifetime career.

Presents of Lingerie and Fine Clothing Rate High With Women

Gift Certificate Is Handy If You're Not Sure Of Size or Styles

If there were to be a count of the remarks made over newly-opened Christmas gift boxes, the highest tally would go to:

"Ohhh, I love beautiful lingerie and never buy it for myself."

And in that comment lies the cue to women's gifts at Yuletide.

The girl probably does not live who cannot be made to feel like a pampered princess with a gift of lingerie. And years ago it was only the princess who could afford to own — and launder — what is now available to all in nightgowns, peignoirs, petticats, slips, panties, bedjackets, pajamas.

One leading lingerie company has a boudoir coat over a pleated gown, that has gold leaves printed on it. Both coat and gown are nylon—the man-made wonder that has revolutionized lingerie.

NYLON GARMENTS are available with nylon lace trimmings, nylon net, embroidery, velvet. In this fabric, everything washes easily and dries quickly.

Lingerie is a personal gift, so be sure you know for whom the gift is intended. People who should not receive lingerie from a man are: The boss' wife, the boss' sister, the boss' daughter (unless you're married to her) or the boss.

Aside from luxury items, useful gifts of clothing can be attractive, too. A new, lightweight raincoat; a sports shirt; a pair of casual gloves; a woolen skating cap can bring the same "ohhh" from your lady.

In buying women's clothes, it's a good idea to stay away from the outfits that require definite measurements unless you know them exactly.

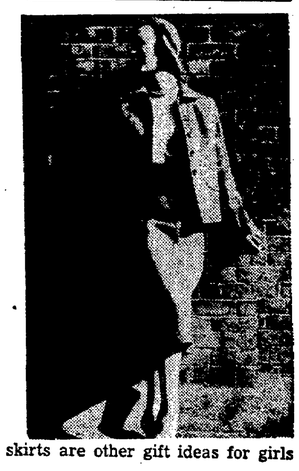
MANY STORES have gift certificates that will enable the lady to choose and fit her clothes at her leisure—after you've paid for them. But for the woman whose measurements you know, whose tastes and style you understand, the Wool Bureau has come up with two ensembles that can serve as guideposts to your Christmas choice.

The weskit skirt, and shirt ensemble of lightweight wool tweed is new this year. It's a striped and flecked design in navy with white, red and powder blue. The skirt is in matching powder blue.

To complement the colors and design, there is a wide red belt of plastic leather. The same material makes the buttons and piping on peg pockets. The skirt has a kick-pleat in back. And the long-sleeved shirt has an overcollar of white cotton, basted for easy removal.

PETTICOAT FEVER is back, with yards of ruffles and the rustle of femininity. Lingerie, a very personal gift, should be selected with propriety. New sheer, strong fabrics make it a useful gift.



SCARVES, STOLES, SUITS and skirts are other gift ideas for girls and women.

ABOVE RIGHT: Draped like a ruff, this gift scarf of satin runs in a planet-whirl design. Its 24 inches of satin fills in for many outfits.

ANOTHER GIFT-RIGHT ensemble is a practical all-wool boucle suit in mauve-gray flecked with pink nubs and matched by a pull-over sweater in pink. This suit has banded set-in pockets which match the narrow cuffs of the sleeves. Five buttons rise to a small, youthful collar.

The straight skirt has a slightly high-rise waistband, trouser tucks in front and a shallow kick-pleat in back.

And if you're still at a loss for a clothing gift suggestion, there's th ever-ready, stand-by, all-American sweater. In every color in the rainbow, in every texture under the sun, in all kinds of weaves, the pull-over sweater is still a good gift.

Everyone Has Own Ideas on Tree Trimming

When it comes to trimming the Christmas tree—you, like many others, probably have some very definite ideas of your own, If you haven't, the following suggestions may prove welcome as well as practical.

The trend seems to be, as always, towards as large a Christmas tree as the room will permit. The old-fashioned, floor - to - ceiling tree is still the standby in many homes, and, where space is available, a big tree is always most cheerful and "Christmas-y."

You may be one of those fortunates who remembers the tree trimmed with garlands of popcorn, or lots of cranberries, or both. Maybe you still find a tree "bare" without a manger or ice skating scene beneath it to simply amplify your feeling of Christmas.

To some extent the type and size of tree used depends on the section of the country. People in the Northeast and East favor the big, long-needled balsam, while the South and West prefer the Southern and the Douglas fir.

Many families like happily-lighted trees, decorated with multi-colored glass ornaments of all sizes, shapes, and colors topped with a gaily large gold or silver star.

BLOCKS BUILD FUN

Clear plastic blocks for small children are an ideal gift for the young child. Sturdy, washable, well - nigh unbreakable; each block has a small toy inside, keeps baby fascinated.

MISTLETOE'S POWER

Mistletoe was thought to have magic powers by the ancient Druids, and many a young man today believes the same at Christmas when he kisses his girl beneath the ancient symbolic decoration.

Teach Good Habits

Housekeeping Toys Get Children on Right Track

From at least one spot under the Christmas tree comes evidence that this is "Be Kind to Parents Year."

Come Christmas, Santa will deliver a variety of "good habit" toys, involving ingenious techniques devised to add fun value to such basic activities as tooth-brushing, tidy eating, and careful ablutions.

Tackling the deplorable and nearly universal habit of youngsters to drop used towels on the floor, one toy designer offers a gay tiger whose teeth serve as a clamp to hold the towel.

Shining up the shoes of all members of the family should become fascinating to Junior with a new shiny red bootblack's kit that's also a bank.

A merry clown camouflages the toothbrush-toothpaste-glass combination that youngsters find so easy to overlook, and a good-habit chest gives a gay toy motive to a junior-size medicine chest that can be secured to the bathroom wall alongside the family's first-aid cabinet.

Keeping the nursery clean will qualify as a number one play activity with a new kit which includes mop, pail, scrubbing brush and all the accessories needed to keep floors spic and span. This kit also includes a roll of linoleum.

To encourage more enthusiastic cooperation from the younger set at bedtime, there's a blinky-eyed animal that doubles as a bedside lamp.

YOUNGER SET will learn chores and help mother with new miniature housekeeping toys. This one has mop, pail, soap and piece of flooring to be cleaned.

Card Exchange Pleasing Habit

Greetings Range From Informal to Dignified

Exchanging Christmas wishes with friends by sending gay greeting cards, is one of our most heart-warming holiday customs. A wide range of styles prevails in cards, from the very informal to the most dignified greeting.

This brings up the matter of the proper way to sign Christmas cards that seems to confuse many people.

The type of card and the person to whom you're sending it should determine the signature used.

If your card is a cheery greeting to close friends, it should be signed simply with your first name Mary; or, if married, Mary and George, followed by the last name.

With married couples, the one signing the cards always writes his or her name last. If the cards bear a printed signature, the wife's name is always first.

If there are several children in the family, it is usually perferable to have your cards signed or printed simply as a family; for example, "The Smiths."

When sending greetings to business acquaintances, it is permissable to use the formal signature Mr. and Mrs.—cards of this sort should be printed and the card, itself, should be of the formal type.

Sequins, Tinsel Add Glitter to Christmas Packages

Discarded Jewelry, Bits Of Ribbon, Bells Can Glamorize Gifts

It's all a matter of care. For the thought and sentiment that go into giving some small item at Christmas can be as heartfelt as the love represented by a far more costly gift.

And the love that goes into the gift should be reflected in the wrapping. It needn't be expensive and it's fun to experiment. All that's needed is a little imagination plus a few cents' worth of material.

Dip into your box of costume jewelry for decorations and utilize the discards. Nearly everyone has odd pearls, broken bits of jewelry with brightly colored stones or stray earings that can be used effectively on little packages.

SEQUINS FROM the dime store, from an old cocktail dress or a discarded evening bag go a long way in glamorizing a gift.

These are sprinkled on the sticky side of cellophane tape for a bedazzling multicolored effect and used just like ribbon on the package.

Don't throw away your broken Christmas tree ornaments—wrap in paper, crush them under a rolling pin and use them the same as sequins on the adhesive side of tansparent tape. All this adds up to a totally unexpected and exciting look in gift wrapping.

For novelty touches, crepe paper lends itself admirable for odd shaped boxes—so do gold lace doilies.

Don't be afraid to experiment. Among your working materials include tiny Christmas tree balls, a length of tinsel, glass beads, gold stars, cellophane tape with holiday designs, short lengths of left-over ribbons in various colors and widths and whatever else pleases your fancy.

WRAPPING FOR A pair o earring may be topped by miniature butterflies, for instance. These are made by fashioning the wings from two widths of transparent tape, fastened to florists' wire and dipped in glitter and sequins.

A tiny jewelled fan for a small box takes the spotlight. It is made simply by edging a small strip of crepe paper with cellophane tape, allowing half the gummed side to extend beyond the edge of the crepe paper. Dust with sequins and glitter, then pleat into fan shape.

A lipstick or possible a cigaret holder in a cylindrical container reaches a new high in glamour when it is partially encased in a gold doily and held in place with a holiday design cellophane tape studded with sequins.

Make a miniature spiral Christmas tree by inserting wire between two layers of cellophane tape, one gummed side out. Dunk in glitter and sequins.

Easy Gift Target

Car Owners Appreciate Automobile Accessories

A person who does a lot of driving or takes obvious pride in his car is an extra-easy gift target at Christmas. Give him something to spruce up his auto, or to make his driving easier and safer, and he'll thank you many times over.

So many folks have come to realize this that the neighborhood gas stations and auto accessories stores have become specialized gift shops. Stop off there on your shopping tour and chances are you'll be amazed at the array of useful gifts, in a wide range of prices, that are on display.

IF YOU CHECK first to see if the person you're buying for needs any of them, old standbys such as tires, bumper jacks, mirrors, hood ornaments, repair kits and seat covers are certain to be welcomed.

But even more suitable as presents are the so-called auto "gadgets"—practical devices of clever design that add to motoring pleasure, and often contribute to safety.

One item is a safety light that plugs into the cigar lighter. Equipped with an extra long cord to reach any part of the car, it will come in mighty handy the next time a motorist friend has a breakdown at night.

Four other items which make good gift suggestions (and, remember, there are dozens more) are as follows:

A WATCH THAT mounts on the steering wheel and winds itself automatically as the wheel is turned.

A little magnetized box, for holding an extra key, which can be stuck to any hidden part of the car.

An upholstery brush with built-in rubber squeegee for window washing and a brass blade for scraping the windshield.

One word of warning: There are some items—like animal tails, baby shoes, plastic birds, spring-mounted ornaments, etc.—that obstruct the driver's vision and, thus, may be dangerous.

Evening Store Hours Planned During Month

Marion stores will be open at night nine times during December. The schedule has been arranged to accomodate as many customers as possible.

Regular Friday hours will be observed on Dec. 4, 11, and 18. In addition to that, stores will be open on the following nights: Dec. 7, 14, and 21 (all Mondays); Dec. 19 (Saturday); Dec. 22 (Tuesday); and Dec. 23 (Wednesday).

Closing hours on the above nights will be 9 p.m. Most stores indicated they would open at their regular time on all days except Fridays.

Stores will not remain open on Christmas Eve. They will close as usual at 5:30 p.m. A survey taken by the Chamber of Commerce showed that most store managers preferred to stay closed Saturday, Jan. 2, 1954.

About 100 diffrent kinds of fish have flesh that is so poisonous that it is dangerous to eat.

Fashion Stole Easy To Make

2 Yards of Jersey Tassle All You Need

Every girl wants a high-fashion wool stole for Christmas and one can easily be made for gift-giving!

Take two yards of 54" tubular jersey. Turn to the right side and trim the edges straight, Tuck cut ends under and slipstitch together.

To fringe the ends, cut matching yarn into 24" lengths. Thread 4 strands into a large darning needle and insert the needle ¼ inch from edge. Push through fabric and then draw strands until all 8 are even in length. Knot yarn at edge of fabric to hold. Continue across end of stole at even intervals until end is fringed.

Add a professional look to the fringe by tying 4 strands of one tassle to 4 trands of the next tassel, knotting about 2 inches below the first knot. To complete the design, knot the two remaining strands at each end two inches down.

OLD CUSTOM IN IRELAND

At one time in Ireland, candles lighted on Christmas Eve could only be snuffed by a woman who bore the name of Mary, as a mark of honor to the mother of the Infant Jesus.

Write Addresses Plainly

Mail Cards and Parcels Now for Timely Delivery

Early mailing and cooperation with postal authorities are the best way to insure the delivery of Christmas mail before Dec. 25, according to Postmaster Homer D. Cole of Marion.

To assist Marion mailers in this matter, Cole has outlined some of the postal regulations and given some advice, all pertaining to Christmas mail.

COLE URGED THOSE who are mailing large numbers of greeting cards to separate them into bundles for out-of-town and local delivery. These bundles should be tied with the addresses on the cards facing the same way. On the top of each bundle should be a label indicating whether the cards are for local or out-of-town delivery.

Letter carriers will deliver these labels in the near future.

The postmaster advised that first-class mail offers the most advantages for the mailing of Christmas cards. Cards so sent may be sealed with written personal messages included. They are dispatched and delivered first, forwarded, and if not delivered, are returned to the sender.

HE ALSO EMPHASIZED that violation of the regulations governing parcel post might result in the entire parcel being sent at the higher first class rates instead of parcel post rates.

Parcels must be wrapped and tied securely but not sealed unless endorsed with the statement "Contents merchandise, may be opened for postal inspection if necessary."

Parcels may be marked "Do not open until Christmas." This being allowed to encourage early mailing. Written greetings such as "Merry Christmas" and names, numbers or symbols for the purpose of description may be enclosed with parcel post mail. Books sent through parcel post may carry only simple dedicatory inscriptions.

IF A LETTER is enclosed in a package, the entire parcel is subject to letter postage. Letters prepaid at first-class rates may be sent with articles prepaid at parcel post rates by attaching the envelopes containing the letters to the outside of the package.

Cole also cautioned against mailing perishable matter through the mail.

He reminded mailers to address all matter completely and clearly in ink. He also reminded them of the air mail, special delivery and special handling services which are available to them.

He added the final warning that Christmas gifts should be registered or insured.

Those who have specific questions and problems pertaining to Christmas mail should go to the postoffice for help and advice. To handle such inquiries, the postoffice will operate an information window during the Christmas mailing period.

Hold a Party To Trim Tree

Invite Your Friends For Evening of Fun

Here's a happy holiday idea—a tree-trimming party! Plan it for Christmas Eve or a few nights before Christmas, depending upon the family's preference.

Before the party, unpack all the tree ornaments and have them in boxes near the tree. Check all the strings of tree lights beforehand and replace all burned-out bulbs. Check the supply of tinsel and icicles and replenish, if necessary. Have the Christmas tree all set up in the standard before the guests arrive.

Keep the party small, inviting only a few of the family's closest friends. Plan to serve a simple buffet supper, but have the table gay with Yuletide decorations. A favorite casserole dish, salad, hot rolls, a special Christmas cake, and coffee would make a tempting meal that could be easily and attractively served.

After supper, let everyone help trim the Christmas tree! They'll all find it heart-warming fun. Later, serve punch while they admire the beautifully - decorated tree.

Cosmetics Are Popular With Both Men and Women

Large Assortment of Gift Preparations Offered By Manufacturers

Cosmetics and grooming preparations, as Christmas gifts, are now so popular with men and women alike that you almost can consider them traditional remembrances.

As for men on your list, it's actually quite fortunate that someone thinks to give them fine after-shaving lotions and dashing colognes as Christmas presents. Even though they like and can use such items, they rarely think to buy them for themselves.

TO SATISY AN unexpected record demand, cosmetic houses have this year loaded up Santa's gift pack with the greatest assortment of their products ever presented. Special Yuletide packages are available in a wide range of prices.

As usual, the items for women are presented in all sorts of attractive containers, ranging from satin-lined music boxes to comical, simulated snow men.

One new package, designed to please a little lass or a big one, is a gay, natural-color straw handbag which contains sachet powder, toilet water and bath oil.

ANOTHER KIT THAT'S widely popular holds toilet water, soap and talcum in a true copy of an Early American sewing box, topped with a dainty red pin cushion.

All in all, the range of packages you'll find in a visit to any cosmetic counter is far too great for quick description. There's one or more to fit every taste.

For women who love to find cosmetic surprises in their Christmas stockings, stick colognes, lipsticks, bath salts, hand lotions, purse perfumes, dusting powders, nail enamels and many other items have been especially designed as stocking-stuffers. You'll find them in attractive small packages, shaped like Christmas bells, Santa Clauses, candles, reindeer, Christmas trees, etc.

EQUALLY ATTRACTIVE are the grooming preparations for men, in containers that are humorous, ruggedly masculine, or practical.

Most popular, of course, are the inexpensive packages of shaving lotion and shave cream. Just learn his favorite brand and your gift will put him in a lather of pleasure.

If you want to spend a little bit more, you can give him a de luxe "beauty" chest—a handmade box lined in scarlet—that he can use later on to hold handkerchiefs, cuff links, tie pins and shirt studs The chest contains lotion, talcum, cologne and mug of shaving soap all in cream-colored, pottery-type bottles decorated with decals of blue Clipper ships.

ANOTHER IDEA is to present him a similar collection in a handsome leather traveling kit, with sturdy, waterproof lining. Or perhaps you'd like to give after-shave lotion in a 23-carat gold-fired flagon. And there is a fine shaving soap in a clear-glass, horseshoe-shaped container that's grooved for later use as an ash tray.

You also can ring the Christmas bell with such items as bath soaps, hair tonics or deodorants. Don't get the idea that these aids to good grooming are in any way sissified. In a recent survey of college men, it was found that more than 90 per cent used a deodorant regularly, with the easy-to-apply stick type a leader in popularity

A nice gift for men and women both is a set of shower soaps. One set offers three egg-shaped cakes, each of them decorated with amusing, colorful faces, and attached to a long neck cord. The cord keeps the soap always handy so you don't have to hunt or stoop down for it.

Gingerbread Men Most Popular Cookies in Santa's Pastry Sack

By MRS. S. CLAUS
Pastry Chef, North Pole Bakeries

Of all the cookies, fruitcakes, tarts and Christmas puddings turned out by the North Pole Bakeries, by far the most popular items Santa Claus delivers at Christmas time are the gingerbread men.

Spicy, fragrant, crunchy-crisp and delicious, they're so much in demand that we just can't make enough of them to fill all the orders.

To make sure that every child will have this time-honored treat at Christmas, The Marion Star asked me to divulge my secret recipe and here it is:

GINGERBREAD MEN
(About 12 men, 6 inches tall)

You'll need four cups sifted flour, 1 teaspoon soda, ¾ teaspoon salt, 1 cup shortening, 3 teaspoons ginger, 1 cup sugar, 1 cup unsulphured molasses.

Sift together the flour, soda and salt. Melt shortening in saucepan large enough for mixing the dough. Add sugar and molasses and mix well. Gradually stir in the flour-soda-salt mixture.

Roll dough ⅛-inch thick on lightly floured cookie sheet, with wax paper between rolling pin and the dough. (Do not use flour for rolling.)

If you have a good eye for proportions, cut out the ginger-bread men and free-hand—otherwise use a paper pattern, cut from an old grocery bag, or other piece of paper.

Use currants or raisins for eyes, nose and buttons, and almond halves for teeth.

Bake in a moderate oven—350-375 degrees—about 12 minutes, or until edges are slightly browned.

At this point retrace around the men to separate them from the dough in between the figures. Leave men in the pan until cold.

Use the odd bits of baked dough to placate your hungry family and to prevent them from eating the gingerbread men long before Christmas arrives.

Place each gingerbread man in a flat box, wrap with gay holiday paper and ribbon, and store in a cool, dry place, away from dampness—and children.

When passing out the gingerbread men, don't forget any grownup who is still a child at heart. These taste treats make wonderful, nostalgic gifts for the oldsters.

Santa Prepares For Visit No. 90

Age Shows No Effect On American Version

The Grand Old Man of Christmas hits his stride at 90 this Christmas—and the old gent never looked better in his life.

For it was way back there in 1863 that Cartoonist Tom Nast first created Santa Claus as we know him—full grown to his white whiskers—on his drawing pad.

Nast had achieved fame through his famous political cartoons that helped to smash Boss Tweed's infamous Tweed Ring in New York City.

During the early 60's, he was commissioned to illustrate Clement Clark Moore's poem "A Visit From St. Nicholas" ("The Night Before Christmas"). The drawings he submitted showed Santa Claus pretty much as he looks today.

From that day to this, Santa has aged hardly at all, in spite of 90 very busy Decembers.

Wonder what his secret is.

NATURALLY!

MILFORD, Conn. (UP) — Purhaps it was only a coincidence but the vote by which the Milford board of education allowed a school teacher time off to get married was six to four. The board is composed of six women and four men.

Games Available For Family Fun

Games for family fun that score high as a stimulus to better school grades are featured in Santa's pack this Christmas "Keyword," a board game combination of crossword puzle and anagram technique makes skill at spelling competitive fun for all the family, and teaches spelling at the same time.

"Across the Continent" bases its action on a coast-to-coast train trip, and helps to improve the skill of young map makers.

Marion Stores Well Stocked For Yule Rush

Preparations Begun Well Ahead To Assure Supplies Are Adequate

When Santa fills his pack on Christmas Eve this year to visit the homes of girls and boys, he will have a variety of toys to deliver, judging from the goods on display in Marion stores.

In evidence under the Christmas trees of many children, both young and old, will be games of all kinds, some of which are educational as well as for entertainment and others which are primarily for fun and recreation. Marion stores also are displaying a variety of puzzles and pinball games.

Popular Game

One game which mothers and dads will be playing along with their children is called "Scrabble," which is patterned after the crossword puzzle idea.

A little girl could very nearly be set up to keep house just like her mother, but on a smaller scale of course. There are electric ranges, with separate burners in the stove top and the oven, which really can be used to cook and bake. There are also baking sets complete with cake mix, pans and frosting mix, small electric irons, ironing boards, complete Year.

Dolls Have Rooted Hair

She can continue her homemaking with a doll, nearly all of which for the first time this year have rooted hair, thus enabling the girl to wash and set and comb the doll's hair in any style she might want. To complement the doll there are doll beds, buggies, high chairs.

For the young boy who has always wanted to learn to play golf because his father is an avid fan of the game, there are miniature golf games.

Then of course there are microscopes, erector sets, building blocks, American and Lincoln logs, ABC blocks for the tiny tots, construction kits of old fashioned cars, leather tool kits, metal tapping and woodburning sets, electric football and ice hockey attractions, xylophones, pianos, banjos, ukeleles, and, of course, gun and holster sets and Hopalong Cassidy lasso games.

JIM DUGAN'S

Electric Bulbs Replace Logs, Candles

Home Decorations Are Designed To Fit Every Budget

In the glimmer and twinkle that haloes the Christmas season, the nation becomes a neighborhood and the whole world is kin. For through the years the glowing Yule log and the candle in the window have traditionally flickered their message of light and peace to all who pass the door.

Today, the array and variety of Christmas lights, designed to fit every budget, include all the fond, familiar, symbols of the season. Bells, stars, angels, candy canes, trees and even Santa himself are wired for light.

NOT ONLY indoor decorations for windows, tree and hearth lights, but outdoor lights as well can become part of the twinkling Christmas appeal.

It's best to start tree decorations from the top and work down. Place lights on the inside boughs first and work outward from the stand to the bough tips. Light each string after it's been placed and stand off to view the effect before putting up the next string.

Outside decorations don't have to center about a tree. A door or window can be trimmed with laurel leaves—they are sold by the yard—and intertwined with lights.

Giant decorations such as cane candy and wreaths take lighting beautifully. And if you have the time, a Christmas scene in your window will look like a stage setting if it's lighted properly.

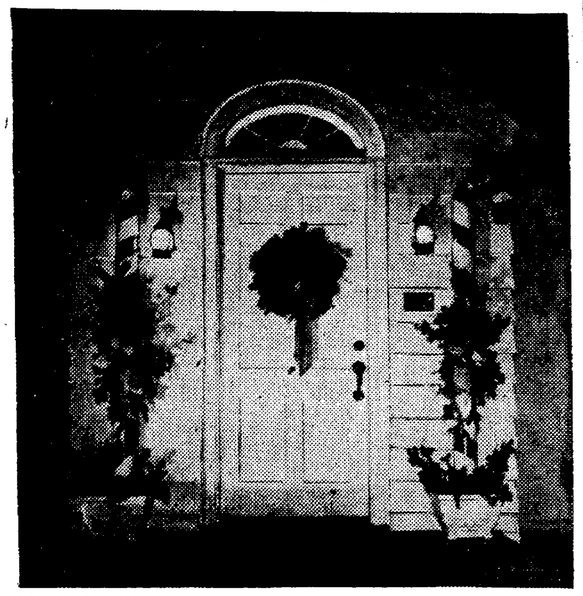
NO MATTER the size of your Christmas display, if it's done carefully and in good taste, you will have every kid in the neighborhood—and his parents—dreaming of a "light" Christmas.



GAY HOLIDAY MOOD is well expressed by "planting" a giant candy cane of stovepipe on each side of this doorway. A hidden projector lamp lights the scene at night.

The number of bulbs on a string can vary from seven to 25. The wise purchaser makes re that he can plug one string into another to form an "endless chain" of lights. And if his tree is very tall, he'll need nearly that number of bulbs.

Bulb strings are generally of two types: "series" and "multiple." Each type string requires a special bulb. The "series" string is so engineered that one burned-out bulb will keep the remaining bulbs from lighting until it is replaced. The "multiple" string, however, will continue to give light as long as one bulb works.

PLANNING THE lighting effects for Christmas decorations takes only a rule of thumb to determine your illumination requirements. Research has produced a simple table to determine the number of lights recommended for your tree, based on its height:

4'	35 lights.
5'	56 lights.
6'	77 lights.
7'	102 lights.
8'	140 lights.
10'	210 lights.

A helpful hint for connecting the electric cord to an indoor outlet: cut a piece of wood the width of your window and about five inches high. Bore a hole in the wood for the cord to pass through and then close the window on the wood. You should have a "light" and merry Christmas without too much ventilation.

Bicycles Popular; Sizes Range From Child's to Adult's

Wheel away that child's gift problem.

According to a survey of retailers by the Bicycle Institute of America, 40 per cent of American bicycles purchased as gifts during the year are bought in the six weeks before Christmas.

Four and five - year - olds will need a 16-inch (wheel diameter) bike. Six and seven-year-olds take a 20-inch bike. Boys and girls from eight to ten will be comfortable on a 24-inch wheel, and those from 11 on up should have a 26-inch adult wheel. All American bicycles have adjustable seats so the bicycle can "grow" with the child, and be used for many years.

The younger children need not wait too long any more for their first bikes, because first-timers' bikes come with extra demountable "outrigger" wheels which keep them in balance until the youngsters learn how to handle themselves on a two-wheeler.

From the angle of safe operation, the most recent figures available from the National Safety Council indicate there has been a 50 per cent reduction in serious bicycle accidents during the past 10 years. And this despite the fact that the number of bicycle owner-riders increases each year, and at present numbers some 21 million persons in the United States.

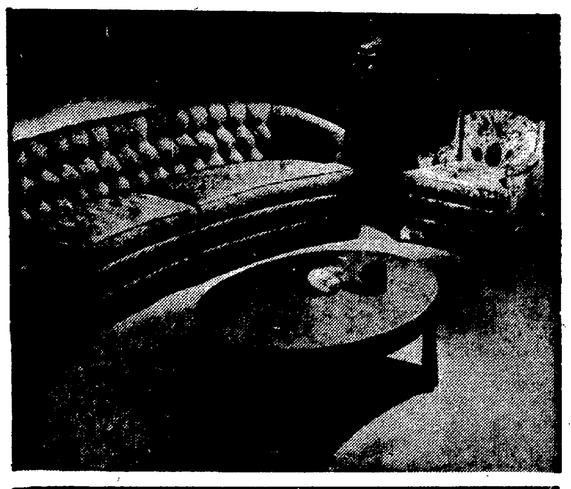
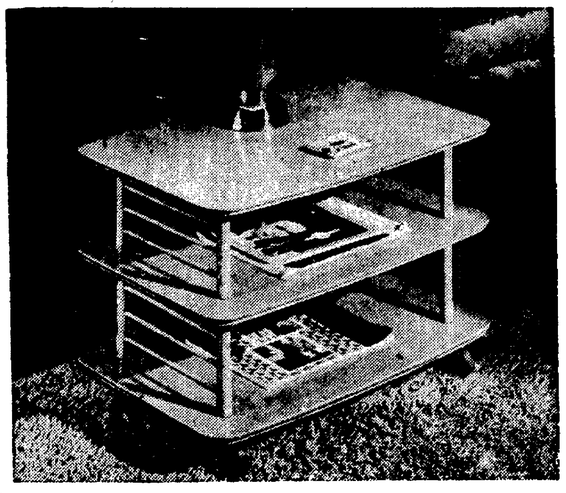
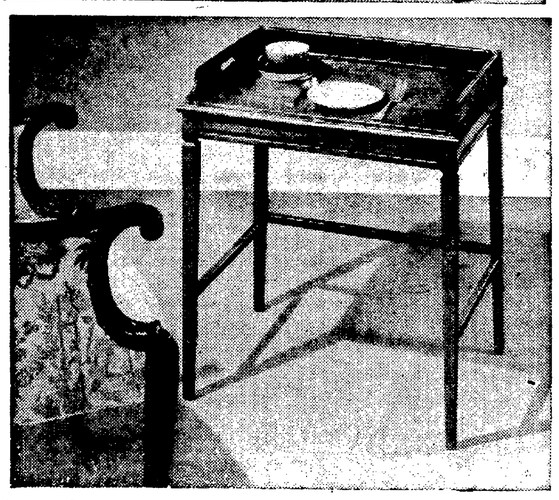
Thrill of Fine Furniture Will Last for Many Years







GIFTS OF FINE FURNITURE will be appreciated as well years from now as they are this Christmas. Some of the new furniture available this year is pictured here.

ABOVE RIGHT: Elegantly styled in 18th Century, this solid mahogany server-chest fills a twofold function. It contains three large storage drawers, and a smaller drawer with carrying slots which doubles as a serving tray or silver compartment.

LOWER LEFT: This easy-moving three-tiered table will please any holiday hostess. Suitable for extra serving duty, it is easily transferred from use as an end table to snack table. This one is genuine mahogany and moves about on rubber casters.

LOWER RIGHT: Round-the-house entertaining will come easier with the assistance of a small serving table such as the one shown above. Light weight and portable, it is designed for either informal entertaining, or use as an occasional table. Wood is mahogany.

Peace on Earth Picked as Yule Parade Theme

Pageant Will Begin At 1 P.M. Saturday On West Center St.

For the third year in a row, Marion's Christmas parade will have a religious theme. This year, it will be "Peace on Earth." It is scheduled Saturday at 1 p.m.

Cooperating to promote the parade are the Retail Merchants Division of the Chamber of Commerce, the Marion County Ministerial Association, and the individual churches.

Nine churches will enter floats in the parade, which will begin at Park Blvd. and W. Center St. The line of movement will be east on W. Center St. to Main St., south on Main St. to Church St., east on Church St. to State St., north on State St. to E. Center St., west on E. Center St. to Main St. and north on N. Main St across the railroad tracks where it will disband.

Caledonia Band to Lead

Leading the pageant will be the Caledonia High School Band under the direction of Mrs. Paul Showers. Floats of the churches will follow. The floats in turn, will be followed by the Santa Claus section, which will be led by the Harding High School Band under the direction of Homer Huffman.

In the first section, the first float will be that of the Central Christian Church, entitled "Peace on Earth." Next in line will be the float of the Wesley Methodist Church, "The Prophecies."

"The Annunciation" is the title given the third float, entered by St. Paul's Episcopal Church. The Calvary Evangelical United Brethren Church will submit a float showing the theme, "Glory to God."

Following that will be the float by the Greenwood Evangelical United Brethren Church, "Christian Christmas at Home." Epworth Methodist Church will enter a float called "Prince of Peace."

Other Floats

"They Came Bearing Gifts" will be the title of the float entered by the Prospect Street Methodist Church. The Trinity Baptist Church will enter a float showing "The Light of the World." Last in the pageant will be the entry of the First Evangelical and Reformed Church, "The Christian Hope."

Christmas music will be broadcast from the courthouse in an effort to add to the spirit of the occasion. In addition, the bands will also play music symbolic of the regligious theme of the season.

Both the religious pageant section and the Santa Claus section will be escorted by police. The route of the parade will be blocked off to traffic.

Santa's section of the parade will not travel the complete route. Instead of turning toward the railroad tracks at Main and Center Streets, it will stop at the corner where a special welcoming committee will greet him.

On the committee will be members of the Chamber of Commerce as well as city officials. They will escort Santa Claus to his headquarters on the courthouse lawn and give him a official greeting.

Inviting New Arm Chair

Holiday Turkey Supply Plentiful at '52 Price

NEW YORK (UP) — There are turkeys galore for the holiday season, at prices about the same as last year.

The National Poultry and Egg Board estimated the 1953 crop at 55,746,000 birds, compared with the 1952 crop of 60,657,000 an all-time high.

"Even with a smaller crop, there are turkeys galore," said Fred Smith, eastern manager. Twenty-three per cent of this year's crop is of the small size bird, four to eight pounds, ready to cook.

"Prices in the East are about the same as last year," Smith said. "In some sections of the country, they're lower."

ON THE BALL

DeLAND, Fla. (UP) — J. B. Brown complained to police that two men drove up to his gift shop here, took a crystal ball from the display and sped away.

Christ's Birth Date Unknown

Each Land Has Own Time for Celebration

The exact date of the birth of Christ is shrouded in confusion and, as a result, the celebration of Christmas occurs on many different dates throughout the Christian world.

In an old manuscript, the Calendar of Philocalus which appeared in the year 354 A.D., it states: "In the Year One After Christ, the Lord Jesus was born on December 25, a Friday, and the 15th day of the New Moon."

Another ancient book written by Tippolytus in 202 A.D. tells us that Jesus was born in Bethlehem "on Wednesday, December 25th, in the 42nd year of Augustus."

However, according to astronomy, December 25th, A.D. 1, fell on Sunday.

In terms of our American Christmas, the holiday is celebrated from six to 10 days later in some countries, and in others—it is observed earlier. December 6th is the date of Christmas in most Western European countries and is the beginning of a long holiday season.

The Armenians were the first people to set up a Christian state and their Christmas Eve is January 6th.

Take Precautions With Trees

Don't Let Fires Spoil Your Christmas

The child was badly burned. Somehow her dress had caught fire. It happened last year. It happened the year before. It will happen again this year.

AND IT WON'T BE A SINGLE, ISOLATED TRAGEDY.

You'll read about it in your local newspaper. These tragedies often occur at the Christmas holiday—the happiest time of the year—sometimes even around the Christmas tree itself.

THE REASON the tree burns so fiercely and so rapidly is because it's filled with pitch and resin, which rank among the most combustible substances known.

And the flimsy dress is no match for an intense fire.

What can you do about the tree? What can you do about the dress—especially the loosely-woven costume worn in school plays and pageants?

THE NATIONAAL Board of Fire Underwriters offers these suggestions:

1. Choose a small tree. It's less dangerous than a large one.
2. Don't set it up until a few days before Christmas. Until then, keep it outdoors.
3. Place it in the coolest part of the house, away from fireplaces and radiators. And don't let it block an exit.
4. Stand it in water, or use a live tree planted in a tub of earth.
5. Never use cotton or paper for the decoration on or around the tree.
6. Do not put electric trains under the tree.

7. USE ONLY electric lights, never candles, and see that the wires are not frayed. Be sure that the wiring sets for lights you choose bear the seal of Underwriters' Laboratories. Inc. That shows they have been tested for safety.
8. Provide a switch some distance from the tree for turning tree lights off and on. Don't plug or unplug them beneath the tree.
9. Throw away all gift wrappings as soon as the presents have been opened. Don't let them pile up near the tree.
10. Do not leave the lights burning when no one is home.
11. If needles near the lights turn brown, move the lights.
12. When needles start to fall, take the tree down and discard it.

AS FOR THE DRESS, or other fabrics, safety lies in flameproofing. Here's how it's done:

First, prepare a solution of nine ounces of borax and four ounces of boric acid to a gallon of water. If the water is warm, the other ingredients can be mixed more easily. Use a spoon or a rotary beater.

When the borax and boric acid are thoroughly dissolved, dip the material or clothing you wish to flameproof. Then wring it out and hang it up to dry.

This method can be used on any washable fabric. Moreover, the material can be ironed without affecting the flameproofing. It will remain flameproofed until it is washed.

Should a fire happen, the heat of the flames will char the area which it contacts. When the flame is removed, the charring will stop. The result is no sudden flash fire to turn your child's happy Christmas into a family tragedy.

About 91 per cent of U.S. farms have electricity.

Records Popular Too

Portable Radio, Camera Delight Those in Teens

Pleasing your teen-age friends with a Christmas gift is an easier task than you may imagine.

It's true that teen - age gifts present special problems. If you are well past the teens yourself, the danger is that you'll settle for "the same old thing," and be regarded by the younger set as lagging behind the times.

And if you're a teen-ager buying for your friends, you probably have a budget problem.

IN EITHER CASE, there's actually no cause for worry. There are doezns of appropriate gifts, and you won't have much trouble finding them—provided that you first consider just what sort of person you're aiming to please. And the price range in which you can shop is very wide.

If you have an ample budget, or the teen-ager is your child, you can't go very far wrong with a camera, phonograph or portable radio. There are several new models of each of these items which emobdy the latest elctronic developments. And what teen - age boy or girl doesn't get pleasure out of taking pictures, listening to records, or "bumming it" with a portable radio

TEEN-AGERS will go in a big way for a new portable radio that weighs only 3¾ pounds with batteries.

IF THE FRIEND has a phonograph already, the teen-ager with the aforementioned budget problems can be almost certain of pleasing him (or her) with some records. All you have to know is the recipient's taste in music.

For a son or daughter who's a student, a traditionally popular gift is a portable typewriter. The present will be used many years, and studies have shown that a typewriter often tends to improve a student's school work.

High on your list for a teen-age girl can be cosmetics and perfumes. Bottles and flacons in cheery forms will make most scents more alluring. Dressier for her boudoir, too. One firm, for example, has come up with caroling angels, drummer boys, Santas and strutting peacocks to grace any vanity table.

Pen and pencil set, slipper socks, a bright umbrella, gold heraldic necklace, lipsticks, colorful scarves, scatter pins, and shoulder bag, for a girl; and a grooming kit, cuff links, sports shirt and wallet, for a boy.

New Books Insure More Interest by Juvenile Readers

Adults who've been dismayed by the speed with which 8-to-12-year-old children skim through a new book that's intended to insure hours of quiet behavior will have special interest in a new read-it-and-do-it value found in juvenile activity books. They feature colorful stamps to be pushed out and pasted at frequent intervals in the text.

This play focus is found to insure much more careful reading and adds considerably to the time span of children's interest.

"American Inventors," for example, by I. A. Lewis, dramatizes stories of famous American inventions, from the steam engine and the cotton gin of colonial times to the atom smasher and television set of today.

Rhode Island Prepares For Chicken Celebration

Charles A. Naugle, vice president of the Rhode Island Red Club of America, wrote to Gov. Dennis J. Roberts of Rhode Island, proposing a centennial celebration in Providence next year.

The governor directed state officials to cooperate with the club in making arrangements for the celebration.

Brow Light Is New

Intriguing Gadgets Make Unusual Christmas Gifts

Few things are more intriguing to male and female, young and old, than a tricky gadget, useful or otherwise. So be sure to include a sprinkle of such items in your Christmas gift selection, as regular gifts for friends or as "extra" gifts for family members.

A gadget, according to Webster, is simply a "contrivance, object or device for doing something." But that doesn't tell the whole story. As most of us look at it, a gadget must do its task in a manner that's especially clever — a way that inspires the remark "What'll they think of next?"

MEASURING UP in every way to the popular definition is a doodad called a brow light. Perfect for the home handyman or motorist, this item fits around the head —you don it just like a cap — and focuses a beam of light wherever the wearer looks.

And how about a card shuffler? You insert the playing cards, twirl a crank, and—slap-slap—the cards are shuffled. Much better, by the way, than you can hope to shuffle by hand, unless you learned to play on a Mississippi stern-wheeler.

Fairly well known by now, but still sure to make a hit, is the phone light. A small lamp with a rectangular base that is set beneath the telephone, it's excellent for night use when someone phones with a message. One model operates by push-button, another can be connected so that it lights each time the phone is lifted.

A GOOD gadget for the sportsman, serviceman, or any man or little boy whatever, is a new cutlery set that folds into one plastic handle. Looking somewhat like a pen knife, the set contains fork, opener. And the whole thing slides apart so that the implements may be used individually.

Another pocket gadget that will please any gimmick-lover is a small-size, pen-shaped stapler. Just slip off the cap and it's ready for use.

Sure-fire also for salesmen, traveling men, doctors, teachers, students and housewives, is the phone pencil that ticks to the phone by magnetims; a combination paper weight and cellophone tape dispenser; and a novel letter opener that slices open an envelope as you pull it through a slot in the device.

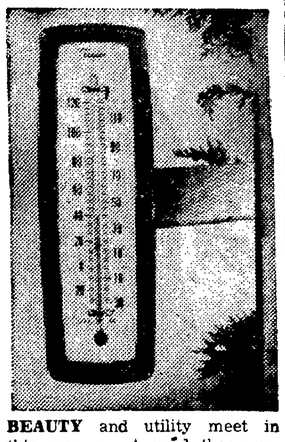
TO BRIGHTEN UP the household, there are several colorful light-switch plates made of durable plastic. Mom will like "Oscar the Chef" for a lighter touch in her kitchen. The kiddies won't mind "Lights Out" when the switch - plate is shaped like a clown, with a luminescent nose-tip switch. And Dad will love Minnie the Mermaid; a flock of her tail controls the light in the bathroom.

Numerous gadgets are available for the energetic "do - it - yourself" fans, among them a handy guide for painting which protects adjoining areas from smears when you're daubing away at window frames and baseboards.

A granite pylon on Kill Devil Hill in North Carolina commemorates the first flight of the Wright brothers in 1903.



BEAUTY and utility meet in this new easy-to-read thermometer, an ideal gift suggestion for avid weather-watchers.

Family Project Suggested

Home Decorations Made Easily With Little Cost

Anyone can be an interior decorator in December. The beauty you see in bright ornaments and shimmering tinsel is just a reflection of the twinkle in your own eyes during these wonderful days. So get everyone to work, and stay within your budget by making up in ideas and enthusiasm what you lack in special skills and money.

A family project that everyone will enjoy is the making of three-dimensional Christmas decorations. ust buy a package of multicolored craft paper from the dime store. The rest of the materials you'll need are household items—scissors, paste, pencils and a ball of string for hanging the finished creations.

SKETCH simple patterns—a star of Bethlehem, for example. Give the star dimensions by simply running a penknife lightly down the paper, starting at each star point and continuing to the center. Then bend the paper backward along each scored line. Make several stars, in various sizes and colors, and use them to adorn the tree, wall or doorway.

Christmas angels can be fashioned by making cones of colored paper. Turn the cone upside down, and you have the angel's body, with the narrow end serving as her neck. Cut out a circle of craft paper, and draw or paste colored dots on it to represent eyes, nose and a mouth.

Attach the angel's face to the body by pasting a long, narrow strip of craft paper to the back and squeezing it through the opening in the cone. Finally, draw a pair of wings and paste them to each side of her body. These make "heavenly" place cards for Christmas party tables.

TO MAKE ENTIRE rows of Christmas-tree motifs for festooning the fireplace, accordion-fold a long strip of green paper, trace the outline of half a tree to the paper, and cut. You'll think of many more motifs yourself once you get going—paper flowers, snowflakes, snowmen and Santa Clauses are just a few of many that will come to mind.

You'll find inexpensive materials to dress up your decorations at your local department or variety store—sequins, twisted gold thread, and several types of cover-your-own buttons.

With pinking shears, cut out a huge Christmas stocking from scraps of felt or some other fabric. Adorn the entire stocking with rows of sequins and buttons covered with scraps of bright contrasting fabric. Hang the stocking on the mantel or use as a wall decoration in the children's play room.

GIANT stocking for mantel decoration is easy to cut from felt or velvet, sew and trim with buttons, sequins, metal. Pastels blend best.

Contests Suggested For Holiday Party

Here are several "ice-breakers" for Holiday parties—

Balloon-blowing contest: Each couple is given a balloon and various items such as cotton, candy mints, marshmallows, to stick onto it—and convert the balloons into comic characters.

For New Year's Eve, revise charades to fit into the holiday mood. Write a few resolutions on strips of paper and have guests draw a strip each. Each guest has to act out the resolution while the others try to guess what it is.

Package Tool Kit Handy

Master Handle May Be Fitted to Hammer, Chisels, Saws

From the Christmas that Junior first "examines" his brand-new electric train with a hammer, to the time when, grown up, he starts making repairs on his own son's train, you have a born tool addict on your hands.

Why fight the inevitable? Man and boy, the male of the race is a born tinkerer. Take advantage of this ingrained instinct to experiment with tools, and give them as Christmas gifts.

You'll build for yourself, without so much as touching a hammer, a reputation for thoughtful ability to pick the "just right" gift.

For apartment-house dwellers, you can buy all-purpose tool kits, made up of a master handle and several interchangeable shanks, each of which is a basic tool; hammer, screwdriver, saw, drill, awl, or chisel. Packaged neatly in box or leather case, they take up little space in tight quarters.

And no woodworker, amateur or professional, ever had too many chisels, nor has there ever been a man known to have too many bits of assorted sizes for his brace or drill. (And these items fit neatly into an average Christmas buyer's budget.)

Now, if the mood is expansive, and the pocketbook in fairly healthy condition, a power tool will make you look like Santa to someone's grateful eyes.

Jig saws, drill presses, or small lathes are available at surprisingly moderate prices, and are basic-starter items for an all-powered workshop.

If that man's shop already is equipped with powered tools, your gift problem is solved. Just tour the shop with him and listen to his wistful remarks about what he would make if he only had a double-barreled whatsit to attach to his such-and-such. (All hobbyists talk like this.)

Holiday Feast Easier Than in Pilgrims' Time

NEW YORK (UP) — Cooking methods have come a long way since our Pilgrim mothers, but not far enough to take all the work out of the Thanksgiving dinner.

The experts say the traditional feast may be prepared in four to seven hours—thanks to the can opener, the deep freeze, ready-to-serve foods, temperature-controlled ranges and automatic dishwashers.

The Pilgrim housewife needed 48 to 72 hours. If hubby were busy with the harvest, she shot, cleaned and dressed the turkey. She ground the corn meal, made the hominy, grew pumpkins for the pie, and picked the cranberries.

One home economist says today's housewife has more conveniences than her Pilgrim sister, but doubts if she is any better off than the housewife of 50 or 75 years ago.

"Our grandmothers didn't have all the labor savers," said Florence Brobeck, home economist and cookbook author. "But they had something else—help from cousins, aunts and the children."

"Now," she said, "a woman's lucky if she can get hubby to pile the dishes in the dishwasher."

The Pilgrim housewife cooked the turkey and other fowl in the chimney "oven," and the process took all day.

Fruit or pumpkin pie was baked on a shovel in the fireplace; and if sweet potatoes were available, probably were roasted in ashes.

In 18th century Colonial days, the time for roasting and baking was about three times that required with today's temperature-controlled ranges. With the large Colonial homes, a separate building housed the kitchen where the wood (later coal) ranges were kept going day long. Pies were baked ahead of the big day; hams, turkey and other fowl, and fruit cakes all took long hours.

And then came modern appliances and foods ready or almost ready to serve. The homemaker now can have prepared virtually all the holiday meal at her leisure, stored it in the freezer, and have nothing more to do on the big day than heat it, set the table, and serve.

Cranberry sauce and pumpkin come out of a can. Or pumpkin pies may be bought from the local bakery. Rolls need either a few minutes more of baking, or a mere warming up. Turkeys come ready to stuff, stuffing comes ready to use.

Test kitchen supervisors at Lever Brothers and General Foods say the time required to prepare today's feast is no more than the time required to cook the turkey. A 12 to 16-pound bird, for instance, is roasted four and one-half to five hours. And, while it's baking, you can prepare the rest of the meal.

"That is," said one home economist, "unless your menu is mighty elaborate . . . and there are four or five children tugging at your skirts."

SALAD HAS PARTY AIR

NEW YORK (UP) — If you're looking for new salad ideas, here is one combination with a party air. Mold dark sweet canned cherries and chopped walnuts in cherry-flavored gelatin. Chill in individual molds, and serve in lettuce cups with a fluffy cream cheese dressing.

Cream of Tartar Adds To Success of Fudge

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (UP) — Use cream of tartar or corn syrup to assure creamy fudge during holiday candy-making.

Geraldine Acker of the University of Illinois recommends 1-16 teaspoon of sugar used in the recipe. The tartar or syrup helps change the sugar to "invert sugar," which doesn't crystallize easily.

Be sure the sugar is dissolved before the mixture starts boiling. Cook moderately slow. The pan should be covered during the first few minutes of boiling.

Do not stir the candy while it is boiling. Once cooked, the candy should cool before it is beaten. This will give a creamier product with finer crystal.

There's Something in Leather for All

GIFTS OF LEATHER may be small or large, budget-priced or luxurious. Lucky girl (left) has found bag and belt ensemble under her tree, together with gloves in brilliant russet kid and hoop earrings in pigskin. Second bag and belt ensemble (upper center) is in treasured alligator. Champagne-colored kid gloves have hand - stitched cuffs and fingers. For a white Christmas, give white rawhide travel accessories (lower center) lined in sky-blue moire. Hatbox doubles as weekend bag. Gloves are white doeskin. Slippers (right) are soft tan glove leather.

Leather is one gift on everybody's Christmas list that's suitable for men, women and children. You can pay a little or a lot for a leather gift, but regardless of the amount, it's sure to be appreciated.

Leather accessories are making big fashion news this year, and they possess the added advantage, for you, of falling into the category of gifts that cost very little.

Gloves, for instance, come in pure-white sparkling kid leathers or pastels lined in contrasting shades of soft cashmere or silk. There's great variety in both length and design of evening gloves, white kid trimmed in gold, sequins and jet beading, black kid lighted by huge rhinestones.

Or, pick a wallet with a gay gold-embossed design and add one of the new leather belts to the package. Leather jackets, styled as they've never been styled before, make the kind of gift women really welcome.

On the male side of the list, give consideration to leather luggage (if he travels) or better, soft slippers if he stays at home. For either the traveler or armchair male, consider giving a leather belt, jacket, gloves or one of the fancy leather vests that younger men are wearing.

Little girls love party shoes or a miniature handbag that is "just like mother's," or warmly lined gloves. You'll find that you've a choice of fur or wool in the lining and a number of styles in the gloves.

To a small boy, leather means a football, a new baseball mitt or even a basketball. If he's very small, he might like cowboy or space boots. Depends on his choice this year, the wide open spaces or the spaces above and around.

Santa Will Be In Marion for Most of Month

He'll Arrive Saturday For Christmas Parade; To Stay at Courthouse

Children in Marion will have plenty of opportunity to talk with Santa Claus this year. Beginning Saturday, the jolly old man will be around town for conferences with the kids until Christmas Eve.

Santa will come in at the rear of the annual Christmas Pageant sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce being held this year Saturday at 1 p.m. He has agreed to divide his time between his headquarters on the courthouse lawn, the different stores in town, and som of the schools.

Will Work at Night, Too

Most days, Santa will work from 1 p.m. to 4:30 p.m.However,he has agreed to work from 7 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. on nine nights to give more opportunity to visit him

His float will be the last one in the Christmas parade Saturday. It will follow the route of the rest of the parade, but stop at the courthouse instead of turning north on Main St.

At the courthouse, Santa will be officially welcomed by city and Chamber of Commerce officials.

Weekday Schedule

This Saturday, he will be at the courthouse until 4:30 p.m. He will not work Sunday, but will be back on the job from 1 p.m. to 4:30 on Monday.

On the following days, he will be around town to talk to children from 1 p.m. to 430: Dec. 1, 2, 3, 5, 8, 9, 10, 12, 15, 16, 17, and 24.

Both afternoon and evening schedules will be followed by Santa on the folowing dates: Dec. 4, 7, 11, 14, 18, 19, 21, 22, and 23.

At 4:30 p.m. Christmas Eve., he will leave Marion, make a flying trip to the North Pole, pack up his sleigh, and start his annual trip around the world.

Weather will have a great deal of influence on the presence of Santa Claus. Jack Lautenslager of the Chamber of Commerce, said Santa will probably sta; pretty close to his courthouse headquarters when the weather is inclement.

On better days, though, he will probably make his trips to the stores and schools.

FIRST CHRISTMAS TREE

Extra Consideration Given Fur Pieces

Designs Emphasize New Fashions; Fox Stole Proves Popular

Little furs for Christmas — the soft, luxurious gifts of love of a man-to-his-lady—have been given special consideration this year by top fur designers across the nation.

Dramatic or small and cuddly are scarves, stoles, muffs and separate collars which furriers have planned with an eye not only to beauty in themselves but to balance.

They point up the new high-bosomed, slender figure of this year's fashion.

STILL HOLDING its own after a terrific comeback last season is the less expensive fox stole in white, platinum, black, and the beautiful new trend; pastel dyed fox in sky blue, face-powder pink and orange.

New and exciting, too, is the fluffy round fox "life-preserver" collar of navy blue fox for special added glamor and warmth when worn with walking dresses, suits or cloth coats. It is completely detachable.

Another double-duty piece is a miles-long boa of natural platinum fox which can be wrapped dramatically over day or evening clothes.

FOR GIRLS OF all ages are the new muffs in many shapes and sizes including the dramatic square muff in gleaming white and black fox. Or the ever chic barrel shape in velvety black seal or iridescent brown broadtail.

One of the smaller stoles, a shaped "hug-me" design with a capelet back is exquisitely worked in the rare and precious silver-blue mink mutation.

The most sumptuous Christmas gift of all-white mink in little formal jackets and capes. One jacket, called the regency bolero, has a deep open front and a curved collar. The snug waistband, closing with a jeweled button, is ideal for full-skirted gowns.

WHITE ERMINE, another regal fur is dramatically designed in an evening cape with a double band at the shoulder which may be turned up to form a narrow "gallery" collar.

If price is no object and a fur coat is being considered, there is a silhouette and a fur for every woman. Included is a dark ranch mink in the new slender coat with a kimona collar and a bloused sleeve.

Natural gray broadtail in the new three-quarter length, gently fitted in front and full - flowing in back from a smooth yoke across the shoulders. For the fitted coat, black Alaska seal with a long princess torso marked by a low contoured inset band from which the skirt flares out gracefully.

Beautiful blonde furs, too, are in fingertip length with fullness featured in beige, utria, casually styled for campus or country, controlled at each side by buttoned-on belt tabs.

Haverford College Operating in Black

In fact, the 120-year-old institution on Philadelphia's "Main Line" can now afford "guest" instructors who would make the nation's larger universities sit up and take notice.

The general face-lifting is credited to William Philips, an alumnus who became a leading New York attorney and investment banker. He left his alma mater the residue of his estate, totaling $2,000,000, when he died in 1950 at the age of 68.

Philips, a shrewd investor with a passion for Shakespeare, provided in his will that half the estimated $80,000 annual income from his estate be used for "general purposes." The provision has resulted in a salary increase for the 50 faculty members and the end of deficit financing for the institution.

The rest of the money is to be used for collecting "Renaissance literature centered around Shakespeare, learned periodicals for the college library" and to have "distinguished guests visit the campus.

Dr. Gilbert F. White, 41-year old president of the college, said the school inaugurated its "Philips' Visitors" lectures this semester. He said plans call for series of lecture on various subjects by top-flight experts.

ST. FRANCIS BEGAN CAROL

Early Christmas music, written and sung in Latin, was too theological in character for popular use. In the 13th century St. Francis of Assisi is said to have influenced the rise of the Christmas carol, written in the vernacular, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

One bird, a swift, has been clocked at 200 miles an hour says the National Geographic Society.

Extra Care Urged In Selecting Pets

One of the rightest gifts you can give a family, whether they have children or not, is a household pet.

A singing bird, a friendly puppy, a purring kitten can cheer up any hearth. Even a bowl of goldfish or guppies will bring life into a home.

But, according to doctors and veterinarians, there are several checks you should make before you visit your local pet shop to select a gift.

With at least 25 million Americans suffering from allergies, make sure your gift pet will not be an offender. Most common allergies are to cats, long-haired dogs, rabbits.

Be careful of giving animals to homes where children are very young. The jealousy between the two can result in unhappy—and sometimes dangerous—relationships.

Don't give pets that need house care to families who are not at home during the day. This can be ranked as one of the worst cruelties to animals.

SUGGESTION FOR CANAPES

NEW YORK (UP) — Instead of using crackers or toast for canapes, try baking small pastry rounds. Roll out regular pastry dough as for a pie crust. Cut into rounds about one and one-half inches in diameter and bake in a hot oven. One delicious spread is made by blending grated sharp cheese, finely chopped walnuts, chopped pimento, mayonnaise and a dash of cayenne pepper.

Gifts for Men Plentiful in Marion Stores

Clothing, Sporting Goods, Tools Among Most Popular Presents

But Marion merchants are helping local shoppers with this problem by stocking a wide enough range of gifts to suit the tastes and preferences of any male of any age.

Articles of clothing always make popular gifts for men. Marion merchants are carrying many new styles as well as several old ones whose popularity is continuing from former years.

One-Size Sock

The newest thing in the men's clothing line s a life-saver for people who can't remember sizes. It's a one-soze sock. Made of nylon, this new sock will stretch to fit any size foot. It comes only in solid colors so won't do as a gift for a man whose tastes tend toward argyles and other sporty styles.

Dress shirts continue as good gifts for men. This year the round collar, either button-down or pin style, is becoming popular. The trend is swinging a little bit away from pure white with pastel shades coming into the picture.

The popularity of sports shirts continues with plaid and check patterns being the big sellers.

The necktie, an old staple in the gift line, is still popular, but local clothiers report that men's tastes are moving away from the bright styles. They say that the popular ties now are the plainers ones with stripes and small patterns.

Orlon is the big name in sweaters this year, while the lounging model is the up-and-comer in the pajama line.

Hat Certificates Good

Hats make good gifts, but local merchants advise you to purchase a gift hat certificate and let the man pick his own model.

In belts, the narrow suede style seems to be the preference. In fact, suede is popular in other lines, especially in jackets, sport coats and vests.

'Like father, like son" is the rule for purchasing Christmas gift clothing for young boys. Most junior styles this year are miniature reproductions of men's styles.

For example, fancy vests for boys in all colors, materials and patterns have become popular.

Sports shirts make good gifts for boys. This year they come mantailored in a wide range of materials, colors and patterns. Turtle neck shirts in plain colors and bright designs are popular.

Dress shirts for boys come in white only—the youngsters just don't seem to go for the colored variety. However, they do come with french cuffs, cuff links supplied.

Boys socks, just like those for men, come in argyles, stripes and plaids.

Along with clothes, sporting goods are always popular gift items for men. So are tools for the man who likes to work with his hands.

Marion sporting goods merchants report that this year archery equipment has grown in popularity among men of all age groups. Items in hunting and fishing lines are still big sellers.

Most sporting goods merchants are carrying newly developed accessories for the hunter or fisher. An example is the pocket-sized hand warmer.

For the younger sportsmanfoot - balls, baseballs, ball gloves, bats and other such equipment are perennial favorites.

In addition to clothes and sporting goods, most men would be satisfied with gifts that fit in with their hobbies. Cameras, model-building kits, tool sets and books would probably fill the bill.

And there are always the gift staples such as cuff links and wallets.

The man in the service presents a special problem. Because of his specalized needs and desires, it is probably best to ask him what he wants for Christmas. Don't try to surprise him.

While there are many reptiles in the West Indies, no poisonous snakes are found in the larger islands of Cuba, Jamaica, Hispaniola and Puerto Rico.

Jewelry Is High on List of Most Cherished Presents

Earrings or Scatter Pins Please Women; Men Like Cuff Links

For all the sparkle that is Christmas, and the tinkling laughter of children that is holiday, diamonds are still a girl's best friend.

Precious gifts are in the very tradition of Christmas and jewelry is always high on the list of cherished presents. And under thousands of Christmas trees this year —as in the past—will sit thousands of little velvet boxes silently singing their precious greetings.

Little children go for the sparkle. You can rate a roaring thank you if you give a growing-up girl a novel pin or clasp from the cosmetic jewelry counter. She'll wear it to mud-pie parties with the same pride her mother would wear the Star of Hope diamond to a cornation.

A PAIR OF earrings, a set of glittering scatter pins, a brooch —all of them inexpensive— should please any girl.

Her father, by the same token, is a fall guy for fancy cull links or tie clip. It's probably the one dash of sporting life he allows himself. But you'll have to buy it for him. He'd never do it for himself.

For men, one company has put out a sports set that features a rifle tie clip and wild duck cuff links. On the dressier side, they've got a gold set sparked by a colored stone of red or blue.

Another has a clip-and-links set in a "Gay Nineties" design done in enamel that pictures ancient autos.

THESE ARE MERELY a clue to the jewelry designs for men. For the most part, though, men's needs are simple and traditional. It's a good idea to stay away from tiaras and necklaces, no matter how out-of-doorsy the design.

But if you're choosing for a girl, it's another matter.

Just for the record, though, here's a quick look at your store window for a starting point:

A jewel-paved pin-and-earring set in ruby and rhinestone solitaires set on a bright golden three-dimensional base.

A tassel pin of pearls interspersed with fat rondels and other shaped brilliants. Matched earrings are of the long, thin variety.

Play Outfits Become Cowboy Suits

Children's Gift Clothes Need Disguise

Christmas may be the "Children's Holiday," but no law stops gift-givers from being practical. And what goes under the tree can easily be new clothes.

For infants and crib-size youngsters, the gift is probably best that aids the parents. Baby blankets, carriage covers, diaper service and buntin can serve as a "family gift."

But if the children are older, clothing becomes a delicate problem. It's a rare youngster who runs outside on Christmas morning to tell his friends: "Oh boy! I got six suits of underwear."

SOLUTION TO THE clothing-gift problem is largely a matter of disguise. Everyday play clothes, for example, can be cowboy suits or space-travel outfits.

For growing-up children, though, it's another matter. You'll be come a hero if you give junior his first real rubber boots or a bow tie like Uncle Ed wears; or a checked vest like the ones the colge boys wear.

Young ladies, growing into their social year, go for frilly, starchy party dresses. And the more grown-up the dress, the more valuable your gift becomes.

But it's wisest to consult with the parents of the child for whom you are buying.

YOUR YOUNG friend may not need the outfit you would buy. And his parents might object to having him in grown-up clothes. Most little girls, of course, have already a basic wardrobe and a word from their parents can save you shopping time.

The problem presented by footwear gifts is a question of health and safety. Although little girls will sparkle over a pair of patent leather, shiny, new high-heeled shoes, their parents may object. consult with the grownups first.

KEEP NEW fabrics in mind. Longer-wearing, washable, tear-resistant yarns are used widely in children's play and dress-up clothes. It's an added gift of economy if you make sure the things you buy will stand up.

The whole idea, according to leading clothing stores, is to make a run-of-the-closet outfit a little different for Christmas. So that on Christmas morning junior will dash outside to tell his friends

"Oh boy! I got six suits of underwear and they've got my initials on them."

Sheriff Objects to Role As Victim of Bad Check

KEYSER, W. Va. (UP)—A truck driver picked the wrong victim when he tried to pass a worthless check to a gas station owner named Earl Kemp at Newcreek.

The next day Kemp went to the trucker's home at Berkeley Springs and hauled him back to a justice's court, where he made good the $20 check and paid a $5 fine.

Kemp is sheriff of Mineral County.

Offer Yourself for Lasting Enjoyment

Give Mother a Night Off Or Invite Friend to Weekly Lunches

Most persons agree that the best Christmas gift of all is one that lasts all year 'round, constantly reminding the receiver of the giver's thought and good will. Yet they also seem to agree that such gifts are hard to find, and that when they do come across an idea it usually represents an item like clothing or furniture.

Actually, "a gift that lasts all year 'round" need not be a utilitarian object. It can be some sort of a service, or anything which arrives periodically throughout the remainder of the year. And it's not as hard to find as it seems.

AN EXCELLENT example is the "mother's night off" idea. Dad and the family can get together and agree to relieve Mom of the dinner-making chore (either by taking her out to dine or preparing the meal themselves) one weekday evening a week for a year.

To present the gift, they can draw up a legal-looking promissory note, wrap it in an impressive-looking package and place it under the tree.

A similar idea is to arrange for a weekly lunch, tea or dinner date for an elderly, retired person or couple. This may very well be the most appreciated present you give, as it will encourage the oldsters to go out, and will give them something to look forward to.

GIVING A YEAR-ROUND gift of this type doesn't have to be expensive. If you don't have the money for anything big, you can offer your services as a gift. With a little thought, you can easily discover some way to be of assistance to someone during the year, and thus present a gift worth more than you could buy.

A young girl, for instance, can offer to baby-sit one a week or so for a friend or relative with small children. A man or woman with a car can offer to drive a neighbor's children to school one or more days a week. Or they can offer to drive an elderly friend or relative to church each Sunday morning.

OTHER SUGGESTIONS for gifts of this type, well worth thinking over, are offered in the following list. With a little imagination, you can undoubtedly add many more.

1. Offer to read aloud once a week to an elderly person or a shut-in. Or arrange for a lending-library service.

2. Offer free cooking lessons, on any convenient basis, to a young girl or bride on your list.

3. Arange a subscription to the home-town newspaper of someone from out of town.

4. Agree to provide a weekly food package for a young college girl or boy who is living away at school. Or do the same for someone in the service.

5. Offer to do a year's mending for a single man or woman, or even a family.

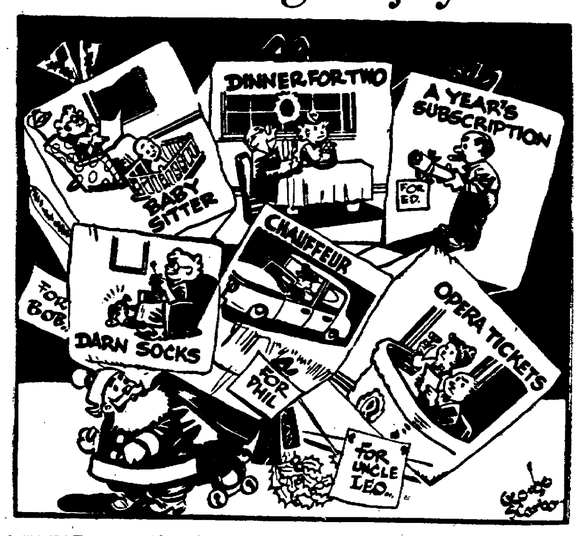
6. Arrange for maid service, once a week for a year, for a working couple on your list.

7. Give a model, dancing, or charm school course to a teen-age girl. Or professional golf or tennis lessons to a young boy. (In this same vein, you might give season tickets to the recipient's favorite sporting events, or tickets to movies, concerts, lectures or plays.)

8. For someone prominent — clubwoman, businessman, socialite—provide a monthly clipping service. Clip all press notices of interest to them or that mention the person and send them a batch each month.

9. Provide a private telephone, in addition to the regular house phone, for a teen-aged daughter. And have it placed in her room.

10. Buy the recipient a membership in a year-round gift service. Such services, widely advertised in magazines and newspapers, will send him each month a rare but inexpensive gift from a foreign country.



A TREAT, or a self-performed service as your gift to a friend, makes a priceless Christmas remembrance no one can buy.

First Thanksgiving In Ohio Was Held On Christmas Day

The First Thanksgiving Day in Ohio was on Christmas.

Ohio was still a part of the Northwest Territory at that time, and the official who proclaimed the first day of thanksgiving wasn't Santa Claus. The man who started the great festive day in the wilderness that is now Ohio was Governor Arthur St. Clair. The territorial governor set aside Thursday, December 25, 1788, as "a day of solemn thanksgiving and praise," when the inhabitants would "unite in humble supplications to Almighty God, that he would be graciously pleased to prosper this infant settlement, and the whole territory, in their husbandry, trade and manufactures, by His own nurturing hands, mature and bring to perfection all seminaries of learning, the promotion and enlargement of piety, and true religion amongst all nations of the earth." St. Clair closed his proclamation of the first Thanksgiving Day in Ohio with a typical Puritan admonition, "and I do prohibit servile labour on that day."

Thanksgiving Day has been changed several times by succeeding governors and presidents. Regardless of the date, the day is always observed with the greatest enthusiasm in Ohio.

'Off-Beat' Clothes Appreciated by Men

Cocktail Jacket or Fancy Tattersall Vest Among Suggestions for Dad

For thousands of gift shoppers each December, men are the hardest of all to check off the gift list with something appropriate, according to one nationwide shoppers' service.

And one solution to the problem, this service continues, is to give a man a present that will make him say:

"I've wanted this for a long time, but I'd certainly never have bought it for myself."

One good item to consider is the new short-length robe known as the cocktail jacket. It would be sheer luxury for the man-of-the-house to slip into this comfortable, new short-length wool robe.

Have you ever surprised an older man checking his dimensions in the hall mirror? If so, he has that touch of human vanity that would respond nicely to a really different gift—a fancy waistcoat.

Wool flannel in a tattersall (small squares) pattern or sheer wool challis, printed in paisley or sports motifs, are the best choices.

SUCH A VEST will help set the mood for casual weekend activities or just a stroll in the park. Simple stripes, reflecting the fancy waistcoat's 18th century origin, are shown in silk, and small embroidered patterns are scattered over vests made of linen.

A fancy vest is also a fine gift for a young man, but don't let the youthful nature of the fancy vest prevent you from giving one to Dad. The breadwinner needs to be reminded once in a while that his family does not think of him as an old fogey.

One of the warmest gifts is a muffler. This year your man can be made to forsake the usual dark, solid-color muffler by giving him a plaid or a lighter solid color. Plaids are given new color treatment in mufflers this year — shades that have not been thought of in the past are combined with new richness.

SOME OF THE different greens and dark browns found in rugged tweed fabrics are used in plaid patterned scarves that will brighten any man's appearance. A doubly-appreciated gift would be a cashmere, or wool and cashmere scarf, particularly in the natural tan shade.

There's probably a collection of single gloves in the wardrobe of one man out of three, which makes gloves another good gift idea. Gray mocha gloves are considered the proper dress glove, but they are cold, if unlined. Look for a pair with light wool fabric lining. These provide warmth without making the gloves bulky. And knitted wool gloves are particularly liked because their lower price makes their loss less painful. Solid colors are acceptable for office wear.

OLD-FASHIONED smoking jacket is back in vogue. This one's lightweight wool with flannel lapels and pocket trim (right). Topper to a Christmas morning can be that new hat he needs but won't buy. Pick it out with his style in mind.

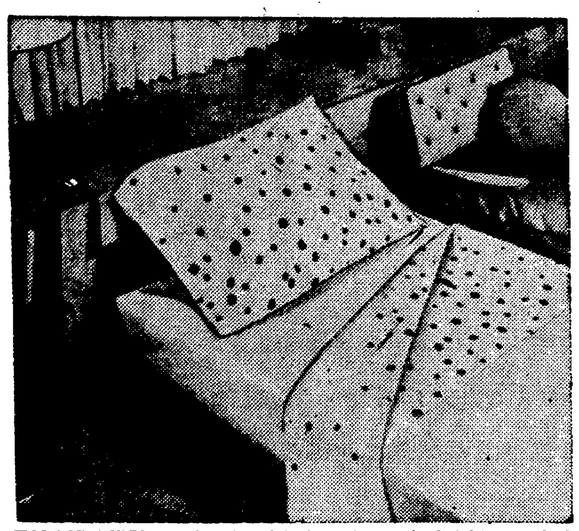
Gifts of Fabric Cheerful



FABRIC GIFTS can be cheerful as well as beautiful and useful. This bed sheet is showered with squares and dots in multi-color on percale. The pillow case matches.

Household linens, especially the new sheets and pillow-cases decorated with all-over patterns, make welcome gifts for any woman. They needn't involve a large expenditure either, if your Christmas cash is limited.

Beautiful new patterns in bedspreads are available to match any decor you choose. Colonial patterns blend nicely into a room dominated by a four-poster. Elizabethan-rich fabrics fit into period settings as if they'd been handed down through the years.

From South America and the Caribbean cultures have come designs that make bright spreads for casual rooms, day beds, studio couches.

Less expensive are new designs in bed sheets. The contour sheet, fitting the mattress like a glove, is still on the best-seller list. And there's something new.

It's a startling sheet-and-pillow case set. The fabric is percale, glowing with a pattern in color. Your choice of polka-dots, four-leaf clovers or a design in squares. This set would make a fine household gift for the guest room or for that teen-aged lass whose bedroom is alive with movie star's photos.

New tablecloths, too, are on display as Christmas gifts. Look them over. They can turn mealtimes into state occasions and, like soft music and candlelight, transform the humblest fare into a banquet.

Habits of Persons Serve as Guide to Gifts for Stocking

'Twas the day before Christmas,

And all through the house

Not a creature was stirring because they were all downtown shopping for small gifts to fill the stockings that would be hung with care in a few hours.

Last-minute gifts never do fill the bill—let alone the stocking—and, according to one buyer for a national department store chain, there's one sure way to beat this problem.

Keep a list. Every time you think of good stocking gift or read about one or see one, write it down.

Check the bathroom closets. If you notice that the men need new razors, make a note of it. New shaving cream? Extra deodorant? List it.

Watch Sis carefully. If her lipstick needs a refill, there's a stocking gift. And junior can probably use a new key ring or a selection of shoe laces. Or a pocket comb.

The trick to filling a stocking is the trick of noting personal habits.

TRADITIONAL DISHES

America's traditional Christmas dish is turkey, but other lands have different favorites. Germany, France, Ireland and Scandinavia favor goose; Italians like eels; Spaniards and Mexicans want lamb, and Cubans savor roast pig.

At a Canadian conference it was estimated that one Canadian in 60 is an alcoholic.

Many Gifts Are Available for Smokers

Wide Range of Articles And Prices Provide Fine Possibilities

Have you a smoker on your Christmas list? The odds are pretty good that you do. And if so, you can delight this person and ease your shopping tasks by catering to his smoke-dreaming habits.

The nicest thing of all, of course, is the fact that smokers' gifts are available in wide price ranges, and can be fitted to almost every budget.

CERTAIN GIFTS are old standbys. A cigarette smoker is sure to welcome a carton of his best liked brand; a cigar fancier will go for a favorite box of stogies, and pipe smokers can always use new pipes or a can of good tobacco.

Other gifts are more unusual, and show the recipient that you've at least given some special thought to the matter. A good example is a new type of ash tray, designed for television viewers. The tray itself glows in the dark, so the user won't miss with any ashes, and the base is a pliable "bean bag" that balances firmly on their arm or knee.

Another article with a different touch is a personalized cigar humidor, with matching ash trays. Humidors can be purchased in a variety of fine materials, among them hand-tooled leather. One new set that's particularly smart is made of vitrified china and features colorful designs of old-time American autos.

IN LIGHTERS, there are models to fit almost every smoker's taste. And even if the person you're buying for already has a pocket lighter, you can be sure of wowing him with a fashionable table model. Particularly appealing is a new styling in gold and emerald enamel; another of metal and plastic in classical lamp design is truly unusual.

If you wish to present a really impressive gift, you might consider a complete table set of lighter, oval-shaped tray and matching cigaret urn, all in silver plate. Or a new "Hostess Tray" ensemble in whih table lighter, humidor and ash tray are combined with coffee set, brandy warmer and ice bucket.

For your favorite cigar smoker, there are dozens of striking cigar cases to choose from, in leather, chrome and other finishes. You'll bring on a grin of pleasure, also, with a small leather pocket kit containing a cigar clipper.

Giving a pipe? Be sure to get the right one. Take a look at the smoker's collection to determine his favorite stylings. Or, when in doubt, consult the merchant.

IN GENERAL, a pipe must fit the face, Stocky men look best with a lage-bowled, rugged pipe; thin-faced men with a long-stem, standard bowl; and older men with a high, round bowl.

Pipe smokers on your list should be especially happy with a new white briar that's designed for use with dark suits and evening wear. And there's a pipe rest that's shaped like a deck chair.

A thoughtful touch to add when purchasing smokers' accessories is to have the item personalized, wherever this is possible. Ash trays, lighters, cases, humidors, and pipe stands—even boxes of match folders—are all available in monogrammed or initialed styles, and the lettering does much to lift the gift from the "ordinary" class.

SURE TO PLEASE a cigar smoker is this personalized cigar humidor, which comes with matching ash tray. Made of fine china, it features designs of America's great automobiles, circa 1910, and contains a permanent humidifier.

Engine on Gravestone Reminder of Accident

Mitchell Runnells was 16 years old. Like many another teen-ager, he wanted a car. It was 1927 and he worked on a farm, saving his money to get one. Finally he had enough to buy a used car.

Driving home in his new possession, the youth failed to hear an approaching train above the whistling of a winter wind and was killed in the crash.

Toys for Christmas Accent 'Growing Up' Theme

For 45 million Americans who refuse to go to work and insist on attending elementary school, Christmas toys this year accent the "growing-up" theme.

According to Robert B. M. Barton, president of the Toy Manufacturers of the U. S., star billing in the nation's toy departments goes to toys that have been designed to develop children's aptitudes and help them prepare for useful professions.

And hand in hand with "career" toys are child-size kits and tools that follow adult America's rush to "do it yourself." No longer will "Chicken Little" be able to tell mamma that the sky is falling down. For mama will have given her a "fix-the-sky-yourself" kit for Christmas.

IN OPENING the door to careers and vocations, toyland is keeping pace with grown-up scientists. Miniature atomic defense devices have taken the place of guns, tanks and planes modeled after Korean war equipment.

Atomic defense trucks with a siren-friction motor, and a ray gun, a rocket tracker and a civil defense set with a sounding beam, are some of the new additions to toyland's defense equipment. Three-D scenery is featured for train sets. Motor cars with super streamlines, stratoplanes, and new developments in space guns and space ports are ready for Christmas, 1953 style.

However, the cowboy and his range-riding equipment still are far ahead on the best-seller list with girls' enthusiasm for horses and six-shooters boosting volume to record highs.

New thrills in the "toys that prepare for careers" category is a conductor kit complete with tickets, punch, whistle, play money, a train arrival schedule and conductor's hat.

CATERING TO little girls is a new Junior Nurse convertible four-wheel bike that provides a shoulder-strap bag full of first-aid essentials, an apron and a nurse's hat. The bike frame expands so that it can be used for three-to-seven-year-olds.

And a new thrill for youngsters with TV-producer ambitions is an authentic miniature of a night-location TV truck complete with revolving spotlight.

Practical props for the young grocer are provided by a fiberboard supermarket equipped with shelves, miniature packages, and authentic tomato soup special-display material. There is a wide variety of indoor gardening sets keyed to farm themes, and scale-model farm implements, too, are being featured, as well as several lines of large tractors for children to pedal.

THERE'S A NEW cake-baking set, based on popular-brand mixes and frostings, for nursery cooks.

New idea in kits for the six-to-10-age group is a wonder-weaver with a "tidy yarn dispenser" which partitions the generous allotment of 40 yards of wool into neat plastic compartments, according to colors. It's made of hard maple, guaranteed snag-proof and has no metal parts.

A de luxe kiddie shoe shine kit has a red enameled footrest and doubles as a bank.

Playroom architects will be able to produce "just like real" buildings in their model city with plastic and brick building kits which include many type of structural parts.

SIMPLIFIED magic sets make the career of prestidigitator practical for the kindergarten set.

A refrigerator truck and a supermarket supply truck are added to the list of wheel toys that commercial vehicle. New fire-fighting equipment provides a scale-model hook and ladder with a cast aluminum ladder that extends upward four feet.

Junior will get training in changing tires, too, with one of the new take-apart miniature cars.

And, among the more practical training kits, is a complete plumber's outfit. It supplies a plumbing truck with a built-in tank, 35 tools that can easily be forgotten and all the pipe needed to install a bathtub with running water.

There's even a jack, wrench, hacksaw and pipe with connecting elbow, T pipes and all the other accoutrements a master plumber needs.

Reading Gifts Available for All Age Groups

This year, this dialogue will be repeated dozens of times before the Christmas list has been checked off:

QUESTION: Shall we get cousin Fred a book?

ANSWER: No. He's got a book.

But psychologists and educators declare that reading is the doorway to new worlds. And what better time than Christmas to give a gift of a new world?

Take your book-buying tip from book stores. They break their wares down into age groups, subject matter and technique. If you do the same for your gift list, you'll come up with a book that's a winner.

And so for cousin Fred who is 53 years old and sure he's got the answer to the world's political ills, you'll get the latest word of nonfiction from the current events department.

A book is a natural gift for a book collector. But sound advice from experts is: DON'T! Chances are the collector knows more about his library than you. And if his tastes run to first editons printed in the Belgian Congo, your gift is going to be expensive, if not impossible to find.

More than even is the bet that you'll wow the younger set with a gift for the library. And according to the Children's Book Council, there's a wide field to choose from.

The kids' taste these days, the Council says, runs to science: biology, chemistry, physics and electronics.

Both boys and girls, according to surveys, go for history and social studies. It's best, though to give out-and-out biographies or recommended historical fiction rather than history texts that smack of the classroom.

Children who are growing into teens begin to show their own personalities more strongly. You can tell if Patricia Anne is ready for romance; or young Danny for poetry.

But for teen-agers, young adults or for the whole family, experts say, it's the reference work that is the most valuable standby. An atlas, a dictionary, a thesaurus, a book of familiar quotations should be a solid addition to any household library.

Relic Goes on Display From First Ironworks

BOSTON (UP)—The butt of a huge oak tree, used as an anvil at the forge of America's first ironworks, recently was unearthed at Saugus, Mass.

The tree was felled about 1647 when the ironworks was founded. Discovered while excavating the site, the cross section now is on permanent exhibit at the First Ironworks Museum.

Tanker Truck Loaded With Gas Overturns

Fuel Spills on Road In Morrow County; Driver Not Injured

An accident in Morrow County near Mt. Gilead Wednesday afternoon nearly resulted in tragedy. A tanker truck loaded with high octane aviation gasoline turned over on State Route 95 about two miles east of Mt. Gilead at 12:40 p.m., highway patrolmen from the Marion post reported today.

State patrol reports indicate the truck was owned by the Buckeye Transport Inc. of Findlay and was driven by Roy William Butler, 26, of near Pataskala. The vehicle was a double trailer loaded with the gasoline and powered by a tractor outfit.

The truck was eastbound on the road and went out of control on a sharp curve in a valley between two steep hills. It went off the left hand side of the hghway and overturned, leaving part of the rear trailer on the roadway.

Patrolmen rushed to the scene where they set out flagmen to warn oncomng traiffic. All the gasoline from the rear trailer was spilled on the highway as well as a considerable amount of the fuel from the front trailer.

After working for several hours, patrolmen were finally able to get the vehicle towed away and the gasoline cleaned off the road.

Butler was not injured in the wreck. Patrolmen say he had gone down one grade, made part of the turn, and was preparing to ascend the other hill when he lost control of the vehicle.

Both sides and the top of the rear trailer, the sides of the front trailer, and the entire tractor outfit were considerably damaged. No estimate of the amount of gasoline spilled on the highway could be made by the patrol.

'Good Samaritans' Assist Cardington Couple in Harvest

Special to The Star

CARDINGTON — The golden harvest of 3,000 bushels of golden "maize" from 40 acres of corn ground in one day was the result of the Cardington St. Paul Lutheran Church "Good Samaritan act" recently at the farmstead home of Mr. and Mrs. John Haenszel, northeast of this village, near the Marion-Morrow County line.

Church pastor, Rev. Theo. C. Partridge and former pastor, Rev. W. F. Bittikofer, organized a working force of 25 parishioners and neighbors to assist Mr. Haenszel, who had been ill during the fall working season, in completing his harvest.

"Operation Good Samaritan" was a surprise project in the Cardington-Bethol-Salem community carried on by eight corn pickers, 10 wagons and two grain elevators to pick and crib the 3,000 bushels of corn for the deserving young family, who are new residents of this area.

A "commissary" was set up by the women of the community who surprised the young Mrs. Haenszel when they arrived early in the forenoon with food to feed 50 people who had gathered. The dinner was truly a "feast of thanksgiving" for the good-natured folks.

Cincinnatian Sentenced For Cutting Blind Man

CINCINNATI, Nov. 5 (AP)—Arval Dozier, 45, pleaded self defense today on a charge of cutting to kill a blind man.

Calling the plea "ridiculous," Criminal Court Judge Dennis J. Ryan convicted Dozier and sentenced him to Ohio Penitentiary for 1-20 years.

Dozier claimed that Tracy Gilkerson, a blind man, seized him by the coat in a cafe last Aug. 12 and struck him with a cane. The cutting followed.

Kitchen Utensils Make Good Presents

Handsome Giftware Also Will Be Enjoyed by Woman of House

Whether she's a young bride or an experienced homemaker, the joy of Christmas morning will extend through the year for the woman who finds gleaming, long-lasting kitchen utensils under the tree this Yule-tide. The same goes for handsome giftware pieces.

By compromising with quantity instead of quality, it's possible to give the very best in cooking ware to someone who rates a special place on your Christmas list. That "someone" might be the young girl still in the hope-chest stage, the prospective bride, the wife whose dream kitchen is to become a reality this year in a newly purchased home, or just any woman who's ever donned an apron.

THE RIGHT POTS and pans—indispensable aids in the efficiently-operated kitchen — can add to the fun and subtract from the effort involved in preparing daily meals. And that's a result that appeals to every woman.

Such a gift won't dent the budget as much as you might think it would. Several concerns have put together economical "starter sets." These sets contain all the pieces needed for everyday meal preparation, and can be expanded into larger, complete sets by the addition of other pieces as time goes on.

Included in one such set are 7, 8½, and 10½-inch frying pans; one, two, three and four-quart saucepans, all with covers, and a five-quart Dutch overn.

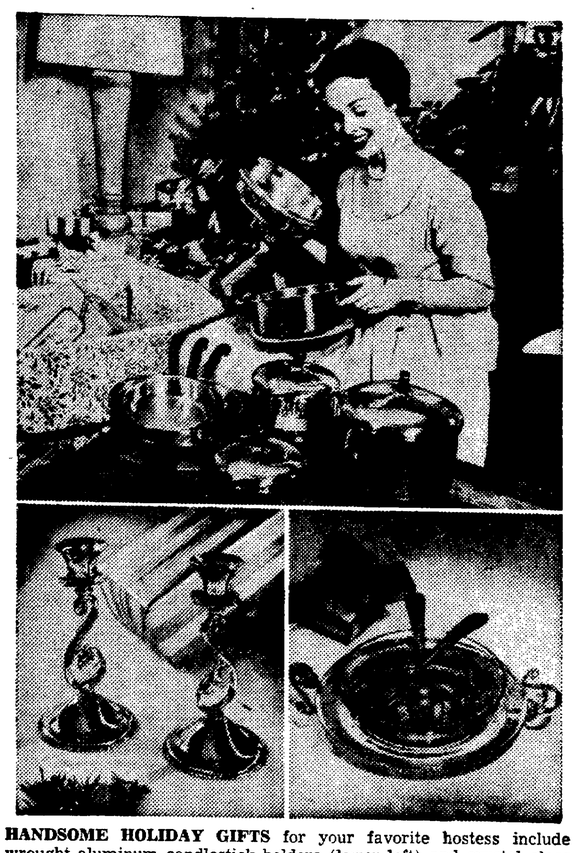
EVEN MORE appealing to the gift-seeker, because of the moderate-price range, are the newest giftware pieces. Such gifts are traditionally popular — especially for friends and relatives where one gift must suffice for the family.



HANDSOME HOLIDAY GIFTS for your favorite hostess include wrought aluminum candlestick holders (lower left) and crystal glass salad bowl (lower right) with wooden fork and spoon and polished aluminum tray. For a young engaged girl or housewife, another fine present is a "starter set" of pots and pans. All basic utensils are included in the package.

A good bet is a pair of wrought aluminum candlestick holders. Available in tall or short lengths in several attractive designs, these will lend year-round grace to dining area or living room. And the aluminum is not hard to clean.

Another idea is a handsome compote dish, seven inches high, which is supported by an S-shaped, stem-like stand in a tulip motif. Matching pieces are an eight-inch bon-bon dish with center handle, a candy dish with side handle, and a double-tiered snack tray.

Most women on your list would also love to own a crystal glass salad bowl, resting on a highly-polished, wrought-aluminum tray, which adds greatly to the beauty of a holiday table or buffet setting.

Large Selection Noted

Marion Stores Display Variety of Gifts

The answer to the question of what to put under the tree for the Miss or Mrs. in your life is answered by a tour of Marion stores this holiday season.

In addition to the buzz of activity these days there also is an accompaniment of "oh's and ah's" as huge boxes are being opened and tissue-wrapped lovelies go onto shelves and into cases, all ready for Christmas choosing.

Wide Variety of Dresses

What maid or matron wouldn't thrill to a new dress or blouse in which to make the holiday rounds? There is a wide variety to choose from in the way of frocks and when it comes to blouses, it's just a matter of deciding which one. If you lean towards the tailored type there are details that give them just that different look, and the dressier ones are a-glitter with jeweled buttons or touched off with a perky bow of tucks to give the right answer to a suit ensemble. And if you are lucky enough to be the sweater type, there's no use looking further. Hostess coats, slips, hose, scarves, gloves and purses add up to easy answers to a gift problem, and what dressing table can't make room for another bottle of perfume or cologne.

The luggage departments have all the answers in the way of attractive train cases, overnighters and hat boxes to double as an overnight bag, in all style and material from the sedate to the gay. What Miss or Mrs. can't use an extra hassock, new dressing table bench, knitting stand to hold that elusive ball of yarn, lounge pillow in a gay color or a new magazine rack?

Tablecloths and Napkins

Something in the way of a collector's item is found in the figurine, or an ironstone china tureen. For a favorite hostess there are tablecloths and napkins, gay aprons, vases, pitchers and scores of other "specially made for Christmas" items.

There are always corners that need a lamp. A pair of candlesticks would be "just dandy" for the Christmas candles and a desk lamp would help that college miss cramming for mid-year exams.

There are items in festive glassware, trays that you won't mar, ash trays that can't spill, card shufflers for the canasta player and scores of other items that add up to the answer to the shopper's problem.

Costume and novelty jewelry catch the eye on every turn and for the gift to "last for many Christmases" there are wrist watches, rings, pins, necklaces in all styles.

For a cozy night at home, there are robes and slippers, and for dancing there are slippers and evening bags to top off milady's costume.

Man Finds Jail Boring On Second Time Around

One man sentenced to 30 days protested that he would rather pay a $30 fine.

"I'm afraid you've overstepped your bounds this time," the judge said. "Besides, you look like you could use a good rest."

"But judge," the man protested, "I just finished a nice rest up there—12 days long—and now it's just getting to be monotonous."

Timepieces of Moderate Price Are Well Made And Smartly Styled

A watch is the kind of Christmas gift that keeps you, the giver, always in mind. Long after the tinsel and wrappings have been cleared away and the tree taken down, the watch is a constant reminder of you to the wearer.

You needn't pay a small fortune for the watch you give this Christmas. Good - looking, well - made, smartly-styled watches are to be had at modest budget prices. Typical is a new line of moderate-priced watches for both men and women just developed by a famous firm.

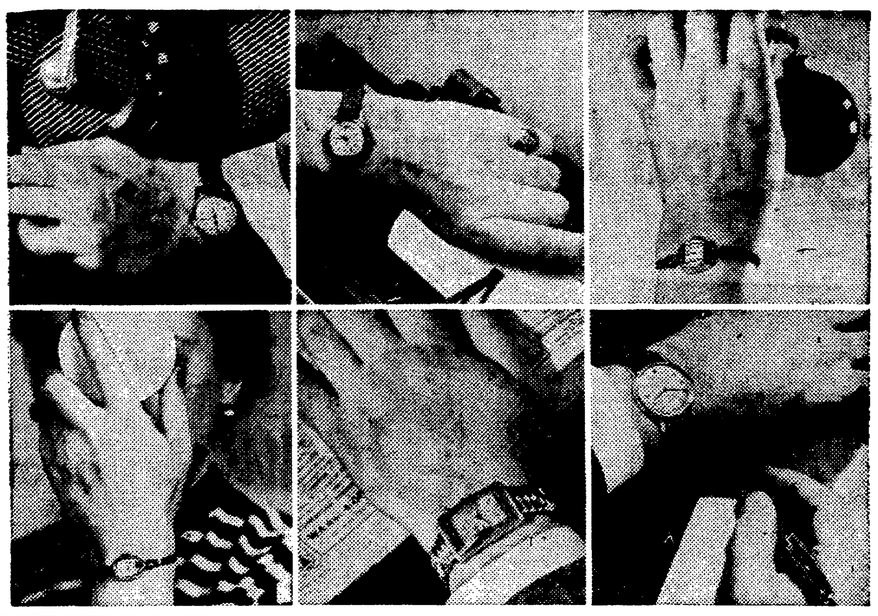
These watches, subjected to rigid tests and backed by a guarantee, have features generally found only in more expensive watches. There's a career girl series, for instance, that features 17-jewel, antimagnetic movements and sweep-second hands. These are ideal for nurses, technicians and busines women who like to be precisely on time throughout the day. These watches are equipped with leather bracelets or silk cords.

Other styles for women include a model with yellow or white gold-filled case set with two diamonds. It sells at a very modest price.

Men get a break this year, too. Their watches are shockproof, 17-jewel, and antimagnetic. Some have sweep-second hands and others have dome crystals, recessed se cond hands or toonneau shapes. They are offered in stainless steel or gold-filled cases and some are self-winding.

In the same time department, don't overlook the handsome household clocks that can brighten a kitchen or add dignity to a living room. Listen for the sound of chimes, or the bell if it's to be an alarm clock. A loud timepiece can make you miserable.

So make sure that wind-up clocks are quiet. A good family gift is a cuckoo clock for the kitchen.



THESE GIFT WATCHES for both men and women are moderately-priced, come in wide choice of metals, case styles and watch bands. We show here (upper left) a man's watch that's self-winding, has reserve power indicator, sweep-seconds, is waterproof, shockproof and anti-magnetic. Case is stainless steel. Career girl's watch (upper center) has luminous hands and markers, pigskin strap, is waterproof and anti-magnetic. Dainty watch (upper right) has silk cord bracelet, comes in yellow or white gold. Tiny watch (lower left) on slender silk cord bracelet is flattering to slim wrist, Watch for business man (lower center) has matching bracelet, is shockproof. All-purpose watch for man (lower right) is rolled gold with stainless steel back.

Select Something Personal

Shop Scientifically for the Best Results

There are two basic schools of gift-picking-out. There is, first, the easy way. There is, second, the right way.

The easy way is to go buy a whole mess of stuff, all the same, and give one to everybody. For instance, you might buy two dozen cans of snuff, two dozen bottles of cologne, and two dozen boxes of assorted balloons. Then you'd give every man on your list a can of snuff, every woman a bottle of cologne and every child a box of assorted ballons.

—:—

THAT IS NICE and simple, but suppose Uncle Pertwee, for example, hates snuff, and Cousin Clotilda doesn't use smellum water, and little Buster hasn't got the vaguest interest in balloons. You haven't spread the joy that you should. You've been a Christmas dud.

No, there is only one way to pick gifts. Do it scientifically. Start with that basic element, the list. This is not as simple as it sounds. You must, obviously, put down the names of everyone you want to give a present to: (Note: Don't ever say to yourself, "I owe so-and-so a gift." That's not the right attitude.)

So you start, on the left side of the page, with a list of names. For example, you might have Uncle Pertwee, Counsin Clotilda and little Buster. In the next column, put their address. This is so you'll have a reminder of when you should mail the gift, in case they live out of town.

—:—

AND THEN—here's where science enters—put down something about each person. Perhaps a hobby, or a personal perculiarity, or a violent dislike. The key to good successful, appreciated gift-giving is selecting something personal You know like gifts that are obviously chosen for you; so does everyone else.

Take Uncle Pertwee. (No, don't really take him, he's the rich uncle.) He likes knitting, cooking and collecting old, stained hat bands. If you give him a power saw, he'd take you out of his will so fast you'd think he had a jet-powered codicil.

Give him something he'll use. An old, stained hat band would be nice. (Wrap it with a sprig of holly.) Or something for his hobbies—a new knitting needle, or perhaps a nice new pressure cooker.

COUSIN CLOTILDA is a sweet old gal. She's very handy around the house. The power saw would be right up her antimacassar. Or a set of matched chisels. But she's not just a putterer. She also likes golf and watching the rassling matches on TV. Perhaps a new tee or a subscription to a TV magazine?

Little Buster, bless his six-year-old hide, is a typical boy. But no boy is really typical. Buster, for instance, has his likes and dislikes—he isn't an electric train fancier, but he has begun to collect stamps. And he also likes animals, like snakes and frogs.

He'd love some stamps. And, for his hobby, don't get him a snake, but he'd get a big kick out of a specimen box or butterfly net.

JUST IN CASE you don't know enough about one of your victims—er, gift recipients—there are some tried and true gifts. For men, a tie—but, steady now, pick a nice, conservative job unless you know for sure he goes for wild ones. Or jewelry like a tie clasp; or smoking stuff, if you know what he smokes; or a good book, if he can read; or a scarf, unless he lives in Florida.

For a "her," the best bet is some simple cologne. Not a powerful scent, just a mild one. Or a compact; women can always use a new compact. Or a good book, if she can read. Or some jewelry, a necklace, for instance, or earrings, if she has ears.

Barber Doesn't Please, He Trims His Own Hair

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (UP)—Because he didn't like the way the barber cut his hair when he was 14, Hubert Brown, 52-year-old salesman, has sat in a barber's chair only three times in his life.

The man with the neat crewcut said his last trip to a barber shop came about 10 years ago when he had an important engagement.

"After the barber had finished and I looked at my hair, I called the person I was supposed to meet and said I would be late for our engagement," Brown said. "Then I went home and trimmed it to my own satisfaction."

Two-Thirds Increase

Postoffice Here Will Add 60 Workers During Rush

The Marion postoffice will increase its staff by almost two-thirds in order to handle the Christmas mail load.

Postmaster Homer D. Cole expects to employ approximately 60 extra helpers, but the exact number will depend on the weight of the holiday mail load. He explained that the earlier people do their Christmas mailing the lighter will be the load and the less extra workers the postoffice will have to employ.

THE EMPLOYMENT of extra workers will begin when people start thteir heavy Christmas mailing. However, Cole doesn't expect to put on extra workers in the postoffice itself until Dec. 14 Extra carriers will go on the mail routes about Dec. 15 or 16.

Cole said that he hopes the Christmas load will be cleaned up by Dec. 24.

The Postoffice Department this year is experimenting with a new plan aimed at expediting the delivery of mail and economizing during the Christmas rush. Under this trial plan local postmasters were directed to use regular experienced mail handlers, paying them overtime for working longer hours, rather than taking on too many inexperienced helpers.

COLE SAID, however, that the adoption of this plan would not cut down on the number of extra helpers employed locally this year. The setup has been in use in Marion for a number of years, and any cuts in Christmas personnel were made when it was first adopted here.

Approximately 60 to 70 per cent of the extra workers will be repeaters from previous Christmas rushes. So far some 60 inexperienced helpers have ben interviewed for Christmas jobs by Marion postal authorities. It ix expected that almost that number will be interviewed in the near future.

No more applications are being accepted from inexperienced workers. Those who have worked at the postoffice during other holiday rushes are not interviewed.

Taped Records May Be Used In Home Films

It's just a matter of progress, take motion pictues for example. Years ago they were silent films. Then came talkies. And then there's the old joke that some are "smellis," too.

Not home movies, of course. There's no producer-director-cameraman in the world who can hold a spotlight to the "smile, please" home-movietaker.

If you know one who measures his life and times in film footage, your Christmas gift problem is solved. For on the market today is a new sound tape that can be symchronized with home movies to give them a finished, professional-sounding background of voice and-or music.

A sound recording made in this manner can be played back in perfect synchronism hundreds of times. If a mistake is made in recording, the tape can be erased and a new recording made. If film and tape get out of synchronization, the speed of the projector is adjusted accordingly.

Church bells, a wedding march and the popping of corks can be dubbed on films of a wedding and reception. Sound effects ranging from that of a roaring lion for a zoo sequence to breaking waves for a beach scene are available.

A birthday party, a talent show, the family together at Christmas for an old-fashioned carol - sing have become moments to keep alive in sound.

DAY IN COURT

TOLLAND, Conn. (UP) — John Ulrich, 17, had a busy day in court. First he was fined $12 for a traffic violation. Later he was given 60 days for evading responsibility. He appealed the sentence. Finally he was bound over to a higher court on charges of breaking, entering and theft.

Make Pleasing Hobbyists Your Hobby

Photography Enthusiasts Easy To Satisfy With Camera Accessories

On almost every Christmas list, there seem to be one or two persons who have you completely stumped. You can't think of anything to buy them, other than the "usual" items.

Whenever this happens, don't give up until you've at least asked yourself this question:

"Does he or she have any hobbies?"

If the answer is yes, and the hobby is at all conventional, you may have solved your dilemma. For hobbyists like nothing better than a gift that fits their favorite pastime.

PHOTOGRAPHY enthusiasts for instance, make Christmas shopping a "snap." Picture-taking is the nation's No. 1 hobby and the manufacturers have kept pace with it. So gifts available are almost endless in variety.

One good item is an illustrated photography handbook which will explain how to take better pictures and how to select and care for equipment. Another is a new wide-angle telephoto lens which permits the photographer to take a much wider area, indoors or out, and is fine for panoramic vacation shots.

ACCESSORIES range in price from a few cents to hundreds of dollars. So even with a modest budget you're sure to find something to please. A lens cap, for instance, costs less than a dollar, but is needed by every photographer.

If the hobbyist is a model builder, try a new airplane kit. Or a kit for building small models of ancient autos. Or one for reproducing famous old-time locomotives.

SOME FRIEND makes gardening his hobby. If so, it's easy to draw his pleasure with a set of garden tools, or a pair of garden gloves that are durable, dirt-repellent and washable. Women who like to grow plants will adore any of the indoor-planter styles, or gift-packaged flower bulbs.

For knitters, crocheters and just plain sewing devotees, there are specialized shops which cater to these needs exclusively. Probably there's one in the town where you shop. A quick trip through it, and a talk with the sales clerk, should unearth a rich mine of gift suggestions.

The system is so fool-proof that even a color-blind person can produce a beautiful painting, which can be framed and treasured for life.

ARTISTRY IN COLOR makes for a happy recreation for thousands of people. A good gift for young and old, painting set possibilities extend beyond the easel. This housewife decorated playroom accessories with paints and brush in gift kit.

HOBBYISTS go for accessory gifts. Camera fans, for example, love flash guns, view finders, lenses, light meters.

Sharp Blade First Need

Advice Given on Carving Holiday Bird

If you're a holiday host and carving the turkey is the only dismal spot in an otherwise joyous holiday—take heart! It isn't as difficult as it may seem.

Naturally you must have a good sharp carving knife! The job will prove easier if you stand up to carve and always carve the side of the turkey that's away from you. If the carver is right-handed, place the legs of the bird to the right; if left-handed, to the left.

First, remove a leg by holding the drumstick firmly with the thumb and forefinger. Cut through the skin by drawing knife back and forth, and sever joint. Press leg away from the body with the flat side of the knife, then cut remaining skin on the back. Plac leg on a service plate.

Disjoint drumstick and thigh by holding leg at almost right angles to the plate and cutting through meat to the bone. Hold thigh with knife and press down on drumstick until bone snaps.

Slice leg meat by holding drumstick perpendicular and cut down, turning leg to get uniform slices. To slice thigh meat, straddle the bone with fork and cut meat in lengthwise strips.

To slice white meat, insert knife in rib section on opposite side. Hold knife parallel to breast and cut with a sawing motion Start first slice just above place where wing was removed and cut slices about ¾" thick.

Cut skin away from cavity to facilitate removal of dressing. In serving, give each person a slice of white and dark meat and a portion of dressing.

Worried Publisher Relieved

Americans Don't Mind Being Hoaxed

BY ARTHUR EDSON

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25 (AP)—The American people don't mind being hoaxed. As a matter of fact, they may even like it.

For proof:

On Nov. 14, it was discovered that the supposedly true life hero of a fast selling book, "The Man Who Wouldn't Talk," was a fake. He couldn't have had those lurid wartime adventures in France because he never had been in France at all.

Its author, Quentin Reynolds, moaned: "It looks like the greatest hoax ever perpetrated."

Its publishers at Random House sorrowfully agreed. If you want your money back, they told buyers, you can have it.

And what has happened?

A survey today shows that hardly anyone—and maybe no one at all—has asked for his $2.75 back.

In fact, sales have been better than ever.

The whole thing came up because of a phone call from a fellow with a theory. "Did you know," he asked, "that the public likes to be gulled?" He said that was his theory, and he'd bet the figures on "The Man Who Wouldn't Talk" would prove it.

"No, we haven't had a single request from anyone for his money."

"I don't believe we have (had a request for a refund). No, not one."

"None so far, so I don't suppose we will have any now."

But Washington is an unusual town. Maybe people here would look more kindly on hoaxes than they would elsewhere. So a call was put in to Donald Klopfer, vice president of Random House in New York.

"So far as I know," Klopfer said, "we haven't had a single demand for money back. No, that's not quite true.

"On Wednesday"—four days after the expose—"a man came in and asked for a refund.

"Our receptionist explained he should take the book to his bookseller who would give him the money. Well, the man turned to go and then paused to ask how many had come around to ask for a refund.

"'You're the first,' the receptionist said truthfully.

"'Well,' said the man, 'if no one else wants his money, I don't either.'

"We haven't heard from him since."

On the other hand—

"Our sales have accelerated. Not much, but some."

Still, Klopfer doesn't think much of hoaxes as business ventures. He agrees that those on the outer edges may not mind an occasional gulling, but he has some firm ideas on anyone caught in the middle of a hoax.

"Nobody," he said, "likes to know he's been made a sucker."

Music Program Planned For Meetings at Calvary

First of a series of musical dramas in connection with the special meetings at Calvary EUB Church will be presented Saturday night under direction of J. Roy MacMurray, Pennsylvania musician. This will be a performance of "The Ninety and Nine" on 16 musical instruments together with vocal solos and duets. In addition, the church Senior Choir and children's Rhythm Hour Chorus will sing.

Featured by Mr. MacMurray will be music of his 102-year-old cornet. The three-valved instrument of 1851 craftsmanship is typical of the cornet-bugles used in Civil War time military bands. He will play also his 42-inch "triumphal trumpet" believed to be one of eight fanfare trumpets still in existence. Formerly, he was associated musically with Rev. Paul Rader, noted evangelist, Rev. Oliver E. Williams, and the late "Gospel tenor," George Dibble. Mrs. J. W. Baker, Calvary Church accompanist, will assist the MacMurrays at the piano and organ.

Cornet solos by Mr. MacMurray will be "Willow Echoes," "The Lord's Prayer," and his own "marche caprice" arrangement of "Ring the Bells of Heaven." The revival will continue throughout next week with the pastor, Rev. Clyde Wendell, preaching.

Virginia Cities Answer Emergency Traffic Act

CHICAGO (UP)—What happens when it is illegal for a fire truck to run a red light?

Virginia cities were faced with the problem when the state's supreme court ruled that emergency vehicles must obey traffic signals.

Richmond and Roanoke solved the problem simply, the American Public Works Association reported, by turning off all traffic lights in the affected one.

Some Virginia cities have provided for the traffic lights to switch to blinking caution patterns to allow fire and police vehicles to speed through, the association added.

Welcome Sovereign

Jamaicans Cheer at First Sight of Queen Elizabeth

KINGSTON, Jamaica, Nov. 25 (AP) —Queen Elizabeth II, smiling and beautiful in a light blue dress, received an enthusiastic welcome to this ancient rum, banana and sugar colony in the Caribbean today.

The sun was shining brilliantly as the Queen—followed by her husband, the Duke of Edinburgh, in a white naval uniform—stepped from the sleek silver and blue American-built Stratocruiser which brought them from Bermuda to Montego Bay airport, on this island's northwest coast. It was the first visit of a reigning sovereign to Jamaica, home to 1¼ million of Elizabeth's subjects.

The royal couple attended a round of ceremonies in Bermuda yesterday, spent the night there and took off early for Jamaica. Their big plane, flying the royal standard, landed at 9:52 a.m. (EST) at Montego Bay, a favorite spot with American vacationers.

The Queen walked with the duke along a carpet to a small dais. He stood at her left and just behind her as the Jamaican constabulary snapped to the royal salute and the colorfully costumed Jamaican Zouave band played "God Save The Queen." As the band played softly, many in the crowd wept for joy at their first sight of their Queen.

Elizabeth then reviewed the constabulary and thanked her British Overseas Airways Corp. (BOAC) crewmen who brought her to Jamaica. The pilot, Capt. A. C. Lorraine, got a medal of the Royal Victorian Order and personal thanks from the Queen for a fine trip.

Colonial Gov. Sir Hugh Foot, resplendent in a white uniform and plumed white helmet, welcomed the monarch as the crowd, which had been strangely silent, suddenly broke into a cheer.

E. H. Lake of Antigua, representing the legislatures of the British West Indian colonies, presented a copy of the formal welcome address to the Queen. It said in part:

"Our dearest wish is that we should build a new dominion here in the West Indies to take an honorable place with the other dominions of your majesty's worldwide commonwealth."

When the brief ceremony at the airport ended, the Queen and duke got into an automobile which took them first to the town of Montego Bay and thence on a narrow 125-mile-mountain highway diagonally across the island to the capital here at Kingston, on the southeast coast.

They saw many spots famous in history and legend along the palm-fringed highway. One such place was Rose Hall, now a ruin, scene of the operations of sinister, legendary Anne Palmer. Known as "The White Witch," Anne murdered various husbands and lovers until she was finally strangled by her slaves or—according to a novel—by a young planter who did not quite fall for her charms.

The royal couple passed another spot linked with great names in English literature — Barrett Hall whence came the Barretts of Wimpole Street, London, whose daughter Elizabeth married the Poet Robert Browning.

Special importance is attached to the royal visit at this time, when Communists have been trying to stir up unrest in the colonies and many colonials are seeking greater independence.

After spending three days on Jamaica, the royal party will leave by ship for passage through the Panama Canal and visits to New Zealand, Australia, Ceylon and other Commonwealth and empire posts in the Pacific and Indian Oceans. The Royal tourists will swing through the Mediterranean on their way home from their six-month journey.

Federal Judge Advises New Bankruptcy Action

HARTFORD, Conn. (UP) — It's ironic, but those most to blame for bankruptcy get hurt the least, according to Judge Saul Berman U. S. bankruptcy referee.

The judge explained that creditors who may have sold the bankrupt person some luxury items, forcing him down the economic drain, are the first to be paid off because they're protected by chattel mortgages and other legal devices. He added that it's about time similar safeguards were provided for the doctor, grocer, landlord and others who provide necessities of life and who inevitably lose in bankruptcy proceedings.

SAUCER KID

NEW BRITAIN, Conn. (UP)—Archie Hovanesian, Jr., 12, built a "flying saucer" that measures 18 inches in diameter and doesn't need a string to return it to the "pilot's" feet. Its engine causes it to circle like a boomerang.

Arsenic, Lead Fail To Harm Termites

WASHINGTON (UP) —Rows of upright posts that look like grave stones and are half buried in the soil of Barro Colorado Island in the Canal Zone may yield the answer to one of the home-owners's most vexing problems—termites.

The Smithsonian Institution's tropical biological station on the island maintains the posts to test the wood preferences of the island's 42 species of termites. The posts, of many different woods, are impregnated with various types of repellents and poisons in an effort to find an effective means of combating the expensive pests.

The longer the work is continued, the more evidences of the little insect's contrariness and ingenuity are turned up.

One of the 42 species, scientifically known as "Coptotermes Niger," eats lead. It gnaws its way through the indigestible lead sheathing of cables because it hopes there will be wood on the other side.

Efforts to poison termite colonies are not always successful. Whole races of them have developed on Barro Colorado Island. They not only resist arsenic but seem to thrive on it.

The explanation for this is found in the way termites digest the cellulose in wood. Bacteria which live in their stomachs digest the substance for they are not able to do this for themselves. It was hoped that the arsenic would kill these bacteria, thus starving the termite.

In the first experiments with arsenic at least 90 per cent of the bacteria were killed but the remaining hardy specimens quickly multiplied themselves into a new race entirely impervious to arsenic.

It's Reports Like This Which Spice Up Living

WOODS HOLE, Mass. (UP) — The amount of water that flows through the Florida Straits, between Key West and Havana, Cuba, every second of the year would fill 100,000,000 bathtubs.

That was reported by the Woods Hole Oceanographic Institution which conducted a 12-month study of the Straits water.

The study showed that volume of the Florida current averaged 21,000,000 cubic meters a second and ranged up to 39,000,000 cubic meters.

Booms Adlai for Presidency

Alabama Governor High In Praise for Stevenson

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Nov. 25 (AP) —Adlai Stevenson side-stepped all questions on his future political plans today but got a hearty boost for the presidency in 1956 from Gov. Gordon Persons of Alabama.

The former Illinois governor drew resounding applause in a packed House of Representatives when Gov. Persons introduced him as probably the "next President of the United States."

At a news conference shortly before he had told newsmen, "I have no future political ambitions."

Replying to a reporter's flat question of whether he would accept the Democratic nomination if it were offered to him, Stevenson said jovially: "If I knew, I wouldn't tell you." He added, however, that it was his desire to "serve my party, in any way I can."

Another newsman observed that Stevenson's address to the Georgia General Assembly in Atlanta yesterday appeared to have political overtones and wondered if the 1952 Democratic nominee had started his campaign for President in 1956 yet.

"Emphatically not," Stevenson shot back. "I am not a candidate, and I have not the remotest idea of what my political future may be."

He did say that he could see no practical reason "for me to come South to mend political fences" because of the strong support he got from Southern voters last year.

Leading political figures from over the state thronged into the governor's office early today to shake hands with the visiting celebrity before the scheduled news conference.

A majority of the Alabama congressional delegation showed up as did the state's senior senator, Lister Hill. Sen. John Sparkman, Stevenson's vice presidential running mate last year, appeared earlier but left before the reception to keep speaking engagements.

Among those on hand were some who took part in Alabama's revolt against the National Democratic party in 1948 when the state's 11 electoral votes went to the States Rights ticket.

Breach of Promise Suit Asks $50,000 Of Peebles Dentist

CINCINNATI, Nov. 25 (AP)—Mrs. Julia K. Deweese today filed a $50.000 breach of promise suit against Dr. Arlyn O. Brooke, dentist living near Peebles, Ohio.

She said in her petition that she and Dr. Brooke entered into a mutual promise and agreement in March 1945, to marry each other "within a reasonable time."

However, she added, Dr. Brooke married another woman identified as Frances Williams.

Mrs. Deweese said she worked as receptionist, bookkeeper and clerk for Dr. Brooke at his office here and sometimes nursed him when he was sick.

In anticipation of their marriage. Mrs. Deweese said, Dr. Brooke built a $40.000 home near Peebles and had requested her to select the furnishings.

The marriage to the other woman followed, Mrs. Deweese said.

Scientists Use Summer To Prepare for Winter

RIVERSIDE, Calif. (UP) — Entomologists on the Riverside campus of the University of California sent the summer preparing for winter.

They carefully raised thousands of tiny parasites—the parents of which were imported recently from the cool plateaus of eastern Africa. These beneficial insects will be ready for release in Southern California citrus groves should low winter temperatures decrease the efficiency of parasites now being used to control black scale.

Airmailed to the Riverside campus, the parasites were carefully screened to remove unwanted insects and then placed on propagation cages in the campus insectary.

Black scale is one of the most widely distributed of all insects attacking citrus trees and has been causing increasing damage during the periods of low temperatures experienced in recent winters.

In lumber-scarce Afghanistan, only the ceilings in most houses are made of wood. Under flat mud roofs, the wooden ceilings do not collapse during rainy seasons and occasional mild earthquakes.

THANKSGIVING DAY

Again we have been permitted to reach the day set aside in the United States of America for giving thanks for our many blessings during another year.

The blessing we should value most and usually think of least is that of Liberty . . . the privilege of going and coming when we will . . . of worshipping God in our own manner, privileges so readily enjoyed in too few nations in the world.

In our own community bountiful crops have again been harvested and we can freely partake of the traditional Thanksgiving feast without fear of famine.

Make Most of Apples at Holiday Time

Crisp, Ripe Fruit Made Into Relish Is Ideal As Christmas Gifts

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Make the most of apples at holiday time. Such a crisp, crunchy, comfortable fruit!

Serve apples our top-favorite way when guests drop in—or for just the family. Shine the rosy red fruit until it gleams, place it on a lazy susan or a tray and offer it with Basic Roquefort Spread or Dip.

To make the Roquefort accompaniment we allow a quarter to a half pound of Roquefort and a half pound of cream cheese to stand at room temperature to soften. Next we work them together with a wooden spoon and then force through a fine sieve to make smooth. After that we thin with cream or mayonnaise—the amount depends on whether we are making a spread or a dip—and add dashes of Worcestershire sauce and celery salt. We serve our best fruit knives with the apples and let everyone cut his own slices to spread or dip into the luscious Roquefort mixture. Our eaters are always mad about this combination! We think yours will be, too.

Another delicious way to use apples is to put them in a relish, ladle it into small jars, decorate gaily and pack into Christmas boxes for your best friends. Make the relish now and give it time to set so you'll have time to sit during the holiday rush!

APPLE RELISH

Ingredients: 4 cups prepared apples (about 3 pounds ripe apples), 7 cups sugar, ½ cup vinegar, ½ cup finely chopped nut meats, ½ cup seedless raisins (rinsed in hot water and drained), ½ bottle liquid fruit pectin.

Method: First, prepare the apples: Core and grind about 3 pounds fully ripe apples. Measure 4 cups into a very large saucepan. Then make the relish: Add sugar, vinegar, nuts, and raisins to fruit in saucepan; mix well. Place over high heat: bring to a full rolling boil and boil hard 1 minute, stirring constantly. Remove from heat and at once stir in liquid fruit pectin. Skim off foam with metal spoon; then stir and skim by turns for 5 minutes to cool slightly, to prevent floating fruit. Ladle quickly into hot sterilized glasses; cover relish at once with ⅛ inch hot paraffin. Makes 11 medium glasses.

Extensive Study Made For Grape Industries

DAVIS, Calif. (UP)—The flavors and aromas of grapes and grape products are being studied here to determine what factors in climate, soils and processing affect the flavor of various grapes.

Scientists at the Davis campus of the University of California say the study will lead to selecting the best grape varieties for particular soils and climates, improving fermentation and distilling processes and altering cultivation practices.

A preliminary study on the composition of a typical grape brandy fusel oil is now being followed by studies of the aromatic flavor constituents of muscat grapes, their wines and their fusel oils.

The study, a cooperative project between the departments of viticulture and chemistry, is being supported by annual grants from the Wine Advisory Board.

FRIEND'S TRIP

HOUSTON, Tex. (UP)—Faustenoa Moreno said he felt sorry for an old friend "down on his luck," so he let the man sleep all night in his car. Now Moreno is feeling very sorry for himself. The friend drove away with the vehicle during the night.

A Woman Can't Change Her Mind During Trial

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (UP) — Woman's prerogative of changing her mind has been kicked out of Sacramento Municipal Court.

Mrs. Elma Pringle complained against her husband but then decided he had learned a lesson and wanted to drop charges.

"You swore under oath your husband struck you?" Judge McDonnell asked.

"Yes."

"And now you swear under oath he did not?"

"Yes."

"Five days for contempt," said the judge.

New Zealander Remembers GI

Island Still Called 'Good Duty' by Army

AUCKLAND, N. Z. (UP)—In case you other South Pacific veterans are still wondering after all these years, New Zealand is still "good duty."

The things you liked about it are still there—perhaps more so.

The food is still good and cheap, the lush meadows and hills greener than ever, and the girls still pretty and friendly.

They greeted Vice President Richard M. Nixon with all the enthusiasm they showered on the first Marines who landed to train here in 1942. Nixon, a Pacific veteran himself, never missed a chance on his recent visit to thank the New Zealanders for their hospitality to the thousands of Americans who trained there or enjoyed leave from Pacific campaigns.

The land is prosperous and the cities growing. They look brighter and fresher with the drabness of wartime austerity behind them.

But the marks of the war are still on the country.

Huge military warehouses built by the Americans now house manufacturing plants around Auckland.

A big hospital known to thousands of servicemen as "Mob six," Navy Mobile Hospital No. 6, now houses a high school at Auckland.

On the green flats at Paekakariki near Wellington, where thousands of Marines trained for Guadalcanal, only the concrete foundations of an old mess hall and the remains of a concrete reservoir stand as mementos of the immense military encampments of 10 years ago. Sheep graze around them and on the steep green hills above.

Farther down the road at Paraparaumu by the sea, passenger and cargo planes drone peacefully in and out of the once bristling military airport.

But Wellington fondly remembers the Marines who crowded her pubs and courted her girls and often won their hearts. In St. John's Cathedral hangs a Marine flag alongside the Stars and Stripes as a constant memorial to the New Zealand-trained Marines who died in keeping the Japanese from threatening New Zealand shores.

Hundreds of American dead once slept in a green hillside cemetery near Auckland. Their bodies have been removed to other resting places. But over the spot, Old Glory flies daily to let Americans know New Zealand still remembers.

The sun still sparkles on the bright blue of Auckland harbor which once teemed with American vessels. But today, only two trim New Zealand cruisers across the harbor lend any miltary note.

But the pubs still close tight at 6 p.m. After that you have a hard time finding even a beer unless you are registered in a first-class hotel, where the private lounges serve until 10 or 11.

No matter how modest your hotel you will still be awakened at 7 a.m. with the inevitable tea and pastry.

American cigarettes are just as scarce and as appreciated as ever.

You may never get back, but if you do, you'll like it. And so will the New Zealanders.

TRAVELLING PLAYGROUND

CHICAGO (UP) — The International City Managers Association is telling its members about a playground that goes to the kids. Detroit sends out a "playmobile" on a regular five-day schedule to areas where playground facilities are not adequate. The tractor and trailer bring two experienced recreation leaders and equipment that includes swings, seasaws, slides, sand boxes and a street shower.

BOYS, JUST BOYS

HANOVER, N. H. (UP)—A local resident, thumbing through an old book titled "Have Faith in Massachusetts," found this inscription: "To Edwin K. Hall, in recollection of his son and my son who have the privilege by the grace of God to be boys through all eternity."

PLANES TO U. S.

DUNEDIN, N. Z. (UP) — Nineteen Mosquito airplanes, formerly used by the Royal NZ Air Force, have been purchased from the government for aerial mapping and survey work in the United States. The planes, idle for two years, will be shipped from here in a few months.

Presidents Down Bexley Cagers 61-47 in Inaugural

Crowd of 900 Fans Watches Harding Dedicate New Gym

Harding High School's basketball Presidents made their 1953-54 basketball opening a success last night by downing Bexley 61-47.

The win marked the start of Coach Jim Lawler's coaching career at Harding. The Presidents were forced to come from behind to notch the win.

Harding broke the scoring ice when Ron Conroy dropped through a charity throw in the opening minute of play. His field goal shoved the Prexies ahead 3-0 before Bexley scored.

The visitors came on strong to take the lead for the rest of the half. They spurted into a 14-9 lead at the end of the first stanza but midway in the second, the Harding attackers began hitting. Conroy, Doug Bibler, Max Kaelber and Dave Schnelker spurred the attack.

At the middle of the second quarter Bexley held a 18-12 lead but the Harding squad reduced that lead to a mere one point by the halftime intermission to trail 20-19.

At the start of the second half, the Prexies shifted into a pressing man-to-man defense. The visitors managed to keep the score close until midway in the third quarter when Harding began pulling away.

A 20-point splurge in the third period gave Harding a 39-33 edge at the start of the fourth stanza. Twenty-two markers in the final frame assured the win. Bexley netted only 14.

Conroy continued to pace the attack. He finished the game with a total of 14 points. Phil Carroll came in with 13. For Bexley Ted Schwartz was high with nine.

The new gymnasium was dedicated in a brief ceremony between the reserve and varsity games. Cecil Gabler, Harding principal, introduced Rodney S. Cox, president of the city board of education, who delivered the dedicatory address.

"Tonight's game marks a milestone in Harding sports history," Cox said. "We are playing our first game in our own gym and on our own floor. Therefore it is with grateful pride that we dedicate this gymnasium to the most stimulating of athletic contests at the highest level of clean sportsmanship."

Captains of the two teams, Donnie Smith for the Prexies and Larry Metz for the Bexley crew, were introduced along with their coaches, Jim Lawler of Harding and Carleton Smith of Bexley. The Harding band was present for the program.

The Harding reserves squeezed to a 34-32 win in the preliminary game. The two teams battled to a 5-5 deadlock in the first quarter but the visitors pulled away to a 16-13 lead at the half. A 13-point splurge by the Vice Presidents in the third stanza gave them a 24-21 margin at the start of the final period.

The Bexley futures rallied for 11 points and tied the score at 32-all The Vice Presidents stalled out the clock for the last half minute after notching the winning marker.

Carlisle and Lockwood sparked the Harding attack with seven points each. Haller was high man for the visitors with 12.

Barons Battle For Third Spot In IHL Chase

BULLETIN

Led by Jerry Prince who scored the hat trick, the Marion Barons Wednesday night moved into a tie for third place with three other teams by downing the Grand Rapids Rockets 7-1.

The Marion Barons and Grand Rapids hooked up in a battle for third place in the International Hockey League last night at the Coliseum. The Barons, riding the crest of their best streak of the season, were seeking to jump from seventh to third in the league.

Vernon Jones put the Barons off to a flying start in the first period when he slipped a rebound past the Grand Rapids goalie, Doug Coxon. Gordie Vejprava was credited with an assist on the score which came after 4:06.

The one-point lead held until late in the first period. Bibber O'Hearn slipped the disc past Lou Crowdis for the Rockets' score from 15 feet out on the left side of the net. Herb Schiller and Gordon Warner assisted. The score came with only 26 seconds remaining in the period.

The Barons spurted to a three-point cushion with four goals in the second period. Murray Wilkie started the parade with a goal at 10:31. Joe Ingoldsby and Dutch Del Monte assisted. Jerry Prince hooked in another at 12:04 with an assist from Vejprava and Vitale. Ken Schultz ended the period when he pushed one in at 15:23 with an assist from Hal Jones.

Waldo Cage Crew Nips Pleasant 54-42

Pleasant threw a scare into the Waldo cage crew before falling 54-42 last night at Waldo. The game marked the opening County League tilt for both squads.

The Waldo team jumped off to a 12-6 edge in the first period and at the half had built a 26-16. The winners were never able to increase the margin over the underdog squad.

Ron Gorby poured in 18 markers for the losers to take top scoring laurels. Don Yake with 17 and Keith Augenstein with 16 were high for Waldo.

The Waldo reserves notched a 29-15 win in the preliminary. Arnold with nine was high for Pleasant. Stan Yake netted eight for Waldo.

SHORT SPORTS

By John Short

With the pickings slim on the home front this Thanksgiving Day, Marion sports fans are preparing for a day of relaxation in front of their television receivers.

Even there the pickings are slim for grid fans who go for the collegiate game and frown on the action put out by the pros. In the collegiate picture, the NCAA has placed its stamp of approval on the Utah - Bringham Young engagement.

SHORT

The professional feature will pitt the Detroit Lions against the Green Bay Packers and we'll bet the college game won't draw an awful lot of rooters. Seems that around Marion not too many fans are too eager about the traditional Rock Mountain struggle.

MAKING GOOD. Howard Thomas, former line coach at Harding High School, is making the big city boys set up and take notice. His 1953 squad at Hughes High School in Cincinnati walked off with a share of th Cincinnati City League title.

Mrs. Irvin is improving but Ninny may be forced to pass up the service classic.

West Virginia Gets Invitation To Sugar Bowl

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 25 (AP)—The Sugar Bowl today selected West Virginia to meet defending champion George Tech in the New Years Day bowl.

The selection of West Virginia, which completed its season last Saturday with a 61-0 victory over North Carolina State, followed the naming of Georgia Tech by two days.

West Virginia won eight games and lost only to South Carolina of the Atlantic Coast Conference. They are the Southern Conference champions.

Before the Mountaineers' loss to South Carolina, the officials of the sponsoring Mid-Winter Sports Assn. had indicated they were on the verge of inviting the Morgantown team.

Awards Night Set

Bob Feller Will Address Little League Stars Friday

Marion's Little and Pony League baseball players of last season will be honored Friday night at the first Awards Night program in the Harding High School auditorium-gymnasium at which Bob Feller, veteran Cleveland Indian hurler, will be principal speaker.

Feller will give an address as well as hand out awards to members of the Little League and Pony League pennant winners. He also will show movies.

The program is scheduled to begin at 7:30 p.m. the Baseball for Boys Commission which is sponsoring the event said it hopes to make it at annual occasion.

Commission officials expect a capacity crowd of nearly 1,400 persons at the program. Team managers, coaches, parents and team sponsors will be present. Invitations have also been sent to officers of Galion, LaRue and Mt. Vernon commissions which plan to start Little League Baseball in their communities next year and to all service clubs, Mayor Harold Robinson, and to all persons who helped with the Baseball for Boys program here. The public is invited.

Feller will present members of the two winning Little League teams with belts with the inscription, Little League Champs of 1953, on the buckle. Members of the winning Pony League squad will receive medals with similar inscriptions. Sponsors of the winning teams will receive a permanent trophy and also a rotating trophy.

Robert Scott, first Commission president, will be master of ceremonies and John Luginbuhl, newly elected Commission president, will preside oyer the meeting. Father William Spickerman of St. Mary Church will also give a short talk.

Little League Baseball began here in 1952 with eight teams of eight to twelve-year-olds participating in two leagues following the Commission's formation here in 1951. Last year, a Pony League for boys 13-14 years of age was added and present plans call for further expansion.

Plans are being made for either a Babe Ruth, Little-Bigger or Hot Stove League for 15 and 16 year-olds to begin next season. The Commission is planning to build two Little League fields adjacent to Lincoln Park for next season and if possible, have at least one of the diamonds lighted and use the other for twilight games.

Martel Defeated 82-33 by Claridon

Claridon opened its drive for the Marion County basketball crown last night by belting Martel 82-33 on the Martel floor.

The Hornets jumped into the lead early and by the half had built up a commanding 32-19 lead. Five boys hit for double figured scores for the winners. Only three broke into the scoring column for the losers.

Gene Jessie hooked in 16 points to pace the Claridon quintet. Dale Linstedt was Martel's big gun. He also netted 16.

Mountain Grid Teams Play in Television Tilt

NEW YORK, Nov. 25 (AP)—Some traditional turkey day games, a television contest from Salt Lake City and a vital Southwest Conference tussle for Texas will be served up tomorrow as the main courses in the Thanksgiving Day college football dish.

Texas, in a three-way tie with Rice and Baylor for the Southwest Conference championship and a spot in the Cotton Bowl, meets Texas A&M at College Station. The Longhorns will be favored over the Aggies.

New Bloomington Beaten by Morral

Playing with their reserves in the entire fourth quarter, Morral Wednesday night routed New Bloomington, 82-35. A total of 10 players broke into the scoring column, paced by Clair Hensel with 15 points.

The reserves made an impressive showing as they scored 25 points in the last stanza, highest total for one quarter in the game. The losers were paced by Johnson, who dumped in 11 points.

Maryland Ace Named Week's Top Line Star

NEW YORK (AP) — One of the year's outstanding sophomores, end Bill Walker of Maryland, has been named The Associated Press lineman of the week for his play against Alabama.

Walker made two great catches for touchdowns in the first half and was a key figure in a rock-ribbed defense which stopped the Crimson Tide four times inside Maryland's 10 in a 21-0 victory.

Walker faked his way into the open early in the game to take a pass from Bernie Faloney and carry it across on a 52-yard scoring play. Just before the half he caught a 25-yard heave from Charlie Boxold for another touchdown.

The six-foot, 185-pounder from West Mifflin, Pa., was a major contributor in holding Alabama's vaunted ground game to a mere 96 yards. Walker, who refused to be taken out of the play, forced 'Bama's outside runner Corky Tharp to stay inside where the rugged Terp line held him in check.

Dan Shannon of Notre Dame and Rocky Ryan of Illinois, a couple of other wingmen, were leading nominees for the honor behind Walker.

Lions Seeking Clincher, Meet Packer's Team

DETROIT, Nov. 25 (AP)—The Detroit Lions, holding a slim, but cozy lead in the Western Division of the National Football League, meet the Green Bay Packers tomorrow morning in their annual Thanksgiving Day game in Briggs Stadium.

The game starts at 11 a.m. EST, and will be televised into 95 cities in the East, South and Midwest.

With only three games to go, the Lions are in position to win their second conference championship by winning their remaining games. Their opposition is anything but awesome: Green Bay (with a disappointing 2-6 record), Chicago Bears 2-6) and New York Giants (2-7).

Los Angeles, trailing Detroit by a half game, and San Francisco, by a game, can only hope that the Lions are upset somewhere along the way.

The population of Canda is about 15 million.

Injuries Prevalent

St. Mary Cagers Working To Smooth Ragged Edges

St. Mary has football to work out of its system before opening its basketball season at Carey a week from Friday.

Irish Coach Ray Robbins reports that his squad is still playing a little football on the court in its pre-season basketball workouts.

Football has affected more than the style of the St. Mary cagers. It has also left its mark in injuries.

Don Shoemaker will be on the injury list for at least two months with the pelvic bone he broke in the season's last football game. Butch Merchant has been restricted to limited practice by the leg ligament which kept him on the bench after the first football game.

Larry Ryan and Pat O'Connor have had to skip a few practices while nursing ankles injured in the football finale. Finally, Jerry Ballenger is still bothered with the jammed fingers that are his remembrances of this fall.

Robbins declined to name a first five for the Irish. However, he did say that Mike Anderson, last year's top scorer with 371 points, looks good and will probably repeat as the Irish pace-setter.

Senior Jack O'Keefe is another boy who has been looking good in pre-season workouts.

Height will be a hampering factor for St. Mary. Jack McNamara at 6-1 is the only man to hit the six-foot mark or better. Anderson, at 5-11, is probably second in height.

Robbins doesn't seem too worried about the lack of height. He seems to feel that the team's speed will help make up for its shortness.

Thirty-three hopefuls have been working out since St. Mary began practice a week ago last Monday.

Former Irish star Danny McGinnis has been helping Robbins, and Ninnie Irvin will join the coaching staff after returning to Marion from his wedding trip in the East.

After opening against Carey a week from Friday, the Irish travel to Mt. Gilead a week later before coming back to Marion for the home inaugural with Fostoria St. Wendelin on Dec. 15 at the Coliseum.

In all, St. Mary plays a 20-game schedule, 14 at home and six on the road. One of the highlights of the season will be the annual carnival at the Coliseum on Dec. 28 and 29. The Irish will entertain Elm Valley, Radnor and Lexington in this year's holiday classic.

Competing in the Mid-Ohio conference, St. Mary will play each league member once. The Irish have two scheduled meetings with Mt. Gilead, but only one of them will count in the standings.

Upper Sandusky Cagers To Tangle With Alumni

UPPER SANDUSKY—A basketball preview in the remodeled Upper Sandusky High School gym has been set for Friday night, with the high school team meeting the alumni at 8:15 p.m. Preliminary games, starting at 6:30 will match "A" and "B" junior high teams, freshmen teams, and Reserve squad teams.

Returning lettermen on the varsity team are Dave Kuenzli and Tom Warfel. The varsity and reserve squads include nine seniors, 11 juniors and 15 sophomores.

The alumni team will include basketball lettermen from the classes of '50, '51 and '52. They are Mervin Henry, Dick Stansbery, Danny Howard, Dick Corbin, Jim Truesdale, Dale Walterhouse, Dave Markey, Dick Beidler, Bill Wolfe and Earl Messmer.

N.Y. Stock Quotations

NEW YORK, Nov. 25 (AP) — A broad mixture of gains and losses in the stock market today inclined a bit to the higher side.

The overall gain on balance was slight, and there were many losers scattered throughout the list.

Changes either way went to between 1 and 2 points. Most were in the smaller fractions.

The market started mixed and remained that way until the latter part of the session when there was slight improvement. The close was quiet, but total business was best in many days.

Among the best acting major divisions were steels, farm implements, aircrafts, distillers, oils, air lines, and motion pictures.

Depressed sections included rubbers, golds, and utilities. In the mixed category were motors, radio-televisions, coppers, chemicals, and railroads.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks gained 10 cents to $107.70. It was up 40 cents yesterday. The mixed character of the market was shown by the action of the individual components of the average—industrials up 30 cents, railroads unchanged, utilities down 10 cents.

Grain Quotations

CHICAGO, Nov. 25 (AP)—After hesitating at the start, grains pushed upward on the Board of Trade today and generally closed at the day's highest quotations.

Corn set the early pace for the advance, March, May and July hitting new seasonal highs. At the finish it was soybeans which were moving ahead the strongest, although they did not reach the tops scored in the forepart of yesterday's session.

Wheat closed ⅜-1½ higher, corn ⅜-1¾ higher, oats unchanged to ⅛ higher, rye ¼-½ higher, soybeans 1 to 4½ higher and lard 32 to 65 cents a hundred pounds higher.

Marines Give Up Fork To Land New Member

Marine recuiters had to clear the enlistment of John R. Beeler, 17, with a National Guard unit because Beeler had been a member of the National Guard before deciding to become a Marine.

"You can have him, but first we want back the haversack fork he hasn't turned in," a guard sergeant told the Marines.

The Marine recruiters offered to pay the 12 cents the fork cost but the Nation Guard was adamant.

Communism Is the Issue

Senator Joseph R. McCarthy was lucid, hard-hitting and convincing in his reply to former President Truman. He wasn't expected to pull any punches—and he didn't.

But the senator from Wisconsin did not confine his remarks to Mr. Truman. It was "Trumanism," the coddling, the defending and even the promoting of Communists in government, that took the brunt of his verbal onslaught.

Nor did the Republican administration completely escape his searching eye. The record under Eisenhower, said he, was one of great improvement but was not without its failures, too.

He disagreed with the President's recent comment that he hoped communism would not be an issue in the 1954 elections and called for the re-election of a Republican Congress as a guarantee of constant vigilance against the threat of subversive influences in and out of Washington.

His answer to those who would soft pedal the treachery of communism in the 1954 campaign laid the truth on the line:

"The raw, harsh, unpleasant fact is that communism is an issue and will be an issue in 1954."

Mr. Truman and Adlai Stevenson would like to see the whole subject forgotten, by-passed and ignored, but the American people will not be satisfied with any candidate who neglects to pledge himself to clean out the spies, plotters and fellow travelers.

Senator McCarthy spoke for Americanism. He insists that we must be everlastingly on guard and that no political candidate shall be permitted to dodge responsibility for vigilance. In this, he represents the attitude of all good Americans, sickened by recent revelations.

Never was there an issue in American national politics, save only the issue of Civil War in 1860, more potent than communism today. All other issues in all other campaigns pale into insignificance by comparison.

A Feast of Brothers

On the first Thanksgiving, according to contemporary accounts, some 90 Indians led by the great king Massasoit participated in the feast.

There were three days of brotherhood and good will. The Pilgrims and the Indians vied with one another in marksmanship and other contests. The latter provided five deer for the occasion.

It was, in all truth, a feast of brothers.

The Pilgrims were as ill - suited for survival in this strange land as the native Indians would have been for survival in the cities of the Old World.

They were artisans and tradesmen with no experience in agriculture and hunting. It is established as a fact that they were the unwilling victims of a commercial exploitation in their colonial project which had neither been well planned nor was to be well executed.

Without the friendship of the Indians, who taught them most of what they learned about planting their crops and sustaining themselves with their firearms, the Pilgrims might all have perished.

They owed gratitude only to the aborgines of the New World.

Everything that stemmed directly from the Old World in those early days was either the outgrowth of its corruption, its intolerance or its greed. It was consciousness of this which caused so many of the early settlers to seek separation from the European influence which had dominated their lives and affairs before they sought a new life in a new continent.

That separation is still being sought.

What the Pilgrims sought — freedom to live independently of all the past errors of the Europeans — never has been found in its entirety.

That Was Indian Summer

It is not unheard of for Indian summer to linger into December, but when it does there is a subtle change of descriptions.

"Indian summer" becomes an unseasonably mild December.

As a reference point for the future, this year's Indian summer has been one to remember. If and when the drought finally is broken, the climate since the first snowfall early this month will become a peak of perfection.

That first snowfall marked the beginning of Indian summer, which cannot happen until there has been "squaw winter."

There are many explanations of the origin of a name which in recent times has had a pleasant sound. But the likeliest of the explanations is not pleasant. In pioneer days, after many Indian tribes had gone to war with the settlers irreconcilably, Indian summer was an occasion to get in a few raids before deep snows and low temperatures made raiding impossible.

The settlers learned to dread what now is a reprieve from discomfort.

The teletype that brings sports news into the office is tested with the standard line, "The quick brown fox jumps over the lazy dog's back," although in this season of football upsets we'd bet on the dog if the odds were right.

Unfavorable View of U.S. Due to British Writers

Some Americans, overexercised about the unpopularity of Uncle Sam in Britain, are disposed to place all the blame on our congressional investigating committees. It might be better if they would suggest to their British friends that some of their newspapers get some more accurate and unbiased reporters over here. From time to time I have commented in these articles on the bias in the reporting of news from the United States, particularly in the London Times, the Manchester Guardian, and the weekly Economist. I offer today some speciments from the Times reports on the White case—from the Brownell speech in Chicago to and including Nov. 20. These are cited to show (a) bias, (b) ignorance, (c) both.

"OUR OWN Correspondent," in his Times dispatch on the President's Armistice Day press conference said: "The FBI is said to have had 500 agents at work on the case from then (February 1946) until the spring of 1947, by which time they had found nothing new and had only the unsupported word of Miss Bentley." This was not reporting. It was reckless surmise hidden behind that refuge of all gossips, "it is said." According to J. Edgar Hoover, the original warning in 1946 was based upon 30 sources. "Our Own Correspondent" then says: "The hunt was called off," a statement for which he could have had no credible evidence. Even Truman admitted that the "hunt" went on.

IN HIS DISPATCH dated Nov. 15 the correspondent said that Vinson and Clark, after getting the advice of Hoover, suggested that White be left as Executive Director (for the U. S.) "where he could do little harm." Hoover made no such recommendation. A spy in that position could do incalculable harm because he would have complete information concerning the currencies and finances of many countries.

Of course, McCarthy is dragged in to note that the senator's "dramatic spy hunt at Fort Monmouth seems to have fizzled out." The extent to which it had fizzled out will be demonstrated, perhaps before this article appears in print.

ON NOV. 20, "Our Own Correspondent" reports, in connection with the request for an opportunity to interview Gouzenko: "It is thought that public opinion in Canada would not soon forgive its government for doing anything to help one of these investigating committees." Here hidden again behind a gossip's formula, "it is thought," is a flat statement by the correspondent that our friendly neighbor is unwilling to cooperate with the Congress of the United States.

Incidentally, "Our Own Correspondent" reported in the Times last spring that the Jowitt book on the Hiss case had been withdrawn by the publishers under pressure exerted by the "long arm" of Sen. McCarthy and his colleagues. The fact was that McCarthy never had heard of the book. Nora de Toledano, whose husband Ralph wrote the book "Seeds of Treason" on the Hiss case, wrote to the publishers when the book was sent to reviewers, pointing out 100 errors. She was thanked by the publishers and the book was thereupon withdrawn.

AS A FINAL flourish, The Times published a bitterly partisan leading editorial. Two statements in that editorial show how utterly that once great paper's editorial writers seem to misunderstand the elements of American government and practice. The editorial says that after White had been confirmed "it would have been practically impossible to take any action other than that which Mr. Truman did take" This is not true. The President could have refused to issue a commission, and it goes beyond comprehension that White would have resorted to the courts for a writ of mandamus, as did Marbury in his famous case against Madison. Truman could have called in White and demanded his resignation. Or he could have fired him.

A SECOND statement makes one wonder whether the Times editor really knows the elements of Anglo-American jurisprudence. He says that the evidence against White was "not conclusive, as its later failure before a grand jury showed." Are we to believe that the Times holds that anyone who can escape indictment was qualified to serve in the Truman administration?

In R. F. Harrod's monumental and adulatory biography of the late Lord Keynes, published in 1951, there is this comment, among many others on White: "He was a very remarkable figure, who should be accorded an honorable place in British annals." The Times reporters and editors must have taken that suggestion seriously.

Thankful Thanksgiving

By TRUMAN TWILL

Another Thanksgiving finds me especially thankful that no countryman of mine will have to gnaw a turkey drumstick while in fear of sudden death in Korea;

That there never was more earnest thinking being done about the privilege of free speech and the vital importance of controversy in America as the best antidote for the poison of conspiracy;

That there still are so many exceptions to the hardening rule that America is at the mercy of ever-changing coalitions of pressure blocs;

That the rising generation already has risen further than any preceding generation at the same point in its accumulation of maturity;

That the American way of life, which started as a struggle to wrest a subsistence from the soil, has bestowed on its beneficiaries surpluses of everything men need and use in the way of food and clothing;

That there has evolved from the long struggle with hatreds and adversities in the New World a robust sense of humor and the sense to rely on it when it can do the most good;

That there are so many ordinary citizens with the determination to live and die like heroes and the intelligence to do this without being in the smallest way ridiculous;

That in a year of climatic adversity in many parts of the nation there is no likelihood of distress at the hands of man's oldest and most relentless challenger famine;

That the truth still can make men free whenever they try hard enough to find it—and it is never concealed except by men's own ignorance;

That the biggest and newest structures in most of our communities are schools, hospitals and churches;

That most of the troubles men complain about are no more consequential than the trinket value of the tokens by which they measure their wealth and are really nothing but the petty annoyances that go with the mere fact of being alive;

That the good earth has been so well stocked with so many things of surpassing beauty and endless satisfaction—things like sunsets, moonlight, the sweet innocence of children, the loving loyalty of dogs and the songs of birds;

That the great majority of men and women, despite the emphasis they place on their troubles and the shortcomings of their existence are serenely happy with their roles in the ebb and flow of life;

That there is still more faith in the infinite improvability of man than despair over his seemingly endless capacity for hurtful blundering.

And may all who read this have a thankful Thanksgiving too.

Words of the Wise

Every house where love abides and friendship is a guest is surely home, and home, sweet home; for there the heart can rest.—Henry Van Dyke

Democrats To Launch Counterattack

By Edward K. Nellor

WASHINGTON (NANA)—Democrats are laying the groundwork for a counterattack against Republicans bent on making political hay out of charges that the former administration handled Russian spies with kid gloves.

Silent in the wake of testimony from Attorney General Herbert Brownell and J .Edgar Hoover in the Harry Dexter White case, Democratic planners nevertheless are trying to assay GOP intentions before reaching final decisions on when or if to start firing back.

A party spokesman made two observations which he described as temporary conclusions. The first is that if the GOP uses the spy issue politically in 1954 the Democrats will leave it up to their senators to counter the charges.

The second observation raises the question of Republican intentions. There are several strong opinions in top Democratic circles that the GOP just got hold of a "nine-day wonder" in the White case and that the nation and the politicians will probably hear little more about such matters.

If the GOP is serious, however, about using the kid-glove treatment of suspected Soviet agents politically, their own Secretary of State, John Foster Dulles, will be the chief target in the Democratic counterattack.

DEMOCRATS are quietly gatherin gall the pertinent data relating to Dulles' attitude and public statements on Alger Hiss, convicted perjurer who was accused of spying for the Russians.

Dulles was instrumental in hiring Hiss as president of the Carnegie Foundation after Hiss had been accused of espionage. There are other top Republicans, according to their political opponents, who have been "sucked in" by known and suspected agents, although their identity is a closely guarded party secret at the moment.

For the next few weeks, while they test the way GOP spy winds are blowing, Democratic party spokesmen will be content to either ignore or ridicule the White or similar cases.

Stephen Mitchell, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, plans a diversionary tactic. He is going to raise the question of what dead spies have to do with the farm problem, foreign affairs and tax reductions.

ONE OTHER PARTY spokesman tipped off official reaction to the GOP spy scare threat by stating: "John Wilkes Booth shot Lincoln, but what has that got to do with the price of groceries today"

Few Democratic leaders in Washington care to comment on former President Harry Truman's future activity in the espionage accusations if the GOP continues to build up the issue. They appear to prefer an elder statesman's role for the former president, admitting privately that he didn't look too good after the White storm had blown itself out.

The Hiss issue and the role Dulles played in the case could backfire on the Democrats, depending on who is selected for the party's presidential candidate. If Dulles is attacked for his associations with Hiss, Republicans won't overlook the letter from Adlai Stevenson, used as a character reference for Hiss at his perjury trial. This fact alone may save Dulles public embarassment on the Hiss situation.

In general the Democrats are content at the moment to lick their wounds in the White case and wait for the next GOP move on the spy front. In the meantime, however, spokesmen will continue to needle Republicans for playing cops and robbers while ignoring such problems as food prices and high taxes.

From Our Readers

To The Star:

Three hundred and thirty-two years ago the first Thanksgiving Day was observed by a group of courageous people who had gone through a period of privation, sorrow and danger and believed that their success, though of small attainment, was due to their hard work, unity of aims and the recognition that their prayers were answered by a Supreme Being, the Almighty God, for which they gave thanks.

This story is old and has been repeated often but it is the keynote and should be the keystone of all human pronouncements and activities, community cooperation, honest work and a belief that there is a Supreme Being who controls in a mysterious way, even though at times we are aware that man's laws and our own will and others ill-will control us.

On this Thanksgiving Day, as on others in the past, many people will not observe the day in the true and proper way but only as a man-made holiday forgetting or ignoring that in the midst of danger and privation, many years ago, a few people were thankful for the little that they had. And most of that was freedom to express a religious belief and to set up and carry on laws of their own making and for their collective good.

The story is good and worth anyone's time to think about. It is a classic of American history.

The Speed-Up Program

Some 21,400 high schools over the land have now been notified that if they have any boy or girl students who have finished two years, who "seem ready, both academically and in personal maturity," to begin college work, there are 11 colleges and universities willing to accept them in a continuation of the educational speed-up program of which the University of Chicago was a pioneer.

In the fall of 1951, 420 non-graduate high school students were enrolled in three colleges. There are now 960 in the 11, and the Fund for the Advancement of Education is offering scholarships to 300 more for next fall.

Scholarship standing to date in the high school, plus "evidence of emotional stability and personnel performance" are criteria of the selection, and the colleges point out as a tangent factor that "by admitting a select group of high school sophomores and juniors directly into college," the program permits them "to complete at least two years' advanced study before they are called for military service."

There have been various youthful prodigies who have been admitted to universities at the age of 12 or so without ever attending high school, and most have been graduated with high marks. This later factor is primary with most schools, on the debatable presumptions (1) that education is largely a stuffing with memorized facts, and (2) that students who study their books hardest and memorize their pages best both deserve and get the best education.

Medical schools invariably select their matriculants on the basis of their prior grades, without much concern over whether applicants are particularly fitted to become good doctors or for that matter are likely to become good doctors. In grade, high school and college classes, too, the teachers' favorites invariably are the best memorizers from texts.

Those students a bit slower on the uptake get less attention, whereas they should get most. Anyhow, the whole educational speed-up program discounts many other essential non-class adjustment factors in school.

Form Letter Acceptances

Without charging, of course, that a President of the U.S. or any member of his cabinet was guilty of anything more serious than "blindness," there can be no doubt that the course in letter writing in Washington was nothing that would be helpful in the public schools.

Everybody knows that it is an old-time political custom to butter-up a retirement with a soothing note. Easing the fall of an axe with a few kind words is nothing new. Many a public servant has been given the definite "Scram!" and yet supplied with a nice note.

There is no objection to this.

But the folks are pretty startled at the revelation that public servants reported by the FBI as spies or suspects in an hour of national danger could get a sweetie-pie farewell.

They were shocked to find reluctance, regret, sorry-to-see-you-go moods, recommendation to a new employer and good wishes for a continuation of distinguished public service put in writing for retention by anybody even remotely suspected of being a traitor to his country.

The letters written by Mr. Truman and Mr. Snyder still seem pretty incredible, making full allowances for the milk of human kindness, bigheatedness and Christian charity.

However, such letters could be the result of long-continued double-talk in letters of resignation and acceptance in Washington down through the years, and from now on we suggest some official forms never to be deviated from in the interest of clear understandings, candid records and historical clarity:

For the acceptance of a resignation from a public servant generally believed to be unworthy of public trust:

Dear Sir: Your resignation has been received. It is hereby accepted. My concern for you is limited to an expression that you may escape smallpox. Etc.

For acceptance of a resignation from a public servant against whom the FBI has made ONE official report of membership in a spy ring:

Sir: Thanks for your letter of resignation and what delayed you? If I utter any word indicating I regret your overdue departure and wish you luck I hope I choke.

In the case of a public servant against whom the FBI has made TWO reports of membership in an enemy spy ring:

Sir: Your resignation is accepted and good riddance! The fact that you find no goose grease in this letter crediting you with distinguished services to your country is not due to an oversight. Get going!

For a public servant repeatedly turned in by the FBI as a top member of a conspiracy against his country we recommend no letter whatever. Just a phone call: "Out, ya bum! And take your Deodorant with ya!" What's wrong with such forms? They would make the record so much easier to follow.

Grandfather may have been a dope but he never needed an automatic light on the dashboard to tell him if his brakes were on.

At last New York is going ahead on its big coliseum in Columbus Circle which will ultimately clear it of the shame of being the one great city on earth with no exposition hall easily reached. If you want to see an auto, flower, sportsmen's or boat show in Gotham for the next few years the task takes on the nature of a safari with guides.

Rogers Hornsby is to give TV lessons on how to hit a ball on the nose. (We hope most of our top citizens' ghost writers will be watching closely.)

Ernest Hemingway's famous bullfighting story is to be done by a ballet on TV and at the Met. There is something about Hemingway interpreted by ballet dancers that disturbs us greatly. What's the world coming to?

Mrs. Mesta's Title As Top Hostess in U.S. Remains Safe

But Mrs. Wiley T. Buchanan, Jr., wife of Mrs. Mesta's diplomatic successor, says she has no intention of challenging Mrs. Mesta's title of the "hostess with the mostess.'"

Mrs. Buchanan likes to give parties but says she has no plans for "any competition" in the social department with Mrs. Mesta, who resigned as minister to Luxembourg when the Eisenhower administration came in.

"I love to give parties," she said, "But they are not foremost in my life. When you have a family they can't be."

Actually, Mrs. Buchanan has established herself as a top capital hostess.

Both Mrs. Buchanan, a pretty, blue-eyed blonde, and her husband dabble in interior decorating. They have "Frenchified" their home.

"And just when we get the place the way we like it, we have to leave," she said.

Mrs. Buchanan is thrilled with her husband's appointment. He recently flew to Luxembourg for a conference and got a long look at the legation.

"Willey told me Mrs. Mesta has done a beautiful job on it," Mrs. Buchanan said.

The Buchanans met Mrs. Mesta socially in Washington. "But we don't really know her," the diplomat's wife says. "We do know, however, that she put Luxembourg on the map."

Now, Mrs. Buchanan is in the throes of packing. The three Buchanan children are excited, but they have their problems, too.

"Oh, they can't wait to go," Mrs. Buchanan said. "That is, of course, if we take along all their pets—two French poodles, two dachshunds and a Palamino pony."

Ruth Buchanan has a few problems of her own. She has to bone up on her French and learn how to curtsy.

Mrs. Mesta made Luxembourg a stopping-off post for Washington travelers. Mrs. Buchanan says she "hopes" she can keep it that way.
